West Tells Moscow: 'Hour Of Decision'

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The United States and allied nations maneuvered forces into position today for a battle against the Communists in Laos if the Russians refuse to negotiate.

Faced with a massive Red arms buildup and rebel successes in the little southeast Asian kingdom, the West made it clear the hour of decision was near at hand.

Sir Frank Roberts, British ambassador to Moscow, delivered to the Soviet Foreign Office today what sources in London described as a "final plea" for Soviet cooperation to head off armed conflict.

In Bangkok, where military leaders of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization are mapping strategy, the Thailand government charged that 14 battalions of North Vietnamese troops had invaded Laos. A spokesman said they had battled to within 15 miles of the administrative capital of Vientiane alongside rebel Pathet Lao troops.

Laotian rebels claimed to have routed government troops from the strategic mountain pass at Muong Kassy, about 100 miles north of Vientiane, and at Pha Tang, and Vang Vieng, somewhat to the south.

LOST CONTROL

This would mean that the government forces had lost control of the vital highway link between Vientiane and the royal capital of Luang Prabang 200 miles to the north.

Western military observers in the Far East have been alarmed at a Soviet airlift which has poured arms into the Red rebels holding large areas of northern Laos.

Laotian King Savang Vathana has expressed a willingness to negotiate a peaceful settlement with the rebels and include some of them in a "neutral" government but the rebels have rejected his offers.

SUPPORTED SUGGESTION

The United States supported his suggestion that a commission of neutral nations arrange a cease-fire for negotiations but the Communists have rejected this too.

The Reds have demanded a large international conference on Laos, including Communist China. The West believes this would only confuse the situation further.

Laos is one of three former French Indochinese states. Slightly larger than Minnesota, it forms sort of a buffer zone between the Communist and pro-Western areas of southeast Asia.

LAOTIAN ARMY FORGETS WAR FOR BIRTHDAY

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — The Laotian army celebrated its 11th birthday today with parades and footraces while Communist rebels were reported nearing the capital and world political leaders thought in terms of brink-of-war.

Laotian King Savang Vathana, his queen, Premier Boun Oum, Deputy Premier Phoumi Nosavan and the entire diplomatic corps attended the day-long festival.

President Awaiting Nikita's Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy apparently began speeding U.S. military units toward crisis-wracked Southeast Asia today in the crucial hours of a diplomatic showdown with Russia over the embattled kingdom of Laos.

Kennedy was expected to issue a major U.S. policy statement on the Laotian crisis at a news conference this afternoon

Meanwhile, the president awaited some reaction from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to an urgent appeal from Britain for agreement to a cease-fire in the civil war in Laos. Given a cease-fire, the Western powers would accept a Communist-backed proposal for an international conference on Laos.

This last-minute move on the diplomatic front was made by Britain after consultation with the United States. It kept open the road for a negotiated settlement and put the next step up to Khrushchev.

DEALING WITH THREAT

Meanwhile, the reported military moves underscored Kennedy's determination to deal with the Communist threat by force if diplomacy fails.

One of the tightest secrecy clampdowns since the Korean War shut off Pentagon information on military moves.

Authorities here said privately, however, that some of those moves were clearly precautionary steps, others were designed to begin a substantial increase in U. S. military assistance to the royal Laotian government.

DESTROYERS MOVED

At Hong Kong, the U. S. aircraft carrier Midway and two destroyers suddenly departed for an undisclosed destination several days ago. They were believed heading for the waters of Southeast Asia.

Speculation immediately broke out that other units of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, ordinarily stationed in the Philippines-Formosa area were moving south.

The Marines were reported sending a helicopter maintenance unit of 100 to 150 men to Udorn, Thailand, 50 miles from Vientiane, capital of Laos. The number of American-made helicopters available to the Laos government for military use was reported being increased from six to 20.

There were reports here that various units of the Strategic Army Corps—STRAC — were

Marin City Housing Plan Hit; Delay On Contract Asked

The Marin City Tenants Council last night called for at least a month's delay in signing a contract with developer James H. Scheuer for Marin City redevelopment the council held will provide too little housing at too high a price.

Thomas M. Ryan, the council's attorney, declared Scheuer's plans call for 104 apartments and 100 houses although there are 318 families awaiting new housing in Marin City. "This leaves 114 families out in the cold," he asserted. He called it "relocation by disappearance."

Moreover, said Ryan, "at least 60 to 65 per cent of the tenants will be unable to qualify for any of the proposed housing."

Erwin C. Farley, deputy executive director of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, pleaded with the Marin City residents attending the tenants council meeting — some 45 of them—to "get the contract signed and get the brick and mortar going."

But when Chairman Daniel Hayden called for a standing vote of the audience for the month's delay proposal, nearly everyone present stood. When he asked for the "nay' vote, everyone remained seated.

The request will be put to the redevelopment agency at a meeting at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Marin City Community Lounge.

Meanwhile, a committee of the tenants council will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the First Baptist Church of Marin City forming a cooperative to participate in purchase and man-

SPECIAL BOAT, SPORT SHOW EDITION TODAY

Today's Independent-Journal features a special section saluting the Marin Rod and Gun Club's eighth annual Sport and Boat Show which opens a three-day run tomorrow night at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael.

Marin's outdoors paradise, of hunting, fishing, boating and camping is highlighted in the tabloid section. Special features include pending fish and game legislation, history and highlights of the Marin sportsmen's club, a report on hunter safety training by Walter Shannon, director of the Department of Fish and Game, stories on skin diving, archery, water skiing and other highlights.

Crash Kills Ex-Fairfax Councilman

Ewald (Eddie) H. Schmieder, 70, former Fairfax city councilman and night foreman of the composing room of the San Francisco Examiner, was killed yesterday in a San Mateo County auto accident.

Schmieder, who served on the Fairfax City Council in 1952-54, was leaving his weekly Wednesday card game with some of his friends in Pacifica on his way to work. The accident happened at 5:35 p.m. on the Edgemar section of the Coast Highway.

The highway was slick from rains. Schmieder's car skidded into the southbound lanes and was struck broadside. Six cars were involved in the resulting pile-up. He was dead on arrival at Milagra Medical Center in Pacifica.

Schmieder was born in San Francisco and lived there until 10 years ago when he moved to 683 Cascade Drive, Fairfax.

He had been working for the Examiner since 1907 when he started as an apprentice boy.

His wife, Matilda, was waiting at the Examiner building for her husband to arrive with the car when he was killed.

He is survived also by a daughter, Mrs. Mela Trundle of San Mateo; a son, Edward Schmieder of San Mateo, and 10 grandchildren.

Independent-Journal Starts Second Century Of Service

The Independent-Journal begins its second century of service to Marin County with today's issue.

When County Judge Ai Barney founded the Marin County Journal 100 years ago today with his son, Jerome Barney, as editor, only a couple of hundred copies of the first issue were needed to serve the 3,500 population of Marin.

The press run for today's issue will be more than 30,000, serving Marin's present-day population of 150,000.

I-J employees partook of birthday cake and coffee during the lunch hour today to observe the centennial. Publisher Roy A. Brown missed the festivities, having been called to Southern California by the death of a relative.

Today's editorial page contains a small facsmile of the front page of the first issue of the paper, together with an editorial stating the policy of the fledgling publication.

Dorothy Slattery Gardiner wrote a column reviewing her impressions of her year's work in historical research in preparation for the centennial. Her column also appears on today's editorial page together with excerpts from the Journal of 100 years ago. There is a special "letter to our readers" commenting on the event, too.

Tomorrow, publishers of North Bay and Redwood Empire newspapers will tour the I-J plant and hold a dinner meeting in honor of the anniversary. U.S. Sen. Clair Engle and president A. W. Bramwell of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn. are to be principal speakers.

The neighboring publishers have expressed special interest in observing the Independent-Journal's new Linofilm in operation. It is an advanced electronic system for setting type. The publishers also have expressed a desire to inspect the I-J's new fast-etch engraving machines and color photo processing equipment.

Saturday's I-J will contain the second of four weekly "Century of Service" supplements. It covers the period of the founding of the Independent at the turn of the century and the establishment of the San Rafael Independent-Journal as Marin's first successful daily newspaper.

Radio station KTIM is observing the I-J centennial with a series of daily programs, broadcast at 6 p.m. Monday's through Fridays this week and next, interviewing key employees of the newspaper.

Congratulations Pour Into Offices Of I-J

"Happy Birthday" greetings flowed into the Independent-Journal offices today, the 100th anniversary of the founding of the old Marin County Journal.

Among congratulatory messages were letters from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, and Mrs. Elizabeth R. Smith, former Independent-Journal news staff member who is now treasurer of the United States.

Governor Brown wrote:

"It is an honor for me to join in congratulating the staff of the Independent-Journal on your 100th anniversary as a courageous and forthright voice in the vital affairs of Marin County.

"You are carrying forward a task that is as old as the State of California itself and a tradition of free thought that is the most solid foundation this country has.

"You have every right to be proud of your publication and the job you are doing for the 150,000 citizens of Marin County. As governor, I share that pride because I deeply believe that the free press in our state performs a valued and vital service to our people.

"I am pleased to join not only in the congratulations but in the expressions of best wishes as you begin your second 100 years of publication."

Said Senator Kuchel's letter:

"The 100rd anniversary of any institution is a milestone of great significance. In the case of your newspaper, it is an occasion for regarding with satisfaction a lifetime which nearly coincides with that of California as a state and for reflecting on the almost unimaginable development and progress which have marked this period of public service.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Rodden of Belvedere flew to Memphis, Tenn., late yesterday to decide whether to return to her Marin home or her Missouri girls' school their 19-year-old daughter who does not want to be herself.

A pretty red-head who walked into a Memphis police headquarters Monday and said she had forgotten everything except that she rode a bus from St. Louis and her name was Marie Balmer was identified yesterday as Elizabeth Rodden, daughter of the Belvedere couple, who live at 220 San Rafael Avenue.

Her identity was traced through her shoes, which bore the brand "Frank More." Her father is president of Frank More Shoes in San Francisco.

Told that police knew she was Elizabeth Rodden, she cried out: "I don't want to be that girl . . .

"That Elizabeth, she's weak. No strength; no convictions! She doesn't care! She doesn't try! I am not that girl. My name is Marie Balmer. Please call me that."

The girl was reported missing Monday when she failed to appear for classes at Stephens College, a college for girls in Columbia, Mo., where she is a freshman.

She had telephoned her home last week and "seemed as happy as a lark—everything was wonderful, life is beautiful, that sort of thing," said her mother as she prepared to fly to Memphis.

"I hate to say this, but I think she's bluffing," said her father.

Asked why she left school, Miss Rodden said:

"I didn't. Elizabeth did, perhaps. She was pretty lonely. She didn't date much. She was a very unhappy girl. You know.

Leader Of Cuban Exiles Vows Free Elections In 18 Months

NEW YORK (AP)—The leader of two major Cuban exile groups pledges that the overthrow of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro will end firing squads and bring free elections within 18 months.

Jose Miro Cardona, 59, a lawyer who served six weeks as premier at the start of the Castro regime, yesterday announced formation of a new "revolutionary council," with himself as co-ordinator general.

The council consists of representatives of the Democratic Revolutionary Front, regarded as middle-of-the-road and favoring free enterprise, and the Revolutionary Movement of the People, considered left-wing but anti-Communist.

Cardona told a news conference the aim of the council is to "overthrow the Communist tyranny which enslaves the people of Cuba and to re-establish moral peace and harmony among all Cubans."

He gave no date for any invasion of the island but said: "The arms which we have, and the arms which we will have, will become known when Castro feels their impact." Cardona also called for aid from all exiled Cubans, including other revolutionary groups, "from Canada to Patagonia."

In Havana, Castro termed Cardona's movement "a government of puppets," and said "Cuba must remain alert" against "a group of mercenaries."

The Revolutionary Movement of the People is led by Manuel Ray, former Cuban minister of public works, while the Democratic Revolutionary Front is headed by Manuel Antonio de Varona. Both were present at yesterday's session with newsmen.

De Varona said Cuba is being "infiltrated daily" by men and supplies, adding: "We have the forces necessary to overthrow Castro."

Cardona's program calls for a return to private investment and free enterprise in Cuba. The Commuist Party would be outlawed and traditional relations with "democratic countries" would be renewed. Also, members of Castro's armed forces who take part in an uprising would be retained in military service and promoted.

The new council plans to designate itself as "the government of Cuba in arms" rather than a government in exile.

Kennedy Signs Bill Cutting Grain Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy has signed into law his first major bill—an emergency program designed to cut down tremendous surpluses in grains used to feed livestock.

Kennedy signed the bill yesterday less than two hours after the Senate, by a 58-31 vote, completed congressional action. The House earlier approved the compromise bill 231-185.

Before Kennedy's signature was dry, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman set the law's machinery into action. Their urgency was prompted by the season—spring is here and planting of this year's feed grain crops already has started in some sections.

Freeman immediately made public the national average price supports for feed grains—corn, sorghums, oats, barley and rye. All supports were higher than last year's.

Then Freeman flew to Omaha to address today the first of three field meetings with Agriculture Department personnel. They will relay details of the program to farmers.

Briefly, the law works this way:

In order to get the new, higher price supports on corn and sorghums, farmers must cut their acreages for those grains at least 20 per cent.

In return, they would be eligible for the support price for half the average crop they would have produced on the retired land.

They can further reduce their corn and sorghum acreage up to a total of 40 per cent, and get a slightly higher payment for the second 20 per cent of land they retire. The retired land must be planted to conservation crops.

2 In Marin Get Science Grants

Two Marin County residents have received National Science Foundation fellowships for graduate training in science, Rep. Clement W. Miller (D.-Corte Madera) announced today.

They are Franklin B. Krasne of 72 Platt Street, Sausalito, for graduate work in physics at Yale University and Stephen A. Monti of 34 Roberts Avenue, San Rafael, now at the University of California in Berkeley, for graduate work in chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Boy Businessman

The store manager said he had two witnesses that he promised the youngster 35 cents for the job. The young shoveler understood the price to be 75 cents.

Accepting the 35 cents, the boy put back half the snow. Turning dow na proffered 15 cents more, he explained:

"A deal is a deal."

Censorship Eased By Soviet Union

The Foreign Office press director made the announcement at a news conference.

The press director, Mikhail Kharlamov, said he expected the removal of censorship would create new troubles for correspondents circulating unfounded rumors about the Soviet Union.

This appeared to be a direct warning that newsmen would be expelled if their reports were not satisfactory to the Soviet authorities.

Kharlamov warned that all correspondents must keep a copy of all their dispatches sent abroad so long as they remain in the Soviet Union. He explained that some correspondents had insisted that some copy published abroad under their names was not of their writing. By keeping a copy of what is sent out, the correspondent can always answer this question, he said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Consul's Car Dumped

The crowd smashed the auto and dumped it into the water after word spread that Gibson had told the vanguard of the demonstrators to get away from the consulate.

Churchill In Trinidad

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill received a tumultuous welcome when he drove through this West Indies federal capital yesterday under the scorching noonday sun. He is on a Caribbean cruise aboard Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis' yacht, Christina.

Famed Surgeon Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Howard C. Naffziger, 76, known internationally for his pioneering work in brain tumor and pituitary gland operations, died last night after a lengthy illness. He was a past president of the American College of Surgeons.

Plane Crash Kills 4

MARYSVILLE (AP)—Four Air Force fliers and two civilian technicians were killed yesterday when the four-engined C-121 cargo plane they were testing crashed into a rain-swept field 10 miles north of Marysville.

Air Force spokesmen said the plane, a Super Constellation, was stationed at McClellan Air Force Base

Shopping Trip Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy returned to Washington today with suitcases that might as well be marked: "Do not open until Easter."

The president's wife concluded a shopping tour of New York yesterday. But she, her press secretary in Washington and even the people she bought from classified her purchases top secret.

No Vote For Privates

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Constituent Assembly, acting as Turkey's interim parliament, last night voted to give army officers and non-coms and police the right to vote in the general elections expected this year. Privates remain voteless.

Testing Electric Car

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority is testing a new electric automobile on the streets of Chattanooga. The federal agency thinks such cars might be widely used in the future.

The test car, which went into use yesterday on public safety patrol, is powered by 12 heavy-duty, six-volt batteries and cost TVA $4,400. It has a top speed of about 30 miles per hour and a range of about 40 miles.

Tell Of Abduction

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (UPI) — Three American oilmen and eight fellow coworkers, kidnaped by Moroccan irregulars in the Spanish Sahara and held prisoner for 11 days, arrived today by plane from Morocco.

One of the men disclosed last night they were held in a Moroccan army installation in Rabat for almost a week, even while diplomatic inquiries as to their whereabouts went unanswered. The 11 men, members of a Union Oil Co. prospecting team, were seized in their desert camp March 11. They were freed Tuesday and left Rabat yesterday.

Liz Has Recovered

LONDON (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor, "recovered and in excellent condition" according to her doctors, will fly to Los Angeles Monday, it was announced today.

"She is in excellent condition and is now up and about, walking in her hospital room," a spokesman said today. Miss Taylor is now so well recovered from her attack of pneumonia that as of today she has been officially released from the hospital.

Kidnap Death Probed

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (UPI)—Police today sought to determine whether 10-year-old Tommy McNiven's scoutmaster kidnaped the boy and then left him tied to a tree to die of exposure.

Tommy was found by police yesterday where his abductor had bound and abandoned him in a futile attempt to collect $25,000 in ransom. The suspected scoutmaster, Warren Williamson, 41, committed suicide after being questioned by police about the kidnap-slaying.

Richardson Bay off Sausalito was named after William A. Richardson, a deserter from an English whaler who became the first captain of the Port of San Francisco.

SOME MORE STATE TEXTBOOKS

A reporter looks over some of nearly 600 tons of discarded California state testbooks—some of them in nearly new condition—which spilled out of a Los Angeles warehouse after a fire at the building this week. Officials say the books, which are headed for a dump, are either obsolete or damaged. (AP Wirephoto)

Textbook Disposal Method Is Sought

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An angry Assembly committee pledged today it will find a way to put to useful purpose some 900,000 new textbooks which under existing laws and contracts probably would have to be destroyed next year.

In the fourth chapter of an investigation into the burning last January of 184,000 new but obsolete music and language books, a subcommittee of ways and means learned these facts and heard these statements last night from top administrators of the state department of education:

OBSOLETE IN 1962

State warehouses are bulging now with 979,000 elementary readers for grades 1 through 5. Under archaic state laws, they will legally be obsolete on June 30, 1962.

Local school districts are reluctant to buy the books from the state because the state curriculum commission had adopted a new reader series which will go into classrooms next September.

Department officials admit "a very substantial number" of the 979,000 books probably will gather dust on the shelves of warehouses until the adoption period expires. Then, unless the legislature finds a way to act, they face destruction—either cut up into pulp or burned.

GIVEN AWAY?

Why can't the books be given away, say to foreign nations which, in the words of Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland), are "dying for something to read?"

The answer from Department of Education officials was:

They interpret a 1917 statute as giving them the authority to burn or dispose of obsolete books.

They further contend that "restrictive clauses in the contracts (with book publishers) prevent the distribution of any surplus textbooks on hand at the conclusion of an adoption period."

"This will be changed, somehow, some way," Assemblyman Jess M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles), chairman of the investigating committee, said today.

"We'll sit down after we hold the fifth and final and concluding chapter of this melodrama next Monday night and figure out a way to prod, push or pull the department and the state printing plant into doing something," Unruh said.

The three education department officials—Dr. Wallace W. Hall, former Marin County superintendent of schools; Dr. Ronald W. Cox and Dr. Ivan R. Waterman—came in for a tongue-lashing from members of the committee. Unruh asked them to return again next week for further questioning.

"This isn't good business to destroy perfectly good books," said Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton). "It doesn't make good sense and it is no way to run government. It is d i s g r a c e f u l, a despicable thing."

FLAG PLEDGE DEBATE ENDS IN ASSEMBLY

It unanimously agreed that members should salute the flag each Monday—as they have done in the past—and that the speaker decide if the ceremony should be conducted on other days.

The vote rescinded an earlier resolution by Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-Los Gatos) requiring the the pledge of allegiance by members each day.

'Cookie-Jar' Funds End Recommended

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A legislative committee recommends that California's state government abolish most of its "cookie-jar" funds earmarked for special purposes, and put the money in the state's general bank account.

The Assembly Interim Committee on Ways and Means said in a report issued yesterday that the "cookie-jar" method of financing is "ridiculous."

Chairman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) said it has made a billion and a half dollars of public money untouchable, leaving the legislature with control over only 34 per cent of the state's annual expenditures.

The committee recommended elimination of about 80 special funds, including eventually the highway fund and the school fund.

It acknowledged it would have to start with less strongly defended cookie jars.

"Every special fund has an interest group which is willing to sacrifice every other principle of government to protect its pet project," said Unruh.

The 133 special funds now in existence total $2,797,155,400, the report said. The 70 included in the annual state budget total about 780 million dollars and are expected to have balances of 168 million at the end of the next fiscal year.

The committee said abolishing most of them would make 376 million dollars available for legislative control.

Assembly Vote Wipes Out Textbook Payment

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The first major legislation growing out of the controversy over the price California pays for its textbooks was passed 76-0 by the Assembly yesterday.

The bill would wipe out the 5 per cent transportation cost the state pays to Eastern publishers for textbooks.

It would also subject publishers who violate the law to a stiff penalty—the possibility of paying triple damages to the state.

The measure was proposed after disclosures that the state had been paying more to Eastern publishers because of the transportation cost.

It provides that the price of books sold in California shall not exceed the price paid by other states.

Vote By Assembly Would Open Records Of Hospitals

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly yesterday voted 71-0 for a bill opening hospital records to the public.

There was no mention of the furor the measure touched off earlier in the session over lobbyists' influence.

Assemblyman Ronald C. Cameron (D-Whittier) said the measure "will strip away the veil of secrecy" from hospitals.

It would permit inspection of records the hospitals file with the State Department of Public Health dealing with the cost of treating patients, ownership of the institutions and similar business matters.

It is designed, however, to protect the relationship between individual patients, the hospitals and doctors.

Earlier in the session, newspaper reports stated that the measure was killed during a weekly luncheon given by a medical lobbyist. But subsequently, the Public Health Committee approved the measure and sent it to the Assembly floor.

Bill To Outlaw English Exams At Polls Ready For Signing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A new law prohibiting challenge at the polls of a voter's ability to read English was ready today for Gov. Edmund G. Brown's signature.

The legislature's Democratic majority pushed it through because of charges that Republicans frightened Mexican-Americans aways from the polls last November.

The Senate voted 24-14 yesterday for the bill which leaves it up to the registrar of voters to satisfy himself that a voter meets the state constitutional requirement of being able to write his name and read the Constitution in English.

The Assembly had approved it 45-32 on March 1, on a straight party-line vote. In the Senate, one Republican voted for it and four Democrats against it.

Under the old law, when a voter appeared at the polls, any other voter could challenge his ability to read English. The precinct board would then ask the challenged voter to read 100 consecutive words from the Constitution.

The new bill, by Assemblyman Robert Crown (D-Alameda), repeals that provision.

It does not affect voters' rights to challenge other voters at the polls on questions of identity, residence, citizenship, criminal record, or multiple voting.

The Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), which would have required the registrar to certify that he had given a literacy test to each applicant.

McCarthy argued that registrars should be required to give the reading test, since the bill prohibits any challenge for literacy after registration.

Madrigal Singers, Choir Plan Concert

A concert of religious music will be presented by The Madrigal Singers and the a cappella Choir of the Dominican College of San Rafael, at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor at 3 p.m. April 16.

The 13th Psalm by Brahms, Joshua, a cantata by Moussorgsky, and Elizabethan and contemporary madrigals will be presented. The groups are under the direction of Winifred Baker. Ludwig Altman is the organist.

SOME MORE STATE TEXTBOOKS

A reporter looks over some of nearly 600 tons of discarded California state testbooks—some of them in nearly new condition—which spilled out of a Los Angeles warehouse after a fire at the building this week. Officials say the books, which are headed for a dump, are either obsolete or damaged. (AP Wirephoto)

Textbook Disposal Method Is Sought

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An angry Assembly committee pledged today it will find a way to put to useful purpose some 900,000 new textbooks which under existing laws and contracts probably would have to be destroyed next year.

In the fourth chapter of an investigation into the burning last January of 184,000 new but obsolete music and language books, a subcommittee of ways and means learned these facts and heard these statements last night from top administrators of the state department of education:

OBSOLETE IN 1962

State warehouses are bulging now with 979,000 elementary readers for grades 1 through 5. Under archaic state laws, they will legally be obsolete on June 30, 1962.

Local school districts are reluctant to buy the books from the state because the state curriculum commission had adopted a new reader series which will go into classrooms next September.

Department officials admit "a very substantial number" of the 979,000 books probably will gather dust on the shelves of warehouses until the adoption period expires. Then, unless the legislature finds a way to act, they face destruction—either cut up into pulp or burned.

GIVEN AWAY?

Why can't the books be given away, say to foreign nations which, in the words of Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland), are "dying for something to read?"

The answer from Department of Education officials was:

They interpret a 1917 statute as giving them the authority to burn or dispose of obsolete books.

They further contend that "restrictive clauses in the contracts (with book publishers) prevent the distribution of any surplus textbooks on hand at the conclusion of an adoption period."

"This will be changed, somehow, some way," Assemblyman Jess M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles), chairman of the investigating committee, said today.

"We'll sit down after we hold the fifth and final and concluding chapter of this melodrama next Monday night and figure out a way to prod, push or pull the department and the state printing plant into doing something," Unruh said.

The three education department officials—Dr. Wallace W. Hall, former Marin County superintendent of schools; Dr. Ronald W. Cox and Dr. Ivan R. Waterman—came in for a tongue-lashing from members of the committee. Unruh asked them to return again next week for further questioning.

"This isn't good business to destroy perfectly good books," said Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton). "It doesn't make good sense and it is no way to run government. It is disgraceful, a despicable thing."

CALLED GERRYMANDER

GOP Leader Rips Redistrict Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly's Republican caucus leader said today Democratic majority plans for California's 1961 legislative reapportionment "look like the beginning of a gerrymander."

Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) said the heavily Democratic reapportionment committee has decided to redistrict the state "using straight lines" to give the appearance of fair play.

Assemblyman Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda), author of the reapportionment bill, denied the committee he heads would permit any gerrymandering or rigging of districts to favor the Democrats.

But Busterud declared it's a strange coincidence that Crown had singled out six Republican-held districts in Los Angeles County as being "overrepresented" and thus destined to be realigned.

Crown originally had listed seven of Los Angeles' 31 districts. He said, however, he erred in including the 49th district of Assemblyman Houston I. Flournoy (R-Claremont).

On the basis of the 1960 census, Crown has fixed 195,000 as the ideal population for each of the 80 Assembly districts. The lines are revised every 10 years in line with population changes.

Crown said Los Angeles' 43rd, 47th, 48th, 53rd, 54th and 56th Assembly districts now have one too many assemblymen on the basis of population. He indicated their boundaries would be revised to bring in areas from adjoining districts.

Flournoy protested that there were actually enough people in his district and that of Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier) for three assemblymen.

Crown has carefully refrained from disclosing exact proposed lines for the redistricting, but Busterud charged that the Democratic plan calls for breaking up several neighborhoods in San Francisco.

Mill Valleyan's Oil Gets Fifth Place In Phelan Contest

Morehouse's oil painting entitled "Green Stripes" will be among 32 canvases that will be on exhibit at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco from now until April 16.

The works of Frank Murakami of Mill Valley have also been selected for the Phelan Art Exhibition.

James D. Phelan awards are offered in literature and in art in alternating years. This year's contest was devoted to painting.

San Francisco was the first city in the world to have central district electric lighting.

San Rafael Has Most Of County's Mumps

Twenty-four cases of mumps —17 of them in San Rafael— were reported to the Marin County Health Department last week.

Other communicable diseases reported: Measles, eight; streptococcus infection, three; salmonella, syphilis and gonorrhea, two each; infectious hepatitis, one.

FRANK WILKINSON
'Absolute lie'

Overflow U.C. Crowd Hears Agitation Denial

BERKELEY (AP)—Frank Wilkinson, foe of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, denies any part in the demonstrations during committee hearings in San Francisco last May.

Wilkinson spoke to an overflow crowd yesterday at the University of California variously estimated at from 2,000 to 5,000. No disorders developed although his appearance on the campus had been protested by two state legislators and other supporters of the House committee.

Wilkinson said a film of the San Francisco demonstration, "Operation Abolition," characterized him as a Communist agitator. He appeared in the film.

"I want to state clearly and simply that the allegation that I either led or had anything to do with the student demonstrations — the magnificent demonstrations—is an absolute lie, one of many lies and distortions in the film," Wilkinson said.

Wilkinson, who was sentenced to one year in jail for contempt of the House committee, praised Gov. Edmund G. Brown and university president Clark Kerr for resisting efforts to have him barred from the campus.

Brown told a San Francisco-to-Sacramento motorcade of 200 persons led by two Baptist ministers Tuesday that he wouldn't interfere with the decision of Kerr and other university officials to let Wilkinson speak.

Wilkinson's appearance was sponsored by SLATE, a campus political group which claims a membership of about 100 out of a student body of some 21,000.

Burns Won't Ask Proof Of Red Charges

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Un-American Activities said today he has no plans to ask an assemblyman to prove his charges of Communistic influence at the University of California and several state colleges.

"I have no plans at the moment," said Sen. Hugh Burns (D-Fresno). "I'm too busy with legislation."

Burns made his statement after both Democratic and Republican assemblyman yesterday asked Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) to supply the Senate committee with evidence backing up his accusations of widespread subversive influence in the schools.

Francis refused, saying only that he has "been in contact with proper authorities."

The Assembly by unanimous vote, yesterday ordered printed in its journal a letter demanding that Francis produce evidence of his charges of Communist influence at the University of California.

The letter, by Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Berkeley) asked that evidence be turned over to the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities.

Morehouse's oil painting entitled "Green Stripes" will be among 32 canvases that will be on exhibit at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco from now until April 16.

The works of Frank Murakami of Mill Valley have also been selected for the Phelan Art Exhibition.

James D. Phelan awards are offered in literature and in art in alternating years. This year's contest was devoted to painting.

San Francisco was the first city in the world to have central district electric lighting.

San Rafael Has Most Of County's Mumps

Twenty-four cases of mumps —17 of them in San Rafael— were reported to the Marin County Health Department last week.

Other communicable diseases reported: Measles, eight; streptococcus infection, three; salmonella, syphilis and gonorrhea, two each; infectious hepatitis, one.

FRANK WILKINSON
'Absolute lie'

Overflow U.C. Crowd Hears Agitation Denial

BERKELEY (AP)—Frank Wilkinson, foe of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, denies any part in the demonstrations during committee hearings in San Francisco last May.

Wilkinson spoke to an overflow crowd yesterday at the University of California variously estimated at from 2,000 to 5,000. No disorders developed although his appearance on the campus had been protested by two state legislators and other supporters of the House committee.

Wilkinson said a film of the San Francisco demonstration, "Operation Abolition," characterized him as a Communist agitator. He appeared in the film.

"I want to state clearly and simply that the allegation that I either led or had anything to do with the student demonstrations — the magnificent demonstrations—is an absolute lie, one of many lies and distortions in the film," Wilkinson said.

Wilkinson, who was sentenced to one year in jail for contempt of the House committee, praised Gov. Edmund G. Brown and university president Clark Kerr for resisting efforts to have him barred from the campus.

Brown told a San Francisco-to-Sacramento motorcade of 200 persons led by two Baptist ministers Tuesday that he wouldn't interfere with the decision of Kerr and other university officials to let Wilkinson speak.

Wilkinson's appearance was sponsored by SLATE, a campus political group which claims a membership of about 100 out of a student body of some 21,000.

Burns Won't Ask Proof Of Red Charges

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Un-American Activities said today he has no plans to ask an assemblyman to prove his charges of Communistic influence at the University of California and several state colleges.

"I have no plans at the moment," said Sen. Hugh Burns (D-Fresno). "I'm too busy with legislation."

Burns made his statement after both Democratic and Republican assemblyman yesterday asked Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) to supply the Senate committee with evidence backing up his accusations of widespread subversive influence in the schools.

Francis refused, saying only that he has "been in contact with proper authorities."

The Assembly by unanimous vote, yesterday ordered printed in its journal a letter demanding that Francis produce evidence of his charges of Communist influence at the University of California.

The letter, by Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Berkeley) asked that evidence be turned over to the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities.

School Dumps Bids —They're Too High

Dixie School District's trustees last night was unable to accept any of six bids for the projected Don Timoteo School because the lowest was $20,000 over the architect's estimate.

In some instances the bid figures were over the allowable construction cost under the state loan program, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

The board directed the architect and superintendent to review the bids and consult with the allocation staff of the state Department of Finance on whether to readvertise or to take advantage of some alternates for reducing the cost.

A special meeting was set for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to receive the recommendations from this investigation.

Lowest bid was $332,450 by Wright and Oretsky of Santa Rosa. The highest bid was $344,790. Total set in the state authorization is $312,293.

The other five bidders with over-all figures were: Reynolds Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, $335,787; Peter Sartorio of Colma, $336,616; Ray I. Johnson Inc. of Kentfield, $337,000; Herrero Brothers of San Francisco, $337,910, and Martinelli Construction Co. of San Francisco, $344,790.

Board members expressed hope that even if readvertising is necessary, the school on a site joining the present Vallecito School will open before Jan. 1, 1962. Superintendent Willis was instructed to seek applicants and recommend employment of a principal for Don Timoteo. Board members suggested preference be given any qualified applicant from the present teaching staff.

A master plan for landscaping of the Hoffman School site was adopted by the board. Eventual cost is expected to be around $40,000. Work may be spread out over several years.

A school calendar of 180 teaching days was adopted, starting Sept. 4 and closing June 15, 1962. Two "institute days" will be set later, falling between spring and fall semesters.

Tenure was unanimously granted to 23 teachers and principals, this being the first year in which Dixie District was required by law to take such a step. Some are now teaching in their fourth year in the district. Included were two principals, Charles Skutt of Hoffman School and Henry M. Smith of Vallecito.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Doris Fleenor, Harold Milam, Sally Spears and Mrs. Rita Zaro, all teachers.

The board authorized a contract with Mrs. Frances Morton of Novato to teach Vallecito fourth grade. She is a graduate of Lake Erie College in Painesville, O., with graduate work at Kent State University in Ohio.

The board went on record as opposing Assembly Bill 1313, which would use 75 per cent of any money from federal sources for basic aid and 25 per cent for equalization. It also opposed Assembly Bill 1994, to give power of authorizing use of school facilities for civic purposes to the county education board rather than the district.

Average class load of 30 is to be continued and the staff was directed to prepare a budget accordingly. Further study of teacher salary was ordered.

House Passes Bill For Arms Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today approved an 800-million-dollar military construction bill heavily laden with missile projects, and work at more than 358 installations.

The bill, approved 411-0, represents a reduction of about 65 million dollars in the sum sought by the defense department for the year starting July 1.

The bill would authorize $140,426,000 for the Army, $132,574,000 for the Navy, $431,015,000 for the Air Force, $52,801,000 for reserve forces and $47,747,000 to increase ceilings on previously authorized projects.

It includes authorization for additional base construction to support the Polaris submarine fleet, 281 million dollars for future Titan and Minuteman missile base construction and $17,028,000 for improvements in the Nike-Hercules system and development of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile programs.

JUDGE HIT

Drug Group: 'Can't Get Fair Trial'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Northern California Pharmaceutical Assn., charged in a grand jury indictment with restraining trade by price fixing of prescriptions, claimed yesterday that it could not get a fair trial in the state.

The association maintained that widespread publicity given to remarks by Federal Judge Lloyd H. Burke would prejudice its case. Burke's remarks were made Monday when he granted a postponement of the trial from April 17 to May 22.

"If the government charges are true," Burke said, "every person who has paid for a prescription during the period covered by the case has cause for vey."

The association, through its attorneys, denied the statement as "most unfortunate and its consequences. . . most serious."

"It is not a correct statement of the law," the attorneys said, "since only persons who have suffered harm in their business activities can sue for treble damages. . ."

Marin City Name Vote Set Again

Marin City will hold a second election Saturday on whether to adopt a new name, Daniel Hayden, Marin City Tenants Council chairman, announced last night.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Community Center lounge.

An election held March 4 was declared void by the tenants council since, according to Hayden, insufficient time had been given for a "proper legal surv-

Public School Building Costs Are Criticized

The high cost of public school classrooms compared with private schools and other construction came in for some sharp criticism by three candidates for the Mill Valley Elementary School District board on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today.

Dr. William L. Clark, Don Jones and Edward B. Hayden appeared, with Kitty Oppenheimer as moderator.

Jones said there is too much difference between construction costs of private and public schools. "It is out of line," he said.

"Contractors get almost all of the money voted for schools," Jones said. "Divide the $500,000 in bonds for 19 classrooms and one gets probable cost of $25,000 to $28,000 per room."

Clark, an incumbent, said that schools cost $14.85 a square foot elsewhere. He knew of schools that cost $14,400 per room.

Hayden said he knew of schools that were built on the peninsula for $16,500 per room and wanted to know what the other $5,000 to $8,000 per classroom went for. Hayden had one architect in San Francisco who said schools could be built for $12 per square foot.

Jones, a teacher at Pelton Junior High School in San Francisco, took exception to both proposals.

"Teachers need more pay to work longer," Jones said. Teachers can stand only so much of the children and the children can stand only so long of the teachers, he declared.

Jones wanted to know how standards could be set. Some of his pupils parents think him a bad teacher, some think him a good teacher, he said.

Hayden was the only one of the three who called for passage of Mill Valley district's proposed half-million dollar bond issue.

In his opening remarks, Hayden said: "I have two children, 2 and 4 years old. I want the schools to be ready for them in two years."

Because he was a career school teacher, Jones thought that he would know more about school problems than someone outside of the school system. He said there was no danger of him becoming his own boss because he could not afford the cut in pay which he would get if he took a job teaching in Mill Valley.

Candidates Joyce R. Gross and Edward Kemp did not appear.

The program will be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Gardener Hospitalized

Dan Henden, 46, of Hillgirt Avenue, Ross, was in satisfactory condition in Ross General Hospital today after taking an overdose of sleeping tablets yesterday. Henden, a gardener, was found unconscious at his home by a friend yesterday. He was taken by ambulance to Marin General Hospital for emergency treatment, then transferred to Ross Hospital. A hospital spokesman said he probably would be released late today.

Wanderer Sails Home; 'It Was A Good Trip'

The Wanderer sailed into its home port of Sausalito this morning, with six Marin charter members aboard, to tie up at the Ondine Pier at 558 Bridgeway.

"It was a good trip," according to Skipper John Linderman of Alameda, who took over the helm about 30 days ago from Omer Darr of Mill Valley. Darr, who flew home as he had planned to be with his family, took the schooner on a four month cruise to Pitcairn, Mangareva, Raivivae, Tahiti, Moorea and finally the Marquesas.

Among the 16 passengers were honeymooners Dr. and Mrs. Gray Stahlman of 78 Central Avenue, Sausalito. Stahlman, ship's doctor for the round trip, was married to Gloria Drake prior to the cruise, and his wife met him in Tahiti for the return trip.

Other Marin passengers were Jean Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson of Belvedere, who flew down to meet the ship in Tahiti; Ann Barber, the cook, of Sausalito, and Russ Nyborg, leading seaman, and Eugene Beavin, both of Sausalito.

First on hand to wait for the for the vessel at the Ondine dock was Mrs. James Canrado of Herlong, who had driven all the way from her home in Lassen County to meet her son, Paul, one of those aboard. "I couldn't sleep," said Mrs. Canrado.

The ship will stay in Sausalito for a while, Darr said. There is good possibility that its owner, Joe Price of Bartlesville, Okla, will charter another cruise leaving in June for the Marquesas and Tahiti, Darr said. Price bought the ship last year from actor Sterling Hayden.

Missing Dad Search Ends; Died In '57

An 11-year search for a missing father ended today when Investigator William Bemiss of the Marin District Attorney's office established that the man is dead.

Levi St. John Hobbs, who would be 41 if living, died in 1957 of a heart attack while working for the Alaska Film Exchange Co., Bemiss disclosed. He left a divorced wife and two children, age 12 and 13, in San Rafael.

Because the man's death has been established, the two children will be entitled to social security benefits, Bemiss said.

Last December, the former Mrs. Hobbs, who has since remarried, went to Bemiss for help to get child support payments for the children.

She told Bemiss she had separated from Hobbs in 1949, and had not seen him since. She got a divorce and remarried.

Bemiss traced Hobbs to Seattle, then to Alaska. This week, he received a reply from the Alaska Film Exchange that Hobbs had died in 1957 and was buried in Alaska.

Car Wreck Hurts Three Women

Three Fairfax women suffered minor injuries today when their car swung out to avoid a halted vehicle on the Waldo Grade and struck a post.

Joanne Ehat, 18, of 2304 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, driver, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes on the legs. Her passenger on the front seat, Karen Colla, 19, of 111 Bothin Road, was treated for bruises of right hip, leg and shoulder, and her mother, Mrs. S. J. Colla suffered a bump on the head and scraped right leg.

Merchants Planning Big Red Tag Days

The biggest and finest Red Tag Days ever held in San Rafael is the aim of the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

That was the idea the committee expressed about the semi-annual event, scheduled for April 13 to 15, at a luncheon meeting yesterday, manager Paul J. Richards, reported.

Complete participation in the event is the goal of the committee. Stores are getting in special merchandise which they will offer at big savings, Richards said.

Hawaiian Week plans were discussed by the committee. This week will be held April 24 to 29, in connection with the annual membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce, Richards said. Merchants will wear Hawaiian attire and use Hawaiian props in their stores.

Two free tickets to Hawaii will be awarded some lucky couple, stated Richards. These will be given in connection with an Hawaiian tour the latter part of April, according to Richards.

House Passes Bill For Arms Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today approved an 800-million-dollar military construction bill heavily laden with missile projects, and work at more than 358 installations.

The bill, approved 411-0, represents a reduction of about 65 million dollars in the sum sought by the defense department for the year starting July 1.

The bill would authorize $140,426,000 for the Army, $132,574,000 for the Navy, $431,015,000 for the Air Force, $52,801,000 for reserve forces and $47,747,000 to increase ceilings on previously authorized projects.

It includes authorization for additional base construction to support the Polaris submarine fleet, 281 million dollars for future Titan and Minuteman missile base construction and $17,028,000 for improvements in the Nike-Hercules system and development of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile programs.

Public School Building Costs Are Criticized

The high cost of public school classrooms compared with private schools and other construction came in for some sharp criticism by three candidates for the Mill Valley Elementary School District board on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today.

Dr. William L. Clark, Don Jones and Edward B. Hayden appeared, with Kitty Oppenheimer as moderator.

Jones said there is too much difference between construction costs of private and public schools. "It is out of line," he said.

"Contractors get almost all of the money voted for schools," Jones said. "Divide the $500,000 in bonds for 19 classrooms and one gets probable cost of $25,000 to $28,000 per room."

Clark, an incumbent, said that schools cost $14.85 a square foot elsewhere. He knew of schools that cost $14,400 per room.

Hayden said he knew of schools that were built on the peninsula for $16,500 per room and wanted to know what the other $5,000 to $8,000 per classroom went for. Hayden had one architect in San Francisco who said schools could be built for $12 per square foot.

Hayden advocated longer school sessions and longer school terms.

Jones, a teacher at Pelton Junior High School in San Francisco, took exception to both proposals.

"Teachers need more pay to work longer," Jones said. Teachers can stand only so much of the children and the children can stand only so long of the teachers, he declared.

Hayden advocated raising teachers' pay on some type of merit system, rather than blanket raises.

Jones wanted to know how standards could be set. Some of his pupils parents think him a bad teacher, some think him a good teacher, he said.

Hayden was the only one of the three who called for passage of Mill Valley district's proposed half-million dollar bond issue.

In his opening remarks, Hayden said: "I have two children, 2 and 4 years old. I want the schools to be ready for them in two years."

Because he was a career school teacher, Jones thought that he would know more about school problems than someone outside of the school system. He said there was no danger of him becoming his own boss because he could not afford the cut in pay which he would get if he took a job teaching in Mill Valley.

Candidates Joyce R. Gross and Edward Kemp did not appear.

The program will be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Gardener Hospitalized

Dan Henden, 46, of Hillgirt Avenue, Ross, was in satisfactory condition in Ross General Hospital today after taking an overdose of sleeping tablets yesterday. Henden, a gardener, was found unconscious at his home by a friend yesterday. He was taken by ambulance to Marin General Hospital for emergency treatment, then transferred to Ross Hospital. A hospital spokesman said he probably would be released late today.

JUDGE HIT

Drug Group: 'Can't Get Fair Trial'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Northern California Pharmaceutical Assn., charged in a grand jury indictment with restraining trade by price fixing of prescriptions, claimed yesterday that it could not get a fair trial in the state.

The association maintained that widespread publicity given to remarks by Federal Judge Lloyd H. Burke would prejudice its case. Burke's remarks were made Monday when he granted a postponement of the trial from April 17 to May 22.

"If the government charges are true," Burke said, "every person who has paid for a prescription during the period covered by the case has cause for vey."

treble damages and a trust action."

The association, through its attorneys, denied the statement as "most unfortunate and its consequences. . . most serious."

"It is not a correct statement of the law," the attorneys said, "since only persons who have suffered harm in their business activities can sue for treble damages. . ."

Marin City Name Vote Set Again

Marin City will hold a second election Saturday on whether to adopt a new name, Daniel Hayden, Marin City Tenants Council chairman, announced last night.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Community Center lounge.

An election held March 4 was declared void by the tenants council since, according to Hayden, insufficient time had been given for a "proper legal sur-

Mrs. Livermore Plans City Award Acceptance

Mrs. Norman B. Livermore Sr., president of the Marin Conservation League, will accept Marin County's "All-America City Award" at an April 9 ceremony sponsored by the Marin County Real Estate Board and the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

The foundation announced it had been decided thus to honor Mrs. Livermore "in recognition of her outstanding efforts over a long period of time."

Mrs. Livermore received special mention in the original document of nomination through which former Marin County Administrator D. A. Jensen entered Marin as a contestant in the nationwide contest for eminence in achievement through citizen effort. She was described as "prime mover in almost all projects for more than 30 years."

The presentation will start at 4 p.m. at the Art and Garden Center in Ross. Officials of the National Municipal League and of Look magazine, co-sponsors of the annual competition in which 11 contests are named winners, will be on hand to give the award.

Acceptance by Mrs. Livermore will 'on behalf of the citizens of the county."

Fred F. Enemark, president of the foundation, will be master of ceremonies.

It is intended to make the program about a half-hour in length and in an appropriate setting prepared by Mrs. Marcelle McCoy, manager of the annual Art and Garden Fair.

President John F. Kennedy has telegraphed congratulations in a message addressed to Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman. He said:

"I am delighted to learn that Marin County has been selected as one of the 11 communities to receive this year's All-American City Award.

"I want to congratulate the citizens and officials of Marin County for the energy and vision which have earned them this recognition."

Junior Statesmen Meeting Planned

Five members of the Tamalpais High School chapter of the Junior Statesmen of America will attend a Bay Area junior statesmen convention Saturday at Menlo-Atherton High School in Atherton.

They are Jim Ortler, son of Maj. L. A. Ortler of Fort Baker; Hans Halberstadt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Halberstadt; Judy Heynen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Heynen Jr.; Bill Mosher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Mosher III, and Stephen Pendleton, president of the chapter and son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Pendleton, all of Mill Valley.

Ortler will present a resolution on the possibility of setting up a commission to study the feasibility of having a holiday on election days.

Park Attendance

SQUAW VALLEY (UPI) — Attendance at Squaw Valley State Park totaled 633,037 from the time of its opening last April until the close of 1960, according to the State Division of Beaches and Parks.

San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, built in 1869, was the first yacht club to be organized in California.

SOAKING UP A LITTLE SUN

Actress Marilyn Monroe, who says they are just good friends, and Joe DiMaggio, her former husband, bask on the beach at St. Petersburg, Fla. About 10 minutes after this picture was taken yesterday they fled to their hotel because a large crowd gathered. The former New York Yankee star, asked if the visit meant the romance which led to their brief nine-month marriage in 1954 was being resumed, replied, "We're just friends; that's as far as it is." Debate Starts In House On Minimum Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A wage floor for nearly three million employees of large retail stores was at stake in the House today.

The House launched a full-scale debate on how much to increase the federal hourly wage floor and how many additional workers to bring under its protection.

Liberal Democrats, administration legislative lieutenants and cabinet members were battling to preserve President John F. Kennedy's proposal to hike the present $1-an-hour minimum to $1.25 over two years and cover 4.3 million more workers.

The president's bill would bring under the law employees of single stores doing one million or more in business each year, or chains whose individual units grossed at least $250,000 annually.

But a strong conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats appeared to have the upper hand in their attempt to water down the legislation, either by reducing the money increase to 15 cents, or by trimming the number of additional workers covered to 1.4 million.

The limited-coverage plan, advanced yesterday by Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) would leave unprotected 2.9 million workers who would be included in the wage hike under the president's plan.

The Vinson bill would retain the administration's request for a 25-cent raise, but spread it over 28 months. Another conservation bill would limit the legsilation to a one-shot increase to $1.15 an hour.

IT'S 5 STARS AGAIN FOR EISENHOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower again has his old Army rank of five-star general.

President John F. Kennedy signed the legislation yesterday and wrote to Eisenhower that it was "a reaffirmation of the affection and regard of our nation for you."

Eisenhower resigned from the Army to run for president in 1952. When he left office he expressed a wish to have the rank back again. Kennedy urged prompt legislative action, and Congress quickly passed a bill to do it.

Eisenhower will continue to draw his $25,000 pension and $50,000 expense fund as a former president. He will receive no added Army pension or allowance.

President Gets Jobless Bill For Signature

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill providing an emergency extension of unemployment benefits totaling almost one billion dollars needs only President John F. Kennedy's signature to become law. It was passed by the House and Senate yesterday.

Fifteen days after he signs the bill extra unemployment checks will begin going to persons who have been out of work so long they have used up present benefits.

Judge Opposes 'Rights' Measure For Juveniles

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A superior court judge last night said legislation assuring more rights to juveniles in trouble might destroy the whole value of juvenile courts.

Judge Richard B. Eaton of Shasta County warned against provisions assuring accused juveniles of the right to counsel and restricting detention of all juveniles accused of wrong-doing.

The Senate Judiciary Committee will hold further hearings on the bill introduced by Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville), and backed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Under the bill juveniles could not be mixed with adult prisoners in jails, and would have to be released from custody within 48 hours unless made a ward of the court.

Sen. Arnold called his measure a "bill of rights" for juveniles.

Revamped Training Plan For Teachers Supported

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Broad reform of state teacher training was given unanimous approval yesterday by the Senate Education Committee — the first major legislative decision on the far-reaching proposal.

The action sent to the Senate floor the measure to require future trainees to spend most of their time learning the subjects they would teach rather than the techniques of teaching.

Backed by the state's leading intellectuals and educational leaders, the measure by Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego) lays a heavy stress on academic as opposed to vocational training.

Approval came after a brief hearing in which the committee agreed to amendments lowering from five to four years the training time which would be required of elementary school teachers.

Teachers would still have to earn degrees in academic subjects and it would be left to the discretion of the State Board of Education how many how-to-teach courses might be required beyond that.

High school teachers would be allowed to teach only in the subjects in which they had earned degrees, and supervisors work only in those subjects. They'd need five years training or more.

All administrators would need academic degrees, thus blocking vocational teachers from administration positions —a provision which has drawn the bill's major opposition.

In related action, the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee approved a bill by Donald L. Grunsky (R-Watsonville) to create a state commission on teacher licensing.

Jury To Probe Civic Center Work Stoppage Tonight

The Marin County Grand Jury will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the courthouse to continue its investigation of last January's work stoppage on the county civic center building near Santa Venetia.

Representatives of the contracting firm and the architectural firm, working on the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed structure, will be asked to testify. Grand jurors have also invited County Counsel E. Warren McGuire and County Auditor Leon A. deLisle to appear before them.

The grand jurors want to know whether there was any wrongful or imprudent act involved in the one-week work stoppage.

Sen. McCarthy Heads Harbor Probe Group

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy was named yesterday to head a subcommittee which will investigate planning and construction loan procedures of the Small Craft Harbors Commission.

McCarthy, who operates his own private harbor at Loch Lomond, has been a backer of the small craft harbors program, but this week introduced a resolution in the Senate calling for a probe into recent reports of irregularities in loans and poor construction procedures.

His appointment was made by Sen. J. Howard Williams (R-Porterville) chairman of the Senate's Fact Finding Committee on Natural Resources, of which McCarthy is a member. Williams said he had heard considerable criticism of some subjects which allegedly have not met the cost schedule on which construction loans were based.

Injured In Fall

Susie M. Roy, 79, of 101 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo, fell on the walk in front of the Lady Baltimore Bakery at 1914 Fourth Street in San Rafael, about 5 p.m. yesterday and fractured her hip. Her condition was reported as good today at Ross General Hospital.

Auto Lists Badly, Right Wheel Stolen

Airman 2/c Kenneth A. Leusing, 20, of barracks 707, Hamilton Air Force Base, went to his parked car last night after two days of duty and found the vehicle listing badly to port.

Thieves had stolen the right front wheel and tire from his 1957 sedan, leaving the car sitting on the rim. Leusing had parked the car at the entrance to Loma Verde Monday night. Loss is valued at $45.

Arson Aide Appointed By Garety

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety today announced re-appointment of Charles I. (Chuck) Daniels Jr. as arson investigator for the district attorney's office.

Daniels served in the same capacity under former Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich. He is also arson investigator for the sheriff's office and San Rafael police.

"Investigation of arson requires specialized training and interest, both of which Mr. Daniels has," District Attorney Garety said. "The county is fortunate to have someone with the requirements who is willing to donate his time to the county."

Daniels, who works for Golden Gate Distributing Co., does arson investigation work on his own time and without pay. He has been helping Marin law enforcement officials for 11 years.

Daniels attended arson investigation seminars at Purdue University in Indiana and served with arson squads in both the San Francisco and Los Angeles Police Departments.

About 10 minutes after this picture was taken yesterday they fled to their hotel because a large crowd gathered. The former New York Yankee star, asked if the visit meant the romance which led to their brief nine-month marriage in 1954 was being resumed, replied, "We're just friends; that's as far as it is." Debate Starts In House On Minimum Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A wage floor for nearly three million employees of large retail stores was at stake in the House today.

The House launched a full-scale debate on how much to increase the federal hourly wage floor and how many additional workers to bring under its protection.

Liberal Democrats, administration legislative lieutenants and cabinet members were battling to preserve President John F. Kennedy's proposal to hike the present $1-an-hour minimum to $1.25 over two years and cover 4.3 million more workers.

The president's bill would bring under the law employees of single stores doing one million or more in business each year, or chains whose individual units grossed at least $250,000 annually.

But a strong conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats appeared to have the upper hand in their attempt to water down the legislation, either by reducing the money increase to 15 cents, or by trimming the number of additional workers covered to 1.4 million.

The limited-coverage plan, advanced yesterday by Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) would leave unprotected 2.9 million workers who would be included in the wage hike under the president's plan.

The Vinson bill would retain the administration's request for a 25-cent raise, but spread it over 28 months. Another conservation bill would limit the legsilation to a one-shot increase to $1.15 an hour.

IT'S 5 STARS AGAIN FOR EISENHOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower again has his old Army rank of five-star general.

President John F. Kennedy signed the legislation yesterday and wrote to Eisenhower that it was "a reaffirmation of the affection and regard of our nation for you."

Eisenhower resigned from the Army to run for president in 1952. When he left office he expressed a wish to have the rank back again. Kennedy urged prompt legislative action, and Congress quickly passed a bill to do it.

Eisenhower will continue to draw his $25,000 pension and $50,000 expense fund as a former president. He will receive no added Army pension or allowance.

President Gets Jobless Bill For Signature

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill providing an emergency extension of unemployment benefits totaling almost one billion dollars needs only President John F. Kennedy's signature to become law. It was passed by the House and Senate yesterday.

Fifteen days after he signs the bill extra unemployment checks will begin going to persons who have been out of work so long they have used up present benefits.

Judge Opposes 'Rights' Measure For Juveniles

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A superior court judge last night said legislation assuring more rights to juveniles in trouble might destroy the whole value of juvenile courts.

Judge Richard B. Eaton of Shasta County warned against provisions assuring accused juveniles of the right to counsel and restricting detention of all juveniles accused of wrong-doing.

The Senate Judiciary Committee will hold further hearings on the bill introduced by Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville), and backed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Under the bill juveniles could not be mixed with adult prisoners in jails, and would have to be released from custody within 48 hours unless made a ward of the court.

Sen. Arnold called his measure a "bill of rights" for juveniles.

Revamped Training Plan For Teachers Supported

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Broad reform of state teacher training was given unanimous approval yesterday by the Senate Education Committee — the first major legislative decision on the far-reaching proposal.

The action sent to the Senate floor the measure to require future trainees to spend most of their time learning the subjects they would teach rather than the techniques of teaching.

Backed by the state's leading intellectuals and educational leaders, the measure by Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego) lays a heavy stress on academic as opposed to vocational training.

Approval came after a brief hearing in which the committee agreed to amendments lowering from five to four years the training time which would be required of elementary school teachers.

Teachers would still have to earn degrees in academic subjects and it would be left to the discretion of the State Board of Education how many how-to-teach courses might be required beyond that.

High school teachers would be allowed to teach only in the subjects in which they had earned degrees, and supervisors work only in those subjects. They'd need five years training or more.

All administrators would need academic degrees, thus blocking vocational teachers from administration positions —a provision which has drawn the bill's major opposition.

In related action, the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee approved a bill by Donald L. Grunsky (R-Watsonville) to create a state commission on teacher licensing.

Jury To Probe Civic Center Work Stoppage Tonight

The Marin County Grand Jury will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the courthouse to continue its investigation of last January's work stoppage on the county civic center building near Santa Venetia.

Representatives of the contracting firm and the architectural firm, working on the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed structure, will be asked to testify. Grand jurors have also invited County Counsel E. Warren McGuire and County Auditor Leon A. deLisle to appear before them.

The grand jurors want to know whether there was any wrongful or imprudent act involved in the one-week work stoppage.

Sen. McCarthy Heads Harbor Probe Group

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy was named yesterday to head a subcommittee which will investigate planning and construction loan procedures of the Small Craft Harbors Commission.

McCarthy, who operates his own private harbor at Loch Lomond, has been a backer of the small craft harbors program, but this week introduced a resolution in the Senate calling for a probe into recent reports of irregularities in loans and poor construction procedures.

His appointment was made by Sen. J. Howard Williams (R-Porterville) chairman of the Senate's Fact Finding Committee on Natural Resources, of which McCarthy is a member. Williams said he had heard considerable criticism of some subjects which allegedly have not met the cost schedule on which construction loans were based.

Injured In Fall

Susie M. Roy, 79, of 101 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo, fell on the walk in front of the Lady Baltimore Bakery at 1914 Fourth Street in San Rafael, about 5 p.m. yesterday and fractured her hip. Her condition was reported as good today at Ross General Hospital.

Auto Lists Badly, Right Wheel Stolen

Airman 2/c Kenneth A. Leusing, 20, of barracks 707, Hamilton Air Force Base, went to his parked car last night after two days of duty and found the vehicle listing badly to port.

Thieves had stolen the right front wheel and tire from his 1957 sedan, leaving the car sitting on the rim. Leusing had parked the car at the entrance to Loma Verde Monday night. Loss is valued at $45.

Arson Aide Appointed By Garety

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety today announced re-appointment of Charles I. (Chuck) Daniels Jr. as arson investigator for the district attorney's office.

Daniels served in the same capacity under former Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich. He is also arson investigator for the sheriff's office and San Rafael police.

"Investigation of arson requires specialized training and interest, both of which Mr. Daniels has," District Attorney Garety said. "The county is fortunate to have someone with the requirements who is willing to donate his time to the county."

Daniels, who works for Golden Gate Distributing Co., does arson investigation work on his own time and without pay. He has been helping Marin law enforcement officials for 11 years.

Daniels attended arson investigation seminars at Purdue University in Indiana and served with arson squads in both the San Francisco and Los Angeles Police Departments.

In the 1850s vessels brought ice around Cape Horn to San Francisco.

FRONTIER STYLE—This is how new Palace Food Market in Point Reyes Station, across Shoreline Highway from the present store, will appear when completed, according to plans of owner Tony Tavaggia.

Marin 'Frontier' Store Will Be Built Of Steel

A "western frontier type" general store is to be built in Point Reyes Station by Tony Tavaggia, owner of the Palace Food Market, it was announced today.

The structure will be an all-steel prefabricated one-story building with 9,240 square feet of floor space, dimensions being 66 by 140 feet.

In keeping with the western old-time atmosphere, the steel facing will be mustard yellow, and brown trim is to be provided as contrast.

Location will be on property owned by Tavaggia across Shoreline Highway from the location of his present store, which is an old building of several levels with space inadequate to present needs.

If permit and other official requirements can be completed it is expected that the contractors, Camping Corp. of San Rafael and Oakland, will break ground in about two weeks.

A Camping representative said the all-steel prefab type of building can be put up in about a month with a saving of from 30 to 60 days over other forms of construction.

Tavaggia has reserved for himself the task of interior furnishings and he has planned modern equipment to handle not only foodstuffs but a wide range of general merchandise in keeping with the frontier aspect of the establishment.

Just how long it will take to complete the interior work is still uncertain but it is considered certain that the new store will be ready for business by early summer.

Audubon Society Displaying Mural

On display this weekend at the National Audubon Society's western division convention at Asilomar is the 20-foot-long mural created by Mrs. Bertha Bedillion's third grade class at Tiburon School.

The mural, selected for viewing by the society, portrays the shore birds of Marin and culminated the class study of Marin shore bird life, Mrs. Bedillion said.

Taxpayers' Assn. Hits Bond Plan

The Marin County Taxpayers Assn. has voted to oppose the $550,000 bond issue for the Mill Valley School District in the April 18 election, president P. J. Rowland and vice president Tom McDougall reported today.

The officers said the association's school committee objected to the bond issue because administrative costs are top heavy in the district. The committee said 67 per cent of the tax burden falls on the home owner and business property, and the sales tax is being used for other purposes than schools.

Both Rowland and McDougall are candidates for trustees in the Tamalpais Union High School District.

65 Attend First Larkspur Citizen, Council Pow-Wow

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Larkspur's city council and 65 vocal citizens last night sat down to the first of a series of off-the-cuff parleys on the expanding city's future.

By a show of hands, the board topic of "general development" headed the agenda as the main subject for discussion — nosing out taxes, zoning, sewers, police problems and area growth, in that order.

The basis for the talks was a "five-year plan," a recently-completed 25-page analysis of the city's growth problems by City Manager Ronald E. Piper. Chairman James T. Lienkaemper emphasized that the plan was "merely a guide, not an instrument of policy," not having been fully studied nor approved by the council.

Under the topic of general development, the city's streets—past, present and future—as well as recreational facilities occupied a major portion of the discussion.

Piper's plan calls for $12,500 a year to spend on secondary streets alone for 10 years. For the past four years, he said, only $6,000 has been spent annually.

Plans for future streets include eventual purchase of railroad right of way for a north-south route through town as well as a major access to Highway 101 through Fifer Industrial Park in Corte Madera.

Piper said estimates show the need for 28 lanes of east-west traffic by 1980 in the area between Tamalpais Drive in Corte Madera and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae. At present, the two streets total only four lanes.

In an informal expression of opinion sought by Councilman Daniel Allen, the audience indicated favor of a bond issue, if necessary, to purchase railroad property and construct streets on the right of way.

On recreation, councilman Lesly A. Daveler reviewed the functions of the city recreation commission, explaining that it is "striving to secure facilities for recreational use by the citizens."

He said the city had embarked on a beautification program, consulted tree-planting experts and was considering an ordinance regulating the planting and removal of trees.

As to development of a boat harbor on the bay on city-owned marshland west of Henry C. Hall School, the audience was told that plans for the harbor "were by no means dead." State funds were not allocated to Larkspur this year, as requested, Piper said, but the application is still in force and will be pursued.

Plans for the county dump site adjoining Hall School include construction of a city park and civic center on the 43 acres of city-owned land, Lienkaemper said.

"We have great plans for the dump. . . . A great deal of land is being reclaimed out there," he said, adding that the county, by dumping operations, was performing the work free. "It takes longer that way, but it doesn't cost as much," he said.

Regarding possible merger of Larkspur and Corte Madera, councilmen said the initiative was now up to Corte Madera, the larger city. (During discussions prior to the 1960 census, Larkspur was the larger, or merging, city.)

"Studies have shown a merger would be ideal taxwise for both cities," Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug said, "but the merging city now seems reluctant."

Following a suggestion that Larkspur attempt to entice industrial and commercial development, one woman in the audience suggested the councilmen approach such stores as I. Magnin and the City of Paris. "I'm no snob," she said, "but the stores they have in the Corte Madera Shopping Center . . . Well, we certainly need some first class stores in the area."

Piper told the audience that every attempt to bring in commercial development in the past few years had met with opposition. "If this is what you want, let the planning commission know about it. All we ever hear from are those against it," Piper said.

It was suggested to a resident of Madrone Canyon that a petition among property owners might be the method of getting trees removed from the middle of the street. (Several years ago, such a move brought heavy opposition from the canyon dwellers.)

A repeat performance of the meeting was set for May 24, at which time the councilmen promised a definite agenda, suggesting it might prevent a great deal of "rambling discussion."

Last night's parley was "most gratifying" in that it was totally free of "hecklers and sharpshooters," one councilman said following adjournment.

In fact, a high note in mutual admiration was hit when a long-time, loud-spoken opponent of Piper took the floor to compliment the city manager on his recent appearance before the board of supervisors to gain a larger share of traffic fines for the city.

"I want to say, after all my years of opposition to Piper, that I think he did a great job," said Alfred J. Malvino of 87 Dartmouth Avenue.

"I can't believe it," Piper said.

A limited number of copies of the five-year plan report are available at city hall and the library for borrowing by citizens.

Teacher Aides Measure Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — School teachers would get assistants to help them correct papers under legislation passed by the Assembly 46-23 today.

Assemblyman Carley Porter (D-Compton), a former junior college professor, said his bill will mean "a return to essay writing in the schools." Some high schools have used similar programs, but the bill would permit assistants at all levels.

Porter said the reader assistants would probably be bright graduate students from nearby colleges.

Opponents said the measure would lower the quality of instruction.

THE FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Napa County Welfare Director Kenneth Hotelling and his chief administrative assistant, Helen Camp, find themselves in this posed picture in Napa, draped in 45 feet of official forms that must be completed for each person under a new state old-age benefit program. Hotelling says 55 separate sheets of paper must be used for each persons, and this will total some 261 miles of forms a year in the state at the cost of nearly two million dollars. (AP Wirephoto)

'Living Experience' Trip To Mexico Set By Marinites

A group of Marin County children will try a "living experience trip" to Mexico this summer.

The idea struck Robert C. Dwyer of 501 Easterby Street, Sausalito, teacher of a special class at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera, because he planned to take his wife and his own two children to Mexico. He is familiar with the country.

Soon he had made special arrangements with a number of large families in Mazatlan, on the west coast of Mexico, aided by a Mexican friend.

The plan now is for each family to accept six or seven children and allow them to absorb first-hand all the aspects of Mexican life over a period of several weeks.

Emphasis will be on recreation. Mazatlan offers fine opportunities, says Dwyer, for such things as swimming, hiking and horseback riding.

Although the primary purpose is not travel, but experience of life at one place in Mexico, arrangements will be made for a number of short tours.

The group is expected to number about 20 to 30, from a low age limit of 10 years up into the advanced teens. If any as old as 18 enroll they will be given a chance to act as assistant supervisors. Three or four adults will be in the party.

Departing by bus June 27, the party will go by highway to Nogales and from there to Mazatlan the journey will be by Mexican train. Some of the children so far enrolled haven't ever been aboard a train, Dwyer reports.

It is expected that some of the group will remain a month, others six weeks. The first to return north will be escorted like the final party.

Dwyer will reply to queries addressed to his home.

Meeting Postponed

The regular meeting of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission, scheduled for tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Larkspur-Corte Madera school, has been postponed until March 30, it was announced today.

GOP Claim Jobless Bill Short Of Goal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican leaders in Congress claimed today that the administration's depressed area bill would bring only "bitter disillusionment" to the jobless in regions it is designed to help.

They said House Republicans will try to amend the Senate-passed 394-million-dollar program designed to cure chronic unemployment—both to cut its total cost and revise certain provisions.

The House Republican policy committee, they said following today's House-Senate GOP legislative conference, has facts showing that:

Only about one out of 17 jobless workers in industrial depressed areas could get jobs under the bill.

Only about one out of 37 under-employed rural workers would be helped.

Only about 1 per cent of unemployed workers in both industrial and rural areas could get retraining payments.

Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen and House minority leader Charles A. Halleck joined in a statement saying they are "very disturbed" because they think the jobless have been "sadly misled" about what the bill will provide.

"We are sick and tired of seeing these unfortunate people being treated like a political football," they said.

The GOP leaders said President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958 and 1960 "sought desperately" help such areas but the Democrats were "more interested in creating campaign issues than in meeting a need."

Mid-Week Lenten Service Planned

The last in a series of mid-week Lenten services will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at Grace Lutheran Church in Novato.

The sixth word spoken by Christ on the Cross, "It is finished," will form the basis of the sermon by Rev. Arthur Koehler, pastor.

HIT BY NIGERIA

Adlai Proposes Plan 'By' Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson today called on the United Nations to work out an African development program "by, of and for the Africans." He said it should be divorced from the cold war.

His proposal immediately ran into criticism from the Nigerian minister of economic affairs, Jaja Wachuku, first African to take the floor in the General Assembly's main Political Committee where debate opened on an African aid program.

Wachuku demanded concrete proposals "that are not intended to hoodwink anybody that are not intended to mesmerize us."

Stevenson immediately replied he had suggested the initiative for an African aid program rested primarily with the Africans, and that the United States was prepared to give such a program its wholehearted support.

Instead, Stevenson said, Wachuku "has suggested that the Africans want an American program for Africa."

"Only Africans can develop Africa in the last analysis," Stevenson told the 99-nation committee.

He called attention to President John F. Kennedy's foreign aid program announced in Washington and said that the United States feels special attention should be given to assisting countries able and willing to mobilize their own resources.

Stevenson did not present a formal proposal, but was reported consulting with other delegations on a detailed plan.

He outlined two basic principles for an African aid program:

1. Contributors should be prepared to assist the new African countries in their efforts to assess their own resources as they plan programs by themselves and in contact with each other.

2. The United Nations should also recognize the need for diversification of agriculture and the expansion of industry.

GARBAGE VAN TO FILL AIR WITH MELODY

TOKYO (UPI) — Tokyo garbage trucks will cruise through the capital's streets to the tune of "Rock-a-By-Baby" after the city sanitation bureau installs loudspeakers on them April 1.

The loudspeakers are designed to replace the extra garbage collectors who traditionally walk in front of the truck and ring a handbell to announce its coming.

The sanitation department did not explain how it happened to pick "Rock-a-By-Baby" as the garbage trucks' theme song.

Chapel Bids Due For San Quentin

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state division of architecture will call for bids this week for construction of an addition to the Protestant chapel at San Quentin Prison.

The addition, for which approximately $205,000 is available, will provide a protestant chapel with chaplain's office, a classroom, clerical pool, and combined classroom and Jewish chapel with folding partitions and moveable altar, and a rabbi's office.

Bids will be opened in Sacramento April 11.

Dixie District Files Suit For School Site

Dixie School District, which wants a 17-acre parcel of land in Marinwood for a new school site, filed a condemnation action today in Marin Superior Court.

The suit, filed by Assistant County Counsel Douglas Maloney, seeks condemnation of land off Las Gallinas Avenue.

On March 8, the school board passed a resolution declaring that the land is needed by the public for school facilities.

Defendants are Barhugh Estates and Marcia Estates Inc., headed by Marinwood developer Gerald Hoyt.

Man Accused Of Chain Saw Theft

Gerhard (Gabe) P. Erdman, 42, Santa Rosa logger, was booked today on suspicion of stealing a chain saw from a parked car in San Geronimo last night.

Frederick W. Perry of Meadow Way, San Geronimo, told Deputy Sheriff R. L. von Savoye he had parked his car at Oak Tree Inn for about an hour and a half last night. Inside it was a chain saw worth $150.

When he returned to his car at 10:30 p.m., the chain saw was gone. The officer got a description of two men who had been at the inn. He put out a radio bulletin giving a description.

Petaluma police caught Erdman, who had a chain saw with him. Erdman told Deputy von Savoye he had bought the saw in Petaluma.

Valuable News To All Savers!

Beginning April 1st, savings deposits at First National Bank in San Rafael and Bank of San Rafael will earn interest EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR and will grow faster than ever before through the power of accelerated compound interest. Liberal new rules governing the computation and payment of interest on savings deposits now make it possible for your savings to go to work for you immediately, at any time.

Here are the features of the new rules, which apply to all regular savings accounts:

1. INTEREST EARNED EVERY DAY. Savings deposits will earn interest, computed on the daily balance of the account from the date of deposits, provided that the account remains open at the end of the then current quarterly interest period.

2. A 10-DAY BONUS PERIOD EVERY MONTH. Savings deposits received on or before the tenth calendar day of any month will earn interest from the first day of that month.

3. MORE FREQUENT INTEREST PAYMENTS. Interest will be paid or compounded quarterly, as of March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st.

4. A GRACE PERIOD AT THE END OF EVERY QUARTER. Withdrawals may be made during the last three business days of any quarter without loss of interest on the amount withdrawn.

5. NO MAXIMUM LIMIT ON AMOUNT. There is no maximum limit on the amount you may keep on deposit in your savings account.

In addition, First National Bank in San Rafael and Bank of San Rafael will continue until further notice to pay interest on savings deposits at 3% per annum, the highest rate permitted under Federal Reserve regulations.

Now, more than ever, it pays to save with First National Bank in San Rafael and Bank of San Rafael.

65 Attend First Larkspur Citizen, Council Pow-Wow

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Larkspur's city council and 65 vocal citizens last night sat down to the first of a series of off-the-cuff parleys on the expanding city's future.

By a show of hands, the board topic of "general development" headed the agenda as the main subject for discussion — nosing out taxes, zoning, sewers, police problems and area growth, in that order.

The basis for the talks was a "five-year plan," a recently-completed 25-page analysis of the city's growth problems by City Manager Ronald E. Piper. Chairman James T. Lienkaemper emphasized that the plan was "merely a guide, not an instrument of policy," not having been fully studied nor approved by the council.

Under the topic of general development, the city's streets—past, present and future—as well as recreational facilities occupied a major portion of the discussion.

Piper's plan calls for $12,500 a year to spend on secondary streets alone for 10 years. For the past four years, he said, only $6,000 has been spent annually.

Plans for future streets include eventual purchase of railroad right of way for a north-south route through town as well as a major access to Highway 101 through Fifer Industrial Park in Corte Madera.

Piper said estimates show the need for 28 lanes of east-west traffic by 1980 in the area between Tamalpais Drive in Corte Madera and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae. At present, the two streets total only four lanes.

In an informal expression of opinion sought by Councilman Daniel Allen, the audience indicated favor of a bond issue, if necessary, to purchase railroad property and construct streets on the right of way.

On recreation, councilman Lesly A. Daveler reviewed the functions of the city recreation commission, explaining that it is "striving to secure facilities for recreational use by the citizens."

He said the city had embarked on a beautification program, consulted tree-planting experts and was considering an ordinance regulating the planting and removal of trees.

As to development of a boat harbor on the bay on city-owned marshland west of Henry C. Hall School, the audience was told that plans for the harbor "were by no means dead." State funds were not allocated to Larkspur this year, as requested, Piper said, but the application is still in force and will be pursued.

Plans for the county dump site adjoining Hall School include construction of a city park and civic center on the 43 acres of city-owned land, Lienkaemper said.

"We have great plans for the dump. . . . A great deal of land is being reclaimed out there," he said, adding that the county, by dumping operations, was performing the work free. "It takes longer that way, but it doesn't cost as much," he said.

Regarding possible merger of Larkspur and Corte Madera, councilmen said the initiative was now up to Corte Madera, the larger city. (During discussions prior to the 1960 census, Larkspur was the larger, or merging, city.)

"Studies have shown a merger would be ideal taxwise for both cities," Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug said, "but the merging city now seems reluctant."

Following a suggestion that Larkspur attempt to entice industrial and commercial development, one woman in the audience suggested the councilmen approach such stores as I. Magnin and the City of Paris. "I'm no snob," she said, "but the stores they have in the Corte Madera Shopping Center . . . Well, we certainly need some first class stores in the area."

Piper told the audience that every attempt to bring in commercial development in the past few years had met with opposition. "If this is what you want, let the planning commission know about it. All we ever hear from are those against it," Piper said.

It was suggested to a resident of Madrone Canyon that a petition among property owners might be the method of getting trees removed from the middle of the street. (Several years ago, such a move brought heavy opposition from the canyon dwellers.)

A repeat performance of the meeting was set for May 24, at which time the councilmen promised a definite agenda, suggesting it might prevent a great deal of "rambling discussion."

Last night's parley was "most gratifying" in that it was totally free of "hecklers and sharpshooters," one councilman said following adjournment.

In fact, a high note in mutual admiration was hit when a long-time, loud-spoken opponent of Piper took the floor to compliment the city manager on his recent appearance before the board of supervisors to gain a larger share of traffic fines for the city.

"I want to say, after all my years of opposition to Piper, that I think he did a great job," said Alfred J. Malvino of 87 Dartmouth Avenue.

"I can't believe it," Piper said.

A limited number of copies of the five-year plan report are available at city hall and the library for borrowing by citizens.

THE FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Napa County Welfare Director Kenneth Hotelling and his chief administrative assistant, Helen Camp, find themselves in this posed picture in Napa, draped in 45 feet of official forms that must be completed for each person under a new state old-age benefit program. Hotelling says 55 separate sheets of paper must be used for each persons, and this will total some 261 miles of forms a year in the state at the cost of nearly two million dollars. (AP Wirephoto)

'Living Experience' Trip To Mexico Set By Marinites

The idea struck Robert C. Dwyer of 501 Easterby Street, Sausalito, teacher of a special class at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera, because he planned to take his wife and his own two children to Mexico. He is familiar with the country.

Soon he had made special arrangements with a number of large families in Mazatlan, on the west coast of Mexico, aided by a Mexican friend.

The plan now is for each family to accept six or seven children and allow them to absorb first-hand all the aspects of Mexican life over a period of several weeks.

Emphasis will be on recreation. Mazatlan offers fine opportunities, says Dwyer, for such things as swimming, hiking and horseback riding.

Although the primary purpose is not travel, but experience of life at one place in Mexico, arrangements will be made for a number of short tours.

The group is expected to number about 20 to 30, from a low age limit of 10 years up into the advanced teens. If any as old as 18 enroll they will be given a chance to act as assistant supervisors. Three or four adults will be in the party.

Departing by bus June 27, the party will go by highway to Nogales and from there to Mazatlan the journey will be by Mexican train. Some of the children so far enrolled haven't ever been aboard a train, Dwyer reports.

It is expected that some of the group will remain a month, others six weeks. The first to return north will be escorted like the final party.

Dwyer will reply to queries addressed to his home.

Meeting Postponed

The regular meeting of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission, scheduled for tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Larkspur-Corte Madera school, has been postponed until March 30, it was announced today.

Teacher Aides Measure Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — School teachers would get assistants to help them correct papers under legislation passed by the Assembly 46-23 today.

Assemblyman Carley Porter (D-Compton), a former junior college professor, said his bill will mean "a return to essay writing in the schools." Some high schools have used similar programs, but the bill would permit assistants at all levels.

Porter said the reader assistants would probably be bright graduate students from nearby colleges.

Opponents said the measure would lower the quality of instruction.

GOP Claim Jobless Bill Short Of Goal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican leaders in Congress claimed today that the administration's depressed area bill would bring only "bitter disillusionment" to the jobless in regions it is designed to help.

They said House Republicans will try to amend the Senate-passed 394-million-dollar program designed to cure chronic unemployment—both to cut its total cost and revise certain provisions.

The House Republican policy committee, they said following today's House-Senate GOP legislative conference, has facts showing that:

Only about one out of 17 jobless workers in industrial depressed areas could get jobs under the bill.

Only about one out of 37 under-employed rural workers would be helped.

Only about 1 per cent of unemployed workers in both industrial and rural areas could get retraining payments.

Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen and House minority leader Charles A. Halleck joined in a statement saying they are "very disturbed" because they think the jobless have been "sadly misled" about what the bill will provide.

"We are sick and tired of seeing these unfortunate people being treated like a political football," they said.

The GOP leaders said President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958 and 1960 "sought desperately" help such areas but the Democrats were "more interested in creating campaign issues than in meeting a need."

Mid-Week Lenten Service Planned

The last in a series of mid-week Lenten services will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at Grace Lutheran Church in Novato.

The sixth word spoken by Christ on the Cross, "It is finished," will form the basis of the sermon by Rev. Arthur Koehler, pastor.

HIT BY NIGERIA

Adlai Proposes Plan 'By' Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson today called on the United Nations to work out an African development program "by, of and for the Africans." He said it should be divorced from the cold war.

His proposal immediately ran into criticism from the Nigerian minister of economic affairs, Jaja Wachuku, first African to take the floor in the General Assembly's main Political Committee where debate opened on an African aid program.

Wachuku demanded concrete proposals "that are not intended to hoodwink anybody that are not intended to mesmerize us."

Stevenson immediately replied he had suggested the initiative for an African aid program rested primarily with the Africans, and that the United States was prepared to give such a program its wholehearted support.

Instead, Stevenson said, Wachuku "has suggested that the Africans want an American program for Africa."

"Only Africans can develop Africa in the last analysis," Stevenson told the 99-nation committee.

He called attention to President John F. Kennedy's foreign aid program announced in Washington and said that the United States feels special attention should be given to assisting countries able and willing to mobilize their own resources.

Stevenson did not present a formal proposal, but was reported consulting with other delegations on a detailed plan.

He outlined two basic principles for an African aid program:

1. Contributors should be prepared to assist the new African countries in their efforts to assess their own resources as they plan programs by themselves and in contact with each other.

2. The United Nations should also recognize the need for diversification of agriculture and the expansion of industry.

GARBAGE VAN TO FILL AIR WITH MELODY

TOKYO (UPI) — Tokyo garbage trucks will cruise through the capital's streets to the tune of "Rock-a-By-Baby" after the city sanitation bureau installs loudspeakers on them April 1.

The loudspeakers are designed to replace the extra garbage collectors who traditionally walk in front of the truck and ring a handbell to announce its coming.

The sanitation department did not explain how it happened to pick "Rock-a-By-Baby" as the garbage trucks' theme song.

U.S. Would Let Russ See Older Nuclear Devices

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States said today it is willing to let Russia inspect older U.S. nuclear devices, but will not permit even a peek at its current models.

American delegate Arthur H. Dean told the three-power conference on a nuclear test ban that the U.S. government is prepared to let Russian scientists examine any nuclear device it might explode for peaceful purposes.

IN STOCKPILES

These, he explained, would be the more primitive, inefficient devices now in American nuclear stockpiles.

But Dean said, the United States is unwilling to let the Soviets look inside more up-to-date models perfected by American scientists.

Today's conference lasted 35 minutes.

AURA OF GLOOM

There was nothing to dissipate the aura of gloom that has settled over the talks, despite Western efforts to overcome Soviet objections and reach a compromise on a nuclear test ban treaty.

Observers felt that any break here would come only after a political decision is made in Moscow.

Yesterday's session lasted only 23 minutes.

These were among a half-dozen proposals made by the West when the conference reconvened Tuesday after a three-month recess.

Tsarapkin said yesterday he saw nothing new in the U.S. proposals, although the West had felt they contained concessions that would overcome Russia's main objections.

Tsarapkin also warned the United States to make France stop its nuclear tests. France is the only country now conducting atomic test explosions. The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union declared a moratorium on nuclear tests in November, 1958.

Diplocatic observers said the Soviet Union's latest obstacles —including a demand for veto power over a control commission—had virtually closed the door on chances for an agreement, but that the U.S. and British delegations would continue hammering away at the Russians.

Dean said yesterday the United States and Britain now are "ready to adopt a full ban on high altitude tests and to install the high altitude monitoring system recommended by the experts."

Councilmen Split Over Marinship

Marinship property owners, meeting last night with a committee of the Sausalito City Council, said they are in accord that the city should pay part of the cost of development of the northern end of Marinship.

The two council members were split on this. Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. agreed with the property owners, but Councilman Howard Sievers said the city should not pay any of it. He haid he would give his reasons at the council meeting Tuesday when Marinship is next discussed.

The subcommittee discussed City Engineer John L. Hunter's development plan including a survey, a map, grade establishment, sewers, storm drains and street improvements. Six property owners and representatives attended.

Thailand Youth Pays Redwood High Visit

An international chord was struck at Redwood High School this week when a 19-year-old Catholic medical student from Thailand paused in his travels to show students a display of Buddhist monk trappings and Far East relics.

Sujati Upatham, known to his English-speaking friends as Edward, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Neumeier of 102 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo. Neumeier is coordinator of publiciations for the Tamalpais Union High School District. His wife, Carol, teaches English at Redwood.

The Neumeiers met Edward in Thailand in 1956 when he studied English with a group of private students at their home in Bangkok.

Edward is en route to New York where he will enter premedical studies at Iona College under a scholarship and sponsored by the brotherhood of San Gabriel.

On his first trip away from his native land, Edward is naturally impressed with the sights he has seen by way of his plane trip via Tokyo, Vancouver, Seattle and San Francisco.

Ir. a cultured, barely audible voice, he also let it be known that two aspects of life in America, where he will remain six years, are not all that could be desired by a youth from Thailand.

They are: Food and weather.

In Thailand, he said, there are three seasons: The rainy season, the warm season and the cool season. Marin's warmest season is cooler than Thailand's cool season, according to his estimates. In short, he is cold.

Our food, especially sandwiches, he best describes as "bland." In his native land he is accustomed to a diet of rice, fish, vegatables and lots of exotic fruit. He described as "delicious," however, such dishes he has eaten at the Neumeiers as chicken in wine (with rice) and curry (with rice).

Why does he want to become a doctor?

"Because it will mean I can help many of my people," he said simply.

While in New York, Edward will be a guest of Judge Edward Kennedy of New Rochelle.

Edward said all his friends in Bangkok assume he will live with the President of the United States.

He hinted darkly that he had not told them any differently.

Help Speeds Building Of Society's Home

Rebuilding of an old home at 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, for an office and clinic for the Marin Society of Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. has been speeded by help of various kinds.

Carl Schiller of Carpenters Local 35, who is in charge of the mechanical portion of the assistance, reported help has been contributed by individuals from the Hod Carriers, Construction and General Laborers Local 291, Teamsters Local 624, Carpenters Local 35, and by a number of business firms.

Good Pupils, Background Are Linked

The good pupils produced in the widely varying school systems all over the world have one common factor: Each child comes from an intellectual home where there is an atmosphere of scholarship and respect for learning.

Members of the Marinwood Home and School Club, meeting this week, were told this by Supt. Phillip W. Schneider of the San Jose School District.

Schneider was one of three speakers in a discussion of "Blueprint for Learning—An Ideal School Program."

He noted that people in Marin came from many parts of the country and were educated in different types of schools. People used to a particular framework of learning find it difficult to adjust to new ideas, so it might be well to keep a flexible program, he said.

Joseph B. Goff, assistant superinendent of Dixie School District, said the ideal school-community relationship was one in which both can agree on what kind of citizens are wanted for the future, and can determine the role each should play.

Dr. G. Edward Rudloff, coordinator of health, physical education and recreation for Marin County schools, answered questions from the audience and tried to draw out their beliefs and ideas on American education. George Gazulis was moderator.

A nominating committee was selected to draw up a slate of officers for 1961-62. The club's carnival will be held May 27 from noon to 6 p.m., it was announced.

The club will discuss the district state loan election and candidates election April 17, the night before the elections.

MANAGER INSPECTS NEW BRANCH BANK

The new Terra Linda office of the First National Bank in San Rafael is being inspected by Glen E. Tovani, manager. The branch office, in the Terra Linda Shopping Center is expected to be completed about the middle of April, according to Al Nieri, assistant vice president. Formal opening of the bank will be held within a few days after the completion date, Nieri said. The building is being constructed by the Sarco Corp. and will be leased by the bank.

PG&E Will Build New High Voltage Line

A high voltage electric transmission line, running 9.6 miles from the Ignacio to San Rafael substations and costing $1,058,000 will be started the first week in April, George M. Henderson, Marin district manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., announced today.

The project will bring additional power farther into Marin County, Henderson said. The 110,000-volt line will be integrated with Sierra Nevada power houses and steam electric generating plants in the Bay Area, according to Henderson.

The line is scheduled for completion before next winter.

The new steel tower line will be built to carry two 110,000-volt circuits, according to Henderson, but only one will be installed this year.

San Rafael substation is now served from Ignacio substation by two 60,000-volt circuits. At San Rafael, the electric voltage is stepped down from 60,000 to 12,000 and 4,000 volts for local distribution.

Tomales Bay School Bond Chairman Named

Gibbs Lawson of Dillon Beach was appointed last night by the board of the Tomales Bay Union School District to head a citizen committee backing a $100,000 bond issue for the district.

A public informational meeting on the proposed bonds is scheduled for 8 p.m. April 12 at Tomales Elementary School.

Voters will decide April 18 whether to approve the bonds and will vote to fill five vacancies in the board of trustees. The present board is an interim group, appointed after merger of the Tomales and Marshal districts.

Lawson is operator of Lawson's Dillon Beach resort. He is chairman of the Marin County Park and Recreation Commission, a director of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs and a county director of the Redwood Empire Assn.

The bond issue will finance at least three new classrooms for the school, site purchase and other improvements. Candidates for the district board are Merle E. Lawson, Mrs. Roy Parks, Walton Burbank, Mrs. John E. Vilicich and A. L. Cunningham Jr.—one for each position open.

Meeting Canceled

No meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council was held last night because only four members appeared, director Gilbert B. Darroch said.

No Dance Class

The Southern Marin Recreation Center pre-school creative dance group, directed by Dick Ford, will not hold classes on Friday, March 31, according to Mrs. John Murphy. The 10:30 a.m.-11:45 a.m. Friday class will resume on April 7, she said.

BRUNCH BREAK TO BE STARTED AT TAM HIGH

"Brunch breaks" will be started at Tamalpais High School on April 13.

The 15-minute breaks, starting at 10:25 a.m. after the second class period, already are in effect at Tamalpais Union High School's other two schools, Redwood and Sir Francis Drake.

It seems, according to school officials, that a lot of high school students don't eat breakfast.

By noon, explained Charles Crawford, Tam high recreation director, the breakfastless students feel considerable fatigue. Gnawing pangs of hunger cut down their efficiency in forenoon classes.

Besides, the morning break will cut down on the noon rush at the snack bar, school officials feel. Also, they hope it will stop the practice of trying to sneak an apple or a sandwich during class.

Crocker-Anglo Bank announces

INSTANT INTEREST

Right from the moment of deposit, your savings start to earn interest. And with this new plan, they'll grow faster than ever!

Starting April 1, some happy new rules governing regular savings accounts go into effect at all offices of Crocker-Anglo National Bank. They mean your savings can go to work for you immediately, at any time. And under these new rules your savings will actually grow faster due to accelerated compound interest. Here's how our new "instant interest" system works:

1. Your savings earn interest every day. Savings deposits will earn interest from the date of deposit, computed on the daily balance of the account, provided that the account remains open at the end of the then current quarterly interest period.

2. You get a 10-day bonus period every month. Savings deposits received on or before the tenth calendar day of any month will earn interest from the first of that month.

3. You're paid more frequently. Interest will be paid or compounded quarterly, as of March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31.

4. You get extra grace periods. During the last three business days of any quarter you may withdraw without loss of interest on the amount withdrawn.

Even small savings accounts benefit (balances of more than $25 will earn interest) and there is no maximum limit on the amount you may keep on deposit. Interest will continue to be paid at 3% per annum—highest rate permitted by Federal Reserve regulations. Save now!

Probe Us, John Birch Head Asks

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI)—Robert Welch, founder and head of the John Birch Society, demanded last night that the conservative anti-Communist society be investigated by the California state Senate's Un-American Activities Committee.

He made the demand to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who on Tuesday had asked Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk to give him a report on the organization, which has come under considerable criticism in the state.

A spokesman for the legislative committee said it had no plans to make an investigation of the organization. Its chairman, Sen. Hugh M. Burns, said the committee had been watching society activities for several weeks but had discovered no irregularities.

Welch's telegram said: "We respectfully and, in view of statements made to press by officials of your state, we urgently demand the proposed investigation of the John Birch Society by the California state Senate Un-American Activities Committee. A dozen or a hundred or a thousand of our members in California will gladly testify and we can assure you that, unlike our Communist enemies, none of our members will take the Fifth Amendment."

A resolution to denounce the society for Welch's statement that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was a Communist agent was introduced in the state Assembly yesterday by Assemblyman John A. O'Connell, a Democrat.

The Welch statement was made in a letter written before the founding of the society. O'Connell's resolution that the Assembly "denounce the divisive, coercive and un-American activities employed by the John Birch Society and its adherents" was referred to the rules committee for later hearing.

CAPTURED—James George Economou, 40, a San Quentin Prison camp escapee who last October was listed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as one of its 10 most wanted men, was captured without gunplay in a Los Angeles hotel yesterday by FBI agents. Economou, a three-time loser, escaped April 23, 1958, from a prison crew working in a Northern California forest. He was serving a sentence for armed robbery in San Francisco.

Hub Controller Ill, In Hospital

Mrs. Anne Grant, controller in San Anselmo for about 18 years, is ill at Ross General Hospital and may be away from her job for two or three weeks, City Clerk Anita M. Gannon said today.

Mrs. Grant entered the hospital Sunday. Nurses at the hospital reported she is "doing very nicely."

The nature of the illness was not disclosed. The city clerk said Mrs. Grant "probably needs rest."

City Administrator Douglas Flautt is interviewing applicants to handle the city's books while Mrs. Grant is away.

REP. MILLER REPORTS

Social Security Insurance Bill Aims At Daily Lives Of All Of Us

By REP. CLEMENT W. MILLER

WASHINGTON—A bill that will directly affect the daily lives of millions—immediately, millions of older men and women—is now before Congress.

It is identified as H. R. 4571, concerning improvements in social security insurance.

The bill represents President John F. Kennedy's program for liberalizing five social security benefits and eligibility requirements.

When the President recommended the five-point program to the Congress he said we should not permit benefits of retired workers and their families to lag behind rises in living costs. "We cannot, he said, "decently exclude our older people from the general advances in standards of living enjoyed by employed workers."

He urged early enactment because, besides helping aged persons to adjust to price increases, the additional purchasing power would be a valuable boost to our economy.

The sponsor of H. R. 4571 is Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

1. Increase minimum monthly benefit for retired workers from the present $33 to $43.

2. Give men an option to begin receiving retirement benefits at age 62, instead of 65 as is now the case. Benefits to those who do retire early would be permanently reduced on an actuarial basis. The early retirement option is now available to women on an actuarially reduced basis.

3. Increase aged widows' benefits from 75 per cent to 85 per cent of the husband's benefit amount.

4. Broaden disability insurance protection to provide benefits after a worker has been totally disabled for six months. Now, disability benefits are available only if the disabled worker's condition is expected to result in death or to last for a long and indefinite period.

5. Liberalize the insured-status requirement. Now, a person can receive benefits only if before retirement he worked at jobs covered by social security for one out of every three quarters since 1950. The bill would reduce this to one quarter out of every four.

This is only fair to our present generation of older people. It brings their eligibility into line with what the present law contemplates for future generations: at least 10 working years on covered jobs out of a working life of about 40 years.

All five improvements can be financed by addition of one-fourth of 1 per cent each to the employer's and empoyee's contributions, and three-eighths of 1 per cent on the self-employed, beginning at the next scheduled increase on Jan. 1, 1963.

I believe that each of the five proposals is justified in equity and decency and I support them. Further, I believe we should liberalize the "earnings test"—the amount retired persons can earn by working and still receive social security benefits.

Probe Us, John Birch Head Asks

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI)—Robert Welch, founder and head of the John Birch Society, demanded last night that the conservative anti-Communist society be investigated by the California state Senate's Un-American Activities Committee.

He made the demand to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who on Tuesday had asked Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk to give him a report on the organization, which has come under considerable criticism in the state.

A spokesman for the legislative committee said it had no plans to make an investigation of the organization. Its chairman, Sen. Hugh M. Burns, said the committee had been watching society activities for several weeks but had discovered no irregularities.

Welch's telegram said: "We respectfully and, in view of statements made to press by officials of your state, we urgently demand the proposed investigation of the John Birch Society by the California state Senate Un-American Activities Committee. A dozen or a hundred or a thousand of our members in California will gladly testify and we can assure you that, unlike our Communist enemies, none of our members will take the Fifth Amendment."

A resolution to denounce the society for Welch's statement that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was a Communist agent was introduced in the state Assembly yesterday by Assemblyman John A. O'Connell, a Democrat.

The Welch statement was made in a letter written before the founding of the society. O'Connell's resolution that the Assembly "denounce the divisive, coercive and un-American activities employed by the John Birch Society and its adherents" was referred to the rules committee for later hearing.

CAPTURED—James George Economou, 40, a San Quentin Prison camp escapee who last October was listed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as one of its 10 most wanted men, was captured without gunplay in a Los Angeles hotel yesterday by FBI agents. Economou, a three-time loser, escaped April 23, 1958, from a prison crew working in a Northern California forest. He was serving a sentence for armed robbery in San Francisco. (AP Wirephoto)

Hub Controller Ill, In Hospital

Mrs. Anne Grant, controller in San Anselmo for about 18 years, is ill at Ross General Hospital and may be away from her job for two or three weeks, City Clerk Anita M. Gannon said today.

Mrs. Grant entered the hospital Sunday. Nurses at the hospital reported she is "doing very nicely."

The nature of the illness was not disclosed. The city clerk said Mrs. Grant "probably needs rest."

City Administrator Douglas Flautt is interviewing applicants to handle the city's books while Mrs. Grant is away.

REP. MILLER REPORTS

Social Security Insurance Bill Aims At Daily Lives Of All Of Us

By REP. CLEMENT W. MILLER

WASHINGTON—A bill that will directly affect the daily lives of millions—immediately, millions of older men and women—is now before Congress.

It is identified as H. R. 4571, concerning improvements in social security insurance.

The bill represents President John F. Kennedy's program for liberalizing five social security benefits and eligibility requirements.

When the President recommended the five-point program to the Congress he said we should not permit benefits of retired workers and their families to lag behind rises in living costs. "We cannot, he said, "decently exclude our older people from the general advances in standards of living enjoyed by employed workers."

He urged early enactment because, besides helping aged persons to adjust to price increases, the additional purchasing power would be a valuable boost to our economy.

The sponsor of H. R. 4571 is Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

1. Increase minimum monthly benefit for retired workers from the present $33 to $43.

2. Give men an option to begin receiving retirement benefits at age 62, instead of 65 as is now the case. Benefits to those who do retire early would be permanently reduced on an actuarial basis. The early retirement option is now available to women on an actuarially reduced basis.

3. Increase aged widows' benefits from 75 per cent to 85 per cent of the husband's benefit amount.

4. Broaden disability insurance protection to provide benefits after a worker has been totally disabled for six months. Now, disability benefits are available only if the disabled worker's condition is expected to result in death or to last for a long and indefinite period.

5. Liberalize the insured-status requirement. Now, a person can receive benefits only if before retirement he worked at jobs covered by social security for one out of every three quarters since 1950. The bill would reduce this to one quarter out of every four.

This is only fair to our present generation of older people. It brings their eligibility into line with what the present law contemplates for future generations: at least 10 working years on covered jobs out of a working life of about 40 years.

By HARRY CRAFT

Mel J. London, Ross, To Greet General Contractors Meeting

When several hundred Northern and Central California general contractors and their wives take over Monterey April 20 to 22, Mel J. London of Laurel Grove Avenue, Ross, will be there to greet them.

London, vice president of marketing for Calaveras Cement Co. is scheduled as chairman of reception and hospitality for the annual spring conference of the Northern and Central California chapter of the Associated Contractors of America. The convention will be headquartered at Casa Munras.

The three-day program includes a performance of Ethel Waters, golf and bowling tournaments.

He builds swimming pools.

With an eye for potential spring dunkers, the company established a special season price, effective Saturday. Complete installation, including 15 by 30 feet of immersion, filtering system, heater, diving board, underwater light and full maintenance accessories has been set at $2,895 with five years to pay.

The firm is pushing its merchandising program in Marin.

Casper's equipment kit for a 12-by-28-foot rectangular pool four feet deep will need only a hammer, pair of pliers, screwdriver, saw and eight hours of labor for two men to assemble it, he says, and includes a standard pump and filter.

The pool is designed to be erected above ground on a concrete base (your cement patio will do if it's big enough). Materials consist of two by eight-inch redwood for the shell, fastened top and bottom by aluminum stringers, and lined inside with 20-gauge aluminum sheeting. Innermost lining is made of 20-gauge vinyl, shaped to size.

While construction is above ground, if it is necessary to build the concrete base this can be scooped out at one end to give more depth and a larger vinyl lining inserted.

At the end of the season the whole thing can be dismantled and stored.

Casper thinks the rectangular shape will be more popular than circular types and intends to put up a 16-foot-by-36-foot pool in Lagunitas in about two weeks. Cost of the larger size will be $1,695.

Concreae slab, decking around the top and stairs are extras which would possibly run the home worker another $100.

TRENDS: Furniture stores plan to concentrate on early American, modern and Italian classic designs this spring . . . There's a tendency of some supermarkets which have taken on the appearance of the old-time general store to level off on their non-food items and return to more meat and vegetables—particularly in concentrated shopping centers . . . New car sales which lagged behind early this year could rise sharply within the next few weeks.

IMPORTED and sports car owners may want to attend the Fremont Touring Club gymkhana Sunday at the Alameda County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton, scheduled to run rain or shine from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Contestants will be charged $3 and placed in 11 classes, including two for women.

Spectators will be admitted free.

LAOS GEOGRAPHY—At No. 1, Hong Kong, U.S. carrier and two destroyers steamed out. At 2, in Laos, pro-Communist rebels were at Vang Vieng, near Vientiane. At 3, Nudorn, Thailand, U.S. Marines set up helicopter maintenance station. At 4, Bangkok, Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military leaders met.

Truck Flips; Smooth Tires

Smooth tires were blamed for a truck overturn which injured a 15-year-old Novato boy near the new Nicasio Reservoir last night.

Richard Michael Baraco, 17-year-old Novato High School student of 1440 Cambridge Street, Novato, was driving a pickup truck with four boy passengers north on the Point Reyes-Petaluma highway on his way home at 9:45 p.m., just after heavy rain.

As he rounded a curve .4 of a mile south of the San Geronimo-Nicasio road, the truck fishtailed, then broadsided, hit the curb and overturned. Three of the youths on the rear truckbed were thrown out and Donald James Pearazzini of 1450 Buchanan Street, Novato, reported he was hurt but said he would see his own doctor.

alerted for movement on a precautionary basis, although STRAC itself denied there was any special alert.

Usually well-informed diplomats reported that if Khrushchev does not respond favorably to the latest Western-initiated diplomatic solution in Laos, the Kennedy administration will ask the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to intervene to prevent the country from being taken over by the Communists.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk prepared to leave late tonight for Bangkok, Thailand, where on Monday he will meet with SEATO foreign ministers.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said yesterday, following a conference with Rusk and Director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency, that the United States "is not in a mood to meekly permit" Laos "to be gobbled up by an armed minority supported from the outside."

HOUSING

Besides calling for the months delay, the council voted that:

1. Tenants should be allowed to build part of their own homes to reduce costs.

2. Investigation should be launched of reducing lot sizes for the lower cost houses.

3. Rep. Clement W. Miller should be asked to request President John F. Kennedy to speed up a program for long-term financing, low-cost homes.

Raymond Williams, who said he represented more than 30 veterans in Marin City, drew applause with a suggestion to "wire Congress and even the president to stall and delay this" contract.

Attorney Ryan opened the meeting, reciting figures showing inadequate number and high cost of the proposed housing units.

He said only 87 of the 246 families on which the redevelopment agency has financial information will be able to qualify for housing under the program. Of these, only 57 can qualify for a two-bedroom house or three-bedroom cooperative apartment and only 22 for a three-bedroom house, he said.

Ryan gave cost of a three-bedroom house at $142 a month, a three-bedroom apartment at $128, a two-bedroom house at $130 and a two-bedroom apartment at $118 or $119.

He said 116 Marin City families (including 48 single persons) making under $5,400 per year could qualify for none of the Scheuer housing.

Farley said there are 319 families awaiting housing, of whom 20 families want to go into the low-rent housing and 18 families have incomes over $8,400 and "will probably want to buy homes more expensive than the ones in the contract."

Fifty-two families moved out last year and "we suppose 30 will move out this year and next," said Farley.

"This is what is described as relocation by disappearance," interjected Ryan.

"We have not evicted a single family other than those who did not pay rent or for reasons of immoral conduct," declared Farley.

"Or by forcing them into the mudflats!" added Hardy Westmore of the tenants council.

Farley said that, on the basis of those not eligible and those expected to leave, 204 units will be ample for relocation.

Westmore, taking strong issue with this, declared: "This will be a bigger land grab than the purchase of Louisiana. Why kid ourselves? They tell us, 'we want to uplift you.' . . . We don't appreciate living the way we're living. . . If the urban renewal program can't take care of the people, it should be scrapped."

"None of us who live down here in mudville can afford this," declared Skyral Sweeney. "There are houses in San Rafael, according to the Independent-Journal, with swimming pools that won't rent any higher than these here. If that's the best Scheuer can do, I think we can't use Mr. Scheuer."

"I don't think you will find another contractor who will do it any cheaper," said Farley.

Director James Quiett said the cooperate contract includes $500 for closing costs, and that he has never seen these higher than $300 in the Bay Area.

Transit Board Says Bridge Use Urgent

Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District learned officially today that it is "feasible and practicable" to add rapid transit to the Golden Gate Bridge—and immediately asked the bridge directors for permission to do so.

The transit directors passed a resolution expressing "urgent desire" for the bridge district to "approve the placement of rapid transit facilities on the Golden Gate Bridge."

They requested the bridge district to designate representatives to meet with transit officials "for the purpose of reaching an accord" and requested a date for conferences on the project.

The transit directors acted after hearing the official report of C. H. Gronquist of New York, a consulting engineer whose firm has been studying transit on the bridge for the past year and a half.

Gronquist told them that studies and air tunnel tests on a scale model of a section of the bridge proved, it is feasible and practicable to add the rapid transit tracks on a lower deck. He said cost of altering the bridge would be nine million dollars and that it could be accomplished in about 18 months of construction with little or no interference with vehicle traffic across the span.

However, to compensate for the added weight, he recommended replacement of the concrete sidewalks across the bridge with ¾ inch grills and replacement of the present hand rail along the sides of the bridge with a differently designed pipe railing.

With these modifications, the added weight of the rapid transit system would be well within safety limits of the bridge and would actually improve its safety in high winds, Gronquist declared.

Trains crossing the span however would be required to run at 30 miles per hour, taking two and one-half minutes to cross the bridge and thus setting a two and one-half minute interval as the fastest service which rapid transit trains could give to Marin County. Other sections of the system are being designed for a minimum 90-second headway.

After Gronquist's presentation, Bridge District President Matt Graham of Marin, introduced Director Ben Lerer of San Francisco, chairman of the bridge district's rapid transit committee. Lerer declared the bridge board has "felt the vital urgency to provide a rapid transit system for the Bay Area."

Lerer said the bridge district will "continue to cooperate" and "we know that time is of the essence."

Lerer noted that the bridge board meets next week and that he will call a rapid transit committee meeting before that time.

Clemency Hearing Set For Slayer

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced today he will hold a clemency hearing Tuesday for Erwin M. Walker, who is seeking commutation of his death sentence for the slaying of a highway patrolman.

Walker has been under psychiatric care since the eve of his scheduled execution in 1949. However, he was declared sane earlier this month by Marin County Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating.

The convict sought the sanity hearing in a deliberate gamble with death. He preferred San Quentin Prison's Death Row—and a chance for commutation—to life in an institution for the insane.

California's food processing and packing industry handles about one-third of the national total production.

Girl Missing From Home

A 15-year-old Tamalpais High School girl has been missing from her home since yesterday, her mother notified the sheriff last night.

The girl is Carol Lee Falvey Willat, of 12 Sky Road, Mill Valley. She is 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighs 128 pounds, and has hazel eyes and brown hair. She was wearing a yellow sweater and black skirt when she left for school yesterday morning.

Her mother, Edith Falvey Willat, told Sheriff's Deputy William N. McKillop that her daughter had called up last night that she would have to stay after school. McKillop learned that the girl had called from a San Francisco service station and was last seen headed for the Mission Street area.

School Plans Jazz Fete

Jazz takes over at Lynwood School in Novato tonight when 120 students will sing, dance and make music at a jazz festival.

The show will include a singing-dancing production of the song "Buttons and Bows," and five original songs by show director Frederick Baguio, third grade teacher at the school.

Sixth grader Robby Cline will sing a jazz number by Baguio. Steven Williams, in the sixth grade, will bring out his dummy for a ventriloquist act, as a change from the musical numbers.

James Sparks, fifth grade, will do a take-off on Elvis Presley. The show will include two Hawaiian numbers, spirituals, jazz dances and music.

The show goes on at 7:30 p.m. at the school's multi-purpose room in the San Jose district. It is open to the public.

Teacher Nancy Miller is assistant director. Mrs. Loren Terzich and Pearl Yee, both teachers, designed and helped make the costumes.

BIRTHDAY

ty Industrial Development Foundation will sponsor an I-J birthday party, honoring "one of Marin's oldest industries." Reservations for the event are limited to 230; more than half are already filled.

The Independent-Journal will observe "open house" Friday, April 7, from 7 to 9 p.m. with conducted tours through the plant at 1040 B Street, San Rafael.

Old Trinity Church near Cambridge, Md., was built about 1680.

Deer Shatters Windows, Runs Through House

Mrs. Chris Blom "thought it was an earthquake" when a big buck deer jumped through a picture window of her home at 69 Rock Road in Kent Woodlands yesterday.

She was in the bathroom when she heard a thump and the crash of breaking glass, Mrs. Blom related today. She dashed into the front room. There in the entry hall stood the deer, bleeding profusely.

"Glass was all over the floor," said Mrs. Blom

"I just stood there — what would you do if you found a deer in your house?"

The frightened deer circled the room, tried a couple of windows, then leaped out through another large plate glass window and vanished among the trees.

Besides leaving a litter of glass and two shattered windows, the animal bled "all over the rugs and furniture," said Mrs. Blom.

Her husband was away at work in San Francisco. "Don't call the police," he told his wife when she telephoned to tell him what had happened. "Don't let it get into the newspapers."

But Mrs. Blom had to call the insurance company, the glass company and the rug cleaners, and . . . well, you just can't keep it quiet when a deer invades your home in Kent Woodlands.

No Changes Due School Grading Plan

No immediate change will be made in the policies of report cards and grading for Bolinas and Stinson Beach schools, the Bolinas-Stinson Beach interim school board decided last night.

Grading used is A, B, C, D, F from fourth through eighth grades. The first, second and third grades uses "O" for outstanding, "S" for satisfactory and "N" for needs improvement.

"These grading systems seem to have held up to this point as far as parents and students are concerned," chairman Arthur E. Carpenter said.

It was decided not to have parent-teacher conferences at the time report cards come out since it is such a small school system that parents can contact teachers and vice versa if consultation is needed, Carpenter said.

The two individual boards will meet April 12 at Stinson Beach School.

OBITUARIES

Ex-Marinite Dies At 88

Mrs. Eliza Hendersen, 88, a former resident of San Rafael for seven years, died unexpectedly Saturday in a Petaluma hospital.

With her late husband, William Hendersen, she came across the plains from her native Minnesota in a covered wagon. The couple settled in Boise, Idaho, where they lived for many years.

Later they moved to Los Angeles where Hendersen died in 1931.

Mrs. Hendersen formerly lived at 200 Shaver Street. She moved to Fairfax to live with her daughter, Mrs. Irene Moreci, for a year. Five months ago she moved to Cotati with her granddaughter.

Also surviving are a son, Frank James O'Brien in San Rafael, a grandson; a great-grandchild and a brother in Idaho.

Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Los Angeles.

STELLA WISHARD

Funeral services for Mrs. Stella Wishard of Los Angeles, sister-in-law of Independent-Journal publisher Roy A. Brown, will be held in Glendale Forest Lawn tomorrow at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Wishard, a teacher at Kent School in Kentfield some years ago, died Tuesday in a Los Angeles hospital after a long illness.

Sausalito Asked To Bar Hotels In Plan

"Sausalito's two-lane horse and buggy streets are not suitable for the 1961 concept of hotel building," Chairman Gilbert P. Murphy told the Sausalito Planning Commission last night.

The commission recommended to the city council that hotels be eliminated from the city's interim zoning ordinance.

The commission feels, said Murphy, that a comprehensive study must be made to find what areas might be suited for hotels. Present hotel zoning is mostly on hillside two-lane and even one lane streets, he declared.

Murphy said the proposed changes would in no way affect the request for a use permit from Douglas Lange Corp. of Berkeley to build a 49-room hotel on Bridgeway near the Village Fair. That is in a commercial zone.

The commission approved and recommended to the city council the minority report of the Sausalito Citizens Central Waterfront Plan Committee which suggests a civic center near the Bank of America on a portion of the sandspit. The commission also reaffirmed its stand that private building activities in that area be curtailed (A building permit has been revoked by the city council for J. Herb Madden to build a dock on the south side of the sandspit.)

Commissioners set the second Wednesday of each month as a regular meeting date when current applications will be considered and the fourth Wednesday as a straight planning session.

Norman Murdoch, appointed to the commission by the city council last week, attended his first session as commissioner.

Truck Flips; Smooth Tires

Smooth tires were blamed for a truck overturn which injured a 15-year-old Novato boy near the new Nicasio Reservoir last night.

Richard Michael Baraco, 17-year-old Novato High School student of 1440 Cambridge Street, Novato, was driving a pickup truck with four boy passengers north on the Point Reyes-Petaluma highway on his way home at 9:45 p.m., just after heavy rain.

As he rounded a curve .4 of a mile south of the San Geronimo-Nicasio road, the truck fishtailed, then broadsided, hit the curb and overturned. Three of the youths on the rear truckbed were thrown out and Donald James Pearazzini of 1450 Buchanan Street, Novato, reported he was hurt but said he would see his own doctor.

Usually well-informed diplomats reported that if Khrushchev does not respond favorably to the latest Western-initiated diplomatic solution in Laos, the Kennedy administration will ask the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to intervene to prevent the country from being taken over by the Communists.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk prepared to leave late tonight for Bangkok, Thailand, where on Monday he will meet with SEATO foreign ministers.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said yesterday, following a conference with Rusk and Director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency, that the United States "is not in a mood to meekly permit" Laos "to be gobbled up by an armed minority supported from the outside."

HOUSING

agement of the proposed housing.

Besides calling for the months delay, the council voted that:

1. Tenants should be allowed to build part of their own homes to reduce costs.

2. Investigation should be launched of reducing lot sizes for the lower cost houses.

3. Rep. Clement W. Miller should be asked to request President John F. Kennedy to speed up a program for long-term financing, low-cost homes.

Raymond Williams, who said he represented more than 30 veterans in Marin City, drew applause with a suggestion to "wire Congress and even the president to stall and delay this" contract.

Attorney Ryan opened the meeting, reciting figures showing inadequate number and high cost of the proposed housing units.

He said only 87 of the 246 families on which the redevelopment agency has financial information will be able to qualify for housing under the program. Of these, only 57 can qualify for a two-bedroom house or three-bedroom cooperative apartment and only 22 for a three-bedroom house, he said.

Ryan gave cost of a three-bedroom house at $142 a month, a three-bedroom apartment at $128, a two-bedroom house at $130 and a two-bedroom apartment at $118 or $119.

He said 116 Marin City families (including 48 single persons) making under $5,400 per year could qualify for none of the Scheuer housing.

Farley said there are 319 families awaiting housing, of whom 20 families want to go into the low-rent housing and 18 families have incomes over $8,400 and "will probably want to buy homes more expensive than the ones in the contract."

Fifty-two families moved out last year and "we suppose 30 will move out this year and next," said Farley.

Sausalito Asked To Bar Hotels In Plan

"Sausalito's two-lane horse and buggy streets are not suitable for the 1961 concept of hotel building," Chairman Gilbert P. Murphy told the Sausalito Planning Commission last night.

The commission recommended to the city council that hotels be eliminated from the city's interim zoning ordinance.

The commission feels, said Murphy, that a comprehensive study must be made to find what areas might be suited for hotels. Present hotel zoning is mostly on hillside two-lane and even one lane streets, he declared.

Murphy said the proposed changes would in no way affect the request for a use permit from Douglas Lange Corp. of Berkeley to build a 49-room hotel on Bridgeway near the Village Fair. That is in a commercial zone.

The commission approved and recommended to the city council the minority report of the Sausalito Citizens Central Waterfront Plan Committee which suggests a civic center near the Bank of America on a portion of the sandspit. The commission also reaffirmed its stand that private building activities in that area be curtailed (A building permit has been revoked by the city council for J. Herb Madden to build a dock on the south side of the sandspit.)

Commissioners set the second Wednesday of each month as a regular meeting date when current applications will be considered and the fourth Wednesday as a straight planning session.

Norman Murdoch, appointed to the commission by the city council last week, attended his first session as commissioner.

Bud Wilkinson Named U.S. Fitness Chief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today named University of Oklahoma football coach Charles B. (Bud) Wilkinson to head up a national youth fitness program.

The appointment was announced after Kennedy met with Wilkinson at the White House.

Wilkinson, who is athletic director as well as football coach at Oklahoma, will be Kennedys special consultant on youth fitness.

The White House said Wilkinson will start immediately to confer with both government agencies and private organizations and groups to formulate a program.

The 44-year-old coach will serve without pay for an indefinite period, the White House said.

The announcement added that Wilkinson "will fulfill his coaching duties at Oklahoma during spring training and the fall football season."

Wilkinson, a native of Minneapolis, is a 1937 graduate of the University of Minnesota. He received his Master of Arts degree from the University of Syracuse in 1941.

Wilkinson was in the Navy in World War II as a hangar deck officer on the aircraft carrier Enterprise. He saw action in the battles of Iwo Jima, Tokyo and Okinawa.

His Oklahoma football teams have consistently ranked high in the national ratings. In 1949, Wilkinson was named coach of the year.

He has been head football coach and director of athletics at Oklahoma for 14 years.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger described Kennedy as greatly pleased that Wilkinson had accepted the assignment "in a vital field of our national life."

Wilkinson said he planned to seek the support of existing youth groups such as Boy Scouts and the Campfire Girls in developing a general program to improve youth fitness.

"The major problem," he said, "is the general acceptance on the part of the public to see their children physically fit." He stressed that physical fitness is the foundation for moral fitness.

New Mantle Much Like Old Mantle

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The new Mickey Mantle looks suspiciously like the old Mickey Mantle.

And just in case there's any doubt about it, that's awfully bad news for American League pitchers. You don't hear much talk any more around the Grapefruit Circuit about Mantle's "DiMaggio-like" leadership qualities—remember two weeks ago how Mickey was going to develop into a quiet leader?—But you sure do hear about his Ruthian wallops.

Mantle unloaded a pair of 'em yesterday and the second, coming in the ninth inning, produced a 14-11 victory for the New York Yankees over the Milwaukee Braves. Mantle, who belted his first homer of the game off Warren Spahn, drove in six runs in all and raised his spring batting average to .483. He's hit four homers.

PRIATES WIN

Bob Friend and Elroy Face combined in a five-hitter to pitch the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates to a 10-1 win over the Chicago White Sox. Friend pitched seven innings, yielding the five hits and Chicago's run, and then Face pitched hitless and runless ball the last two innings.

Robin Roberts and Jim Bunning each turned in a strong performance in the Philadelphia Phillies' 7-1 win over the Detroit Tigers. Roberts allowed only one hit in three innings and now has pitched 10 consecutive scoreless innings this spring. Bunning became the first Detroit pitcher to go seven innings and three of the five runs he allowed were unearned. Pancho Herrera and Johnny Callison homered for the Phillies.

ANTONELLI SHARP

Dick Ellsworth yielded one unearned run and three hits in seven innings as the Chicago Cubs shaded the Cleveland Indians, 2-1. Ernie Banks walked and scored on Ron Santo's double in the ninth inning to provide the Cubs with the winning run. Johnny Antonelli continued his fine showing for the Indians, allowing one run and six hits in six innings.

Relief ace Lindy McDaniel did his specialty for the St. Louis Cardinals to preserve a 5-3 victory that snapped the Kansas City Athletics' three-game winning streak. McDaniel went the last three innings, yielding an unearned run. Bill White and Don Landrum had three hits each for the Cardinals.

Larry Sherry's three innings of shutout relief were rewarded with a victory when pinch-hitter Jim Gilliam's ninth inning single enabled the Los Angeles Dodgers to beat the Minnesota Twins, 3-2. Sherry followed Johnny Podres, who allowed seven hits.

GIANT TICKET ADVANCE OFF 10 PER CENT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants' advance ticket sales are off about 10 per cent this year, but the total is still more than twice as much as the Giants ever sold in advance in New York.

Ticket manager Peter Hoffman said the Giants have sold about $2 million worth of tickets for 1961.

Hoffman said the Giants have never had any financial regrets about leaving New York after the 1957 season.

The Giants, who finished fifth in the National League last year, drew 1,795,356 paid admissions. The New York Yankees, champs of the American League, drew 1,627,349 in 1960 in Yankee Stadium.

NCAA

Utah Faces Cincinnati In Opener

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Jack Gardner, a hard and persistent campaigner for basketball championships, has hopes this is the year his University of Utah Redskins will win the National Collegiate crown.

Utah, ranked 11th nationally on a 23-6 record, will oppose the No. 2 Cincinnati Bearcats (25-3) in the semi-finals of the NCAA tournament tomorrow night.

The top-ranked, undefeated Ohio State Buckeyes (26-0) and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (24-4) tangle in the semi-final opener. The championship will be decided Saturday night.

"We've had what appeared to be stronger clubs at the start of the season," Gardner said, "but these kids have worked harder and better as a unit and have shown more desire and improvement than any team I've coached."

This is Gardner's fifth NCAA tournament team in eight seasons at Utah. None of the other four entries got past the second round.

PREP TOURNEY OPENS AT S.R. PARK FRIDAY

Marin County Athletic League's second annual baseball tournament, testing ground for the forthcoming round-robin schedule, opens tomorrow with a triple-header on the agenda at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Opening round pairings match Marin Catholic vs. Redwood at 4 p.m., Drake vs. San Rafael at 6 and Tamalpais vs. Novato at 8 o'clock.

Four games are scheduled for Saturday at 12 noon, 2, 4 and 8 p.m., according to Redwood, host of the tournament.

Under a complicated tournament system, the three losers of tomorrow's games will "flip a coin" and the "odd man" will advance to the winners' bracket for Saturday's games. The lucky team will join the winners of tomorrow's three games in semi-finals scheduled at noon and 2 p.m. Saturday. Semi-finals winners will play for the title at 8 p.m. Saturday, following a consolation game at 4 p.m. that day.

The complicated tournament system also provides this situation:

If the winner of the coin toss tomorrow goes on to win the semi-final and final games Saturday, it must play still another game Monday night against the team it beats in the Saturday finals.

Confused? So are we!

Indian Valley Golf

Following are results of Tuesday's "T and F" golf tournament played by women of the Indian Valley Golf Club in Novato:

8 Hamilton Boxers In Golden Gloves Finals

With 8 finalists in the 10 divisions, Hamilton Air Force Base's boxing team is expected to reap a good share of the glory tomorrow night in the Golden Gloves Championships at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium.

Leading the Hamilton team will be defending champion Ralph McCoy in the 174-pound division. He'll slug it out with knockout specialist Charles Brown of San Jose in what shapes up as a Donnybrook.

McCoy won the title last year by outpointing fellow Hamiltonian Dean Harrison. Since then Harrison has moved up to the 156-pound division and will fight in the finals tomorrow night against Jimmy Rebeadeu.

Making is debut in the amateur classic will be Hamilton's hard-hitting light heavyweight champ Fred Lewis, winner of the Air Force World Wide title. His opponent will be 178-pounder Frank Betts of Vallejo.

Hamilton's heavyweight representative will be Clure Foster who gained his way into the finals via a default. Foster will take on Oakland's Bob Tanner.

In lighter divisions Hamilton will send 119-pounder Arthur Jones against Clarence DeLouis of Hayward; Alfred Pena, 125, against Ron Nichols of San Jose; Clemon Maddox, 132, against Larry Mitchell of San Francisco; and George Leach, 139, vs. Mario Villamor of Stockton.

St. Louis Evens Playoff Series In Pro Basketball

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks and the Los Angeles Lakers, perennial foes in this business of pro basketball playoffs, seem headed for a repeat of last year's seven-game series.

The Hawks evened up the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division playoffs at one game apiece last night with a 121-106 decision over the Lakers.

The Eastern Division playoffs between the Syracuse Nationals and the Boston Celtics are tied up at 1-1, also. The two Eastern clubs had a day off yesterday, but get back to the boards tonight in Boston. The Hawks and Lakers pick up where they left off tomorrow night in Los Angeles.

Stonebraker Winner In Squash Tournament

T/Sgt. Bill Stonebraker was declared squash champion of Hamilton Air Force Base after scoring an upset victory over Capt. Bill Murphy of the U.S. Navy in the finals.

Stonebraker had some heavy going against Col. James Roberts in the semi-finals, but came through to win a close match. Murphy is a Navy laision officer at Hamilton.

Rookies May Solve Giants' Relief Woes

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Two young rookie right-handers may be the answer to the San Francisco Giants' bullpen problems.

The Los Angeles Angels beat the Giants 5-3 yesterday on a three-run homer by Gene Leek, the Angels' sharp rookie shortstop.

The big blast and all five runs came off young Juan Marichal.

But Manager Al Dark of the Giants found solace in the work of Bobby Bolin and Jim Duffalo, who finished up for Marichal after the Angels' five-run fifth.

Bolin, 22, who was 10-4 in the Texas League last year, came on in the sixth and was greeted by singles by Steve Bilko and Ken Hunt. Bolin then got three straight Angels—Albie Pearson, Del Rice and Ted Kluszewski—to pop to third baseman Harvey Kuenn.

HITLESS RELIEF

Bolin went out for a pinch hitter and Duffalo came on for the final two innings. Duffalo, 24, who was 16-5 at Springfield last year, put the Angels down without a hit and struck out three of 'em.

In eight innings with the Giants this spring, the slim Duffalo has allowed but six hits and one run, while chalking up six strikeouts.

Dark said Bolin and Duffalo would both be around after the squad is trimmed this Saturday.

The Giant offense yesterday was limited to seven singles, two by Felipe Alou.

The happiest guy around was Bill Rigney, whom the Giants fired in midseason last year. The Angels, now managed by Rigney, registered their first victory over a big league first string club when they beat the Giants and the skinny fellow from Walnut Creek was jubilant.

Novato High Bows To Napans, 5 To 1

Napa High School defeated Novato 5-1 yesterday in a practice baseball game called at the end of six innings because of darkness.

Novato's only run came in the third inning when Don Scribner drove home Joe Colfer who was on via a fielder's choice and stolen base.

Mays Realizes He Has A New Rival For Attention In Harvey Kuenn

HANLEY

PALM SPRINGS—Willie Mays has a new rival. A friendly one, to be sure, but nevertheless a rival in Harvey Kuenn.

Mays knows this better than anyone else. He sensed it and saw it the first day Kuenn reported in camp. That was Monday, Feb. 27, when all hands signed in for the 1961 season.

Mays sensed the threat to his No. 1 position as the Giant kingping when Kuenn stepped on the field for the first time in a Giant uniform that bore the same No. 7 he always has worn as a player. A rumble of recognition from the stands could be heard for the ace from the American League.

Mays then saw the threat to his unique position with the Giants, one that he has held since 1954 when he returned from two years military service and began dazzling feats with both bat and glove.

Mays saw the threat when he and Kuenn began playing catch behind the batting cage. Normally, in such a situation, Mays is the player interviewed, the other one ignored. However, in this case, Mays was ignored and Kuenn drew every reporter and photographer in camp—all except myself and one fellow from New York.

WE STOOD and talked with Willie, getting a good column, incidentally, but I believe my New York compatriot had the same feeling I did—it wouldn't have been right to leave Willie standing there alone. After all, the $85,000 center fielder still is the box office king and such attractions should not be completely ignored regardless of the counter-attraction.

Since that little scene involving Mays and Kuenn the day spring camp opened, we have been watching Mays' reactions to Kuenn's very competent handling of a bat. It is not difficult to do this because Mays is in the on-deck circle when Kuenn is at bat.

At Tucson last weekend when Kuenn boosted his spring hitting to .400 by getting six hits in eight AB's, Mays' expression seemed to grow more determined each time Harvey hit safely.

"MAN, OH man" Mays seemed to say to himself, "this guy is going to be real tough to top this season if he keeps this up."

Mays has met similar challenges in the past. Only once since 1954 has he been under .300. That was in 1956 when he hit .296.

Orlando Cepeda edged him by three points .317 to .314 in 1959, but Willie's .319 last season was far in front of Orlando's .297 and the only Giant average over the .300 mark in 1960.

Kuenn's and Mays' batting records are similar in one respect—they have been under .300 only once in the last eight years—Mays' .296 in 1956, and Kuenn's .277 in 1957.

MAYS IS well aware of the parallel in their batting records because he has an amazingly retentive memory for batting averages, his own and rival's.

But like the knowledge of realizing he has another rival, Mays is keeping his own counsel about the matter. If he did have a comment to make it probably would be:

"You know I never predict. I let my bat do the talking."

Cal Golfer Leads Western Amateur

When the last of the 139-man field trooped in at sundown, Weber had a stroke lead over three other unknowns—Dudley Wysong of McKinney, Tex., Carl Lohren of Silver Springs, Md., and Dicky Crosby of East Chicago, Ind.

In lighter divisions Hamilton will send 119-pounder Arthur Jones against Clarence DeLouis of Hayward: Alfred Pena, 125, against Ron Nichols of San Jose; Clemon Maddox, 132, against Larry Mitchell of San Francisco; and George Leach, 139, vs. Mario Villamor of Stockton.

St. Louis Evens Playoff Series In Pro Basketball

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks and the Los Angeles Lakers, perennial foes in this business of pro basketball playoffs, seem headed for a repeat of last year's seven-game series.

The Hawks evened up the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division playoffs at one game apiece last night with a 121-106 decision over the Lakers.

The Eastern Division playoffs between the Syracuse Nationals and the Boston Celtics are tied up at 1-1, also. The two Eastern clubs had a day off yesterday, but get back to the boards tonight in Boston. The Hawks and Lakers pick up where they left off tomorrow night in Los Angeles.

Stonebraker Winner In Squash Tournament

Stonebraker had some heavy going against Col. James Roberts in the semi-finals, but came through to win a close match. Murphy is a Navy liaison officer at Hamilton.

Rookies May Solve Giants' Relief Woes

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Two young rookie right-handers may be the answer to the San Francisco Giants' bullpen problems.

The Los Angeles Angels beat the Giants 5-3 yesterday on a three-run homer by Gene Leek, the Angels' sharp rookie shortstop.

The big blast and all five runs came off young Juan Marichal.

But Manager Al Dark of the Giants found solace in the work of Bobby Bolin and Jim Duffalo, who finished up for Marichal after the Angels' five-run fifth.

Bolin, 22, who was 10-4 in the Texas League last year, came on in the sixth and was greeted by singles by Steve Bilko and Ken Hunt. Bolin then got three straight Angels—Albie Pearson, Del Rice and Ted Kluszewski—to pop to third baseman Harvey Kuenn.

HITLESS RELIEF

Bolin went out for a pinch hitter and Duffalo came on for the final two innings. Duffalo, 24, who was 16-5 at Springfield last year, put the Angels down without a hit and struck out three of 'em.

In eight innings with the Giants this spring, the slim Duffalo has allowed but six hits and one run, while chalking up six strikeouts.

Dark said Bolin and Duffalo would both be around after the squad is trimmed this Saturday.

The Giant offense yesterday was limited to seven singles, two by Felipe Alou.

The happiest guy around was Bill Rigney, whom the Giants fired in midseason last year. The Angels, now managed by Rigney, registered their first victory over a big league first string club when they beat the Giants and the skinny fellow from Walnut Creek was jubilant.

Novato High Bows To Napans, 5 To 1

Napa High School defeated Novato 5-1 yesterday in a practice baseball game called at the end of six innings because of darkness.

Novato's only run came in the third inning when Don Scribner drove home Joe Colfer who was on via a fielder's choice and stolen base.

Mays Realizes He Has A New Rival For Attention In Harvey Kuenn

HANLEY

PALM SPRINGS—Willie Mays has a new rival. A friendly one, to be sure, but nevertheless a rival in Harvey Kuenn.

Mays knows this better than anyone else. He sensed it and saw it the first day Kuenn reported in camp. That was Monday, Feb. 27, when all hands signed in for the 1961 season.

Mays sensed the threat to his No. 1 position as the Giant kingping when Kuenn stepped on the field for the first time in a Giant uniform that bore the same No. 7 he always has worn as a player. A rumble of recognition from the stands could be heard for the ace from the American League.

Mays then saw the threat to his unique position with the Giants, one that he has held since 1954 when he returned from two years military service and began dazzling feats with both bat and glove.

Mays saw the threat when he and Kuenn began playing catch behind the batting cage. Normally, in such a situation, Mays is the player interviewed, the other one ignored. However, in this case, Mays was ignored and Kuenn drew every reporter and photographer in camp—all except myself and one fellow from New York.

WE STOOD and talked with Willie, getting a good column, incidentally, but I believe my New York compatriot had the same feeling I did—it wouldn't have been right to leave Willie standing there alone. After all, the $85,000 center fielder still is the box office king and such attractions should not be completely ignored regardless of the counter-attraction.

Since that little scene involving Mays and Kuenn the day spring camp opened, we have been watching Mays' reactions to Kuenn's very competent handling of a bat. It is not difficult to do this because Mays is in the on-deck circle when Kuenn is at bat.

At Tucson last weekend when Kuenn boosted his spring hitting to .400 by getting six hits in eight AB's, Mays' expression seemed to grow more determined each time Harvey hit safely.

"MAN, OH man" Mays seemed to say to himself, "this guy is going to be real tough to top this season if he keeps this up."

Mays has met similar challenges in the past. Only once since 1954 has he been under .300. That was in 1956 when he hit .296.

Orlando Cepeda edged him by three points .317 to .314 in 1959, but Willie's .319 last season was far in front of Orlando's .297 and the only Giant average over the .300 mark in 1960.

Kuenn's and Mays' batting records are similar in one respect—they have been under .300 only once in the last eight years—Mays' .296 in 1956, and Kuenn's .277 in 1957.

MAYS IS well aware of the parallel in their batting records because he has an amazingly retentive memory for batting averages, his own and rival's.

But like the knowledge of realizing he has another rival, Mays is keeping his own counsel about the matter. If he did have a comment to make it probably would be:

"You know I never predict. I let my bat do the talking."

Cal Golfer Leads Western Amateur

When the last of the 139-man field trooped in at sundown, Weber had a stroke lead over three other unknowns—Dudley Wysong of McKinney, Tex., Carl Lohren of Silver Springs, Md., and Dicky Crosby of East Chicago, Ind.

Dark Putting All Personnel On Display For Boss Horace Stoneham

CONNOLLY

In his search for a strong bench Manager Al Dark has played the straight man in a comedy team. By that I mean he's trying to uncover "bench strength" from among his present crop.

By all the signs of the zodiac, Dark has flaunted every member of the Giant squad before the headman, owner Horace Stoneham.

Dark has shifted Jimmy Davenport to shortstop in order to see if his injured knee can stand the pivot. If it can, Jimmy might be used there quite a bit at the start of the season. But if Davenport can't hide his tricky knee, then it is hard telling what the fates may hold for him.

Using Jose Pagan at second base along with the rookie Charley Hiller as well as Joe Amalfitano, has exhibited all the Giants' infield talent at one time or other.

Pressing rookie catchers into the lineup at the expense of Hobby Landrith and Bob Schmidt takes courage on Dark's part. And I think I know why he is using these tactics. I think Alvin is going to be able to tell owner Stoneham a lot about what his scouts dug up the past few years.

DARK MIGHT even ask Boss Stoneham to pick the best of the batch, and see if his choices measure up with his own.

But the manner in which Dark, as a freshman manager, has behaved makes one wonder if he isn't satisfying himself and proving to the boss that the Giants need bolstering and a lot of it, to get out of the second division in 1961.

There are no flies on Stoneham as a baseball magnate. He probably knows a lot more than other owners. But he is a hard man to convince. He is strong in his likes and dislikes and sometimes a very keen student of a ball player's potential.

IF YOU CAN judge Stoneham on the high hopes he had for Felipe Alou, Orlando Cepeda, Mike McCormick, Willie McCovey, Davenport and Bressoud, you have to admit he takes his chances, even if it means plugging up all nine places on the club with players in whom he has confidence.

Dark, on the other hand, has seen most of the Giant players from the opponents' dugout. And he may have measured them differently than Stoneham.

At least that is why I think Dark is uncovering everything Stoneham has given him in the hope that once on parade they might march right out of the Giant organization or go on to heights never expected of them.

In the case of the old pros, like Willie Mays and Harvey Kuenn, Sam Jones, Jack Sanford and Stu Miller, I believe Dark will go along with Stoneham and give them an "A" on his report card.

I'M CONVINCED of impending trades by the Giants because this is the first spring in four seasons that Giant scouts have been dispatched to other training camps so early.

Even Dutch Ruether quit Arizona ahead of time because he had work to do. Hank Sauer went to Florida early after Birdie Tebbets, the Milwaukee Brave vice-president, huddled with Giant brass in Arizona.

All these signs of what is to come make me believe the Giants are going to bend every effort, even to giving up more than they should, to assemble a ball club that will spell out the name GIANTS.

Tiburon Baseball Tryouts Saturday

Tryouts for major league hopefuls in the Tiburon Little League, postponed from last week because of a wet field, will be held from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday at Judge Field in Tiburon.

In addition to four major league teams and six minor league groups there will be three special farm "teams" for 8-year-old newcomers to Little League in this season's line-up on the peninsula.

Boys who have not yet signed up for Tiburon Little League may also attend the tryouts and enroll at that time.

Horse Doped, G.G. Trainer Is Suspended

ALBANY (UPI)—Trainer Morris Julian was suspended at Golden Gate Fields yesterday when tests showed that Reighs Cain, winner of Saturday's third race, had the drug procaine in its system.

The board of stewards barred Julian from the stable area and referred the case to the California Horse Racing Board.

Julian, who also serves as a groom, told the stewards he didn't know how the animal could have been doped. He said he was not away from the horse longer than a half hour Saturday.

The two-year-old son of Reighs Bull is owned by Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Smith of Santa Monica. He defeated a field of maiden three-year-olds in Saturday's race, paying $10.80 straight.

The stewards ordered that the purse for the race be redistributed. Barracho J. J. which placed second, was elevated to first money. Lechugo was moved from third to second, Duke of Tipton from fourth to third, and Count Zeus from fifth to fourth.

In the feature race yesterday, jockey Pete Moreno urged Hestia to a neck victory over First Money. Edie Belle finished third in the field of seven fillies and mares, going six furlongs.

Hestia toured the distance in 1:10 2/5 and returned $6.20 straight. It was the third victory of the day for Moreno, the hottest jockey of the current meeting.

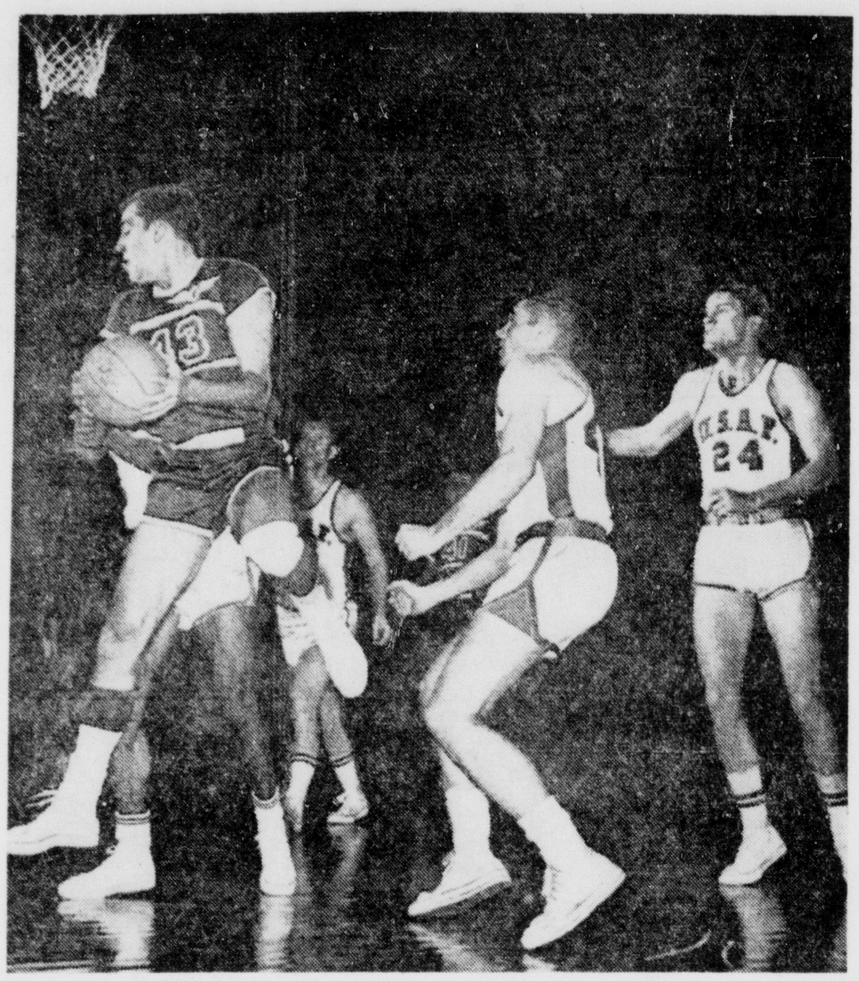
Rick Snow Paces Tam Swim Victory

Rick Snow, who makes it a habit of scoring double victories, did it again yesterday as he paced his Tamalpais High School swim team to a 56-34 victory over Carlmont High.

Snow won the 200-yard freestyle in 2 minutes, 6.7 seconds and the 200 individual medley in 2:27.

Other Tam winners were Bob Scott, 100 butterfly, 1:07.7; Jeff McCreary, 100 back, 1:05.7; Jack Mosher, 100 free, 57.5; 200 Medley Relay (McCreary, Tinsley Stetson, Scott, Jack Martin), 1:57-1; and the 200 Free Relay (Tony DePrado, Mosher, Sherm Stewart, Lloyd Potts), 1:40.7.

In Class B Mark Cory won the 50 butterfly and the individual medley to pace Tam to a 59-32 decision.



WHERE TO GO? — Tom Meschery (43) of San Francisco Olympic Club seemed to be looking for a place to go after he grabbed a rebound under the U.S. Air Force basket yesterday in the National AAU tournament in Denver. San Francisco won 104-76 and plays Des Moines in the third round. (AP Wirephoto)

PHILLIES NIX 3-MAN TRADE WITH BRAVES

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, today turned down an offer by Milwaukee to trade pitcher Jim Owens for Braves' shortstop Johnny Logan and first baseman Frank Torre.

Carpenter was informed by a reporter that Braves' General Manager John McHale had said in Bradenton, Fla., that he and Phillies' General Manager John Quinn had agreed tentatively to the deal and were awaiting final approval from Carpenter.

When asked what action he would take, Carpenter, without hesitation, said from his Wilmington, Del., home:

"I would not accept it. I have heard it (the trade) discussed."

Carpenter said the Braves know that he would not accept such a deal.

"There must be some mistake," he added.

S.F. Faces Des Moines In AAU Third Round Tonight

DENVER (UPI)—Two of the eight teams which play tonight in the quarter-finals of the 54th National AAU basketball tournament weren't supposed to make it this far.

Only the Des Moines Clarksons and Kirk's of Seattle among the quarter finalists were not seeded by the bracket-makers. But both upset seeded teams in double overtimes during yesterday's second round.

Des Moines, made up of Drake and Iowa State University players, defeated the Akron Wingfoots, last year's AAU runnerup, 93-91. Kirk's squeaked past the U.S. Army, 114-111.

The other second round scores: San Francisco Olympic Club 102, U. S. Air Force 78; Denver Truckers 97, Dayton Merchandisers 87; Seattle Bakers 100, Salt Lake City Sanders 76; Phillips Oilers 79, Topeka Kans. Roofers 66; New York Tapers 89, Cheyenne, Wyo. Merchants 82; Cleveland Pipers 92, Kirby Shoes of Los Angeles 81.

Kirk's takes on the Pipers, National Basketball League champions this season, in tonight's opener. Des Moines faces the Olympic Club in the final round game at midnight.

Cleveland Browns Sold—$4 Million; Brown Still Boss

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have changed hands again, but the old master who has been the field general since the professional football club was organized in 1946 — Coach Paul Brown — still is running the team.

Arthur B. Modell of New York, 36, a television and advertising executive who is the top executive in the new organization, and R. J. "Rudy" Schaefer, 60, New York brewery company president, have agreed to give Brown a free rein. They also gave him an eight-year contract.

"I retain control over those things I consider essential to the operation of the team," Brown said at a news conference yesterday.

Modell, who became chairman of the board and chief executive officer, said reports that about four million dollars was involved in the transaction were substantially correct.

Brown remains as general manager and vice president of the National Football League club. Modell said Brown will decide any questions about player personnel and field operation.

"I am assuming the responsibility for such things as finances, admissions to the league, promotion and that type of thing," Model said.

STOCK OPTION

Brown, who retains a small amount of stock, has an option to buy more.

Dave R. Jones continues as president and Robert H. Gries continues as vice president and treasurer—each having a substantial minority interest in the club; Schaefer will be a vice president; William C. MacMillan, an investment banker, and John A. Wells, Modell's attorney, also have been named directors.

The transaction is the largest in professional football history.

CAGE SCANDAL HEARING SET FOR APRIL 4

NEW YORK (AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan has no idea how long the current probe into college basketball fixing will continue, or how many players might be involved.

"There may or may not be more," Hogan said yesterday in announcing at a press conference that evidence would be presented to a grand jury starting April 4.

Two gamblers were arrested last Friday by investigators from his office on charges of bribing two Seton Hall University players and one from the University of Connecticut.

Hogan called the press conference after returning from Arizona where he has been attending a prosecutors' convention.

During his absence his office indicated other colleges may have been implicated, but Hogan declined to give additional information.

At the same time he said, "We have no information to warrant an investigation" of professional basketball, or professional or college football.

How do "bargain" brands stack-up to GOODYEAR

There are so-called "bargain" tires. And "discount" tires. And "co-op" tires. And "department store" tires. And other tires you've never even heard of.

To prove it, we matched our $12.95 3-T Nylon All-Weather cord for cord with nine other tires in this general price class. We counted cords ...counted plies...tested the strength of the tread rubber.

Compared to the Goodyear tire, there wasn't a really true bargain in the bunch. In overall strength, the Goodyear tire proved 25% greater than the average.

What makes the difference? Better materials. Precision-building with electronic controls. And Turnpike-Proving. Yet there's little difference in price. No money down with your old tire . . . as low as $1.25 a week.

How do "bargain" brands stack-up to GOODYEAR

There are so-called "bargain" tires. And "discount" tires. And "co-op" tires. And "department store" tires. And other tires you've never even heard of.

To prove it, we matched our $12.95 3-T Nylon All-Weather cord for cord with nine other tires in this general price class. We counted cords ...counted plies...tested the strength of the tread rubber.

Compared to the Goodyear tire, there wasn't a really true bargain in the bunch. In overall strength, the Goodyear tire proved 25% greater than the average.

What makes the difference? Better materials. Precision-building with electronic controls. And Turnpike-Proving. Yet there's little difference in price. No money down with your old tire . . . as low as $1.25 a week.

3-T Nylon All-Weather $12.95

After Slow Weekend, Bass Fishing Perks Up With Optimistic Reports

STEVENS

It's rather easy to understand the reason some of the ancient peoples of the world were sun-worshippers. On Sunday and Monday when I contacted a few of my regular contacts to get a line on bass fishing activity, the gloom was thick in their voices.

Tuesday afternoon some of them fairly exuded good cheer and optimism. "How's it going?" I would say. "Great! Swell! Really good!" they answered.

Grace Quan of China Camp characterized the fishing as, "Wonderful, Steve. Perch, flounders and bass. Lots of them all over the place." Then, afraid she had been too optimistic, she added: "Not limits for everybory, about maybe four fish to the boat, but all nice bass to around 12 pounds, mostly taken about halfway between here and the pump station."

Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia told of some members of the Japanese bass derby on Sunday sticking it out in the rain and coming in with some beautiful stripers to 14 pounds.

DURING THE last three days, the following anglers hit the jackpot out of Joe's Launching: Captain Lee Walker and friend, limits to eight pounds; Don Zunino and two buddies accounted for nine stripers to six pounds; Carlo Nerviani and friend caught limits but, while of legal size, they were all small fish.

Only one fisherman went out with the sole idea of getting a mess of flounders for a fish feed. He worked the flats near the Pipe Line and collected 15 of the delectable flatties in short order.

NADINE LESSLEY, Dowrelio's Girl Friday, asked me to forget Saturday and Sunday and report the before and after activity for the areas near buoys 5, 7, and 9. Apparently fishing came back with a bang. Only one party boat out on Sunday, but Johnny Silvera came back to port with 17 nice stripers. On Monday, Johnny went to the same region and took limits for all aboard — seven limits to 11 pounds. On Monday, the half-day boat, with only three passengers, netted limits for the trio to nine pounds.

I asked about flounders and redtailed perch. "Lots of flounders, but only two or three redtails," she reported.

NO GOOD news from the Delta regions, which is rather surprising. Should hear of some heavy bass being taken ala trolling before long.

I should qualify that statement. No good news anent striper fishing or black bass, but lots of catfish taken when weather permitted the boats to get out after them.

So now, if you'll excuse me, I'll sign off with the usual "Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

SPORTY—This is the eight-passenger Citroen station wagon to be exhibited by Shamrock Motors of Mill Valley at the Sport and Boat Show in San Rafael this weekend. The Citroen is ideally designed for campers and hunters in the Sierras. The body can instantly while in motion be raised thirteen inches on rutted roads or lowered for highway travel. Front wheel drive gives better pulling power, and all models have self leveling air-oil suspension. Thirty-seven inches headroom makes it easier to dress and undress inside car. Lowering rear seats provides a seven-foot carrying area.

Rodriguez Easily Defeats Gonsalves In Oakland Bout

OAKLAND (UPI)—It's on to Mexico for Luis Rodriguez, Cuba's wandering welterweight, who says that he has a date down there on April 15 with Alvaro Gutierrez, veteran boxer.

Rodriguez, who now has won 35 pro fights and only lost once, took care of another veteran last night when he punched out a unanimous 10-round decision over Johnny Gonsalves.

It marked Rodriguez's second win over the Oakland favorite, whom he outpointed last November. Only this time the score cards were even more convincing. The bouncing, jabbing Cuban, who weighed 146½ to 143 for Gonsalves, was voted the winner by an 8-1 margin by Referee Jack Downey although docked one point for low blows. Judge Rudy Ortega saw it 5-1 and Judge Elmer Costa 5-2.

Rodriguez was in charge throughout against his stylish foe who has now had 79 bouts in 14 years of professional boxing. He constantly bothered Gonsalves with long left jabs to the face and used looping rights to the head to rock him twice in the 10th.

Gonsalves, always the standup type of boxer, garnered some points with brisk rights to the head in the third and eighth rounds. But the blows hardly slowed the onrushing Rodriguez.

Johnny also drew some boos for frequently clinching.

"I'm going to try and fight more often," said Gonsalves afterward. "Maybe if I boxed something like once a month my timing might be better. It was off tonight."

A crowd of 2,800 paid a gross gate of $7,510 to see Gonsalves play the waiting game and lose.

Rose Leads Troy In Swim Meet

SEATTLE (AP)—Murray Rose, Australian Olympic star who swims for Southern California, hoped to recapture his NCAA title today in the metric mile.

Rose heads a talented cast of Trojan swimmers who are the heavy favorites to retain the team championship they won in 1960. More than 260 swimmers and divers have been entered in the three-day meet by 56 colleges and universities.

S.R. Little League Baseball Tryouts Slated Saturday

Mark Brown, president of the San Rafael American Little League anounced today that tryouts will be held Saturday.

Any boys who have not yet signed up may do so then, he added. Proof of age (8 years old but not yet 13 by Aug. 1) must be shown and a donation of $2.50 is asked. The schedule for try-outs is as follows:

Albert Field: 8 a.m.—8-year-olds; 9:30 a.m., 9-year-olds; 11 a.m., 10-year-olds.

San Rafael High School: 1 p.m., 11-year-olds; 2 p.m., 12-year-olds.

Neider's Boxing Debut Cancelled

RENO (AP) — Olympic Gold Medal shot putter Bill Nieder came a cropper yesterday in his hoped for start toward a pro boxing career.

Promoters called off his scheduled April 7 10-rounder with Ray Becerra, seasoned British Columbia heavyweight.

The State Athletic Commission ruled that 10 rounds was too long for Nieder in his pro debut, despite his having had several bouts as an amateur.

Stars as Gretchen

Goblin Story Due April 1 In San Rafael

"Gretchen and the Lonely Goblin" will be performed by the Actors' Workshop of the San Francisco Drama Guild on April 1 at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

Junior Theater of Marin will sponsor the production, which tells the story of the lovely Gretchen and the cruel King Karl, who has forbidden all laughter in his kingdom. Gretchen refuses to give up her laughter to the king, and he is about to chop off her head when the kindly goblin decides to help.

The story was written by Mary Waldorf Brauer, and will be directed by Jules Irving.

The cast includes Priscilla Pointer as Gretchen; Alan Mandall as King Karl the Cruel; W. R. Jonason as Prince Wilhelm, the king's son; Robert Doyle as Goblin; Tim Ward as the Mapmaker; Dori White as Mathilde; Kathe Chapman as Gosta the cook; Robert Phalen as Thump, court jester, and Amy Irving as Laughter.

Season tickets for all Junior Theater productions are available through the schools. Single tickets for "Gretchen and the Lonely Goblin" will be available at the door prior to the performances.

Toy Shop Door Tampered With

An attempted break-in at the San Rafael Toy Shop at 1225 Fourth Street, was reported to San Rafael police yesterday.

The rear door had been tampered with sometime between police checks at 7:30 and 10:30 p.m., police reported.

Walter E. Zurcher of 14 Rafael Drive, store owner, checked the store, but could not find anything missing.

Stars as Gretchen

Goblin Story Due April 1 In San Rafael

"Gretchen and the Lonely Goblin" will be performed by the Actors' Workshop of the San Francisco Drama Guild on April 1 at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

Junior Theater of Marin will sponsor the production, which tells the story of the lovely Gretchen and the cruel King Karl, who has forbidden all laughter in his kingdom. Gretchen refuses to give up her laughter to the king, and he is about to chop off her head when the kindly goblin decides to help.

The story was written by Mary Waldorf Brauer, and will be directed by Jules Irving.

The cast includes Priscilla Pointer as Gretchen; Alan Mandall as King Karl the Cruel; W. R. Jonason as Prince Wilhelm, the king's son; Robert Doyle as Goblin; Tim Ward as the Mapmaker; Dori White as Mathilde; Kathe Chapman as Gosta the cook; Robert Phalen as Thump, court jester, and Amy Irving as Laughter.

Season tickets for all Junior Theater productions are available through the schools. Single tickets for "Gretchen and the Lonely Goblin" will be available at the door prior to the performances.

Toy Shop Door Tampered With

An attempted break-in at the San Rafael Toy Shop at 1225 Fourth Street, was reported to San Rafael police yesterday.

The rear door had been tampered with sometime between police checks at 7:30 and 10:30 p.m., police reported.

Walter E. Zurcher of 14 Rafael Drive, store owner, checked the store, but could not find anything missing.

CHAPLAIN AT UC TO SPEAK IN ROSS

Rev. Robert Morse, Episcopalian chaplain at the University of California at Berkeley, will be the speaker at the meeting of St. Mary's chapter at the Parish hall of St. John's Church, Ross on Tuesday, April 4 at 11 a.m.

Father Morse who was born in San Francisco, was formerly pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church in South San Francisco. His work with the young people at the university has been outstanding. All people interested in youth training are invited to hear Father Morse.

Pony League Group Elects Officers

Mrs. Victor J. Novacek was unanimously elected president of the Mill Valley Pony League Auxiliary at a recent meeting held in the home of Mrs. A. J. Almada.

Others chosen as officers were Mesdames Wayne Daniels, vice president; F. W. Paterson, secretary and Fred Houston, treasurer.

Planned were a pot luck supper as a get-acquainted event and a rummage sale for the early part of May. Proceeds from all functions sponsored by the auxiliary go to finance Pony League baseball in Mill Valley.

Mrs. William Bucholz, chairman for the rummage sale, announces that those wishing to donate items for the sale may leave them at the home of Mrs. Claude Jones as soon as possible in order that the committee may prepare them for the sale.

Pick-up service may be arranged by calling Mesdames Richard Stephens, Gerald Willoughby or Mrs. Houston. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Jones.

Pink Ladies Hostess Tour Of Hospital

The monthly orientation class and tour, held at Marin General Hospital for expectant mothers, was especially well attended this March. The class was conducted by Miss Karma Houston, R.N., obstetrical supervisor.

Learning about hospital routine were Mesdames Fred J. Dutch, Bruce D. Askim, J. J. Mecozzi, Chick Baker, and Robert W. Shotwell, all of Novato; Mesdames Richard A. Dooley, D. L. Albrecht, Michael D. Slovich, David T. Thame, and D. L. Smith, all of Mill Valley; and Mrs. D. J. Krotchko of San Anselmo.

Taking notes during the educational period were Mesdames W. William Nilsen and James McElroy of Fairfax; Charles R. Thurman and Dolores B. Hobort of Kentfield; Charles W. Wilson and F. M. Sorensen of Greenbrae; and Mrs. John D. Cavanah of Corte Madera. Also attending were Mesdames Stacy Mills of Hamilton Air Force Base; J. S. Thornton of Ross; and Fenimore Cady Jr., of Tiburon.

Attending from San Rafael were Mesdames B. Patrick Clancy, F. W. Bradley, Richard L. Wells, Donald Hjermstad, D. G. Barnard, Kenneth G. Hamilton, Roy J. Pedroli, Jerry M. Sager, R. W. Wycinowski, O. Hostesses for the tour and tea, sponsored by the Pink Ladies, were Mesdames Samuel Gunnison, Hans Fischel, and Spencer Smiley Jr.

Reservations for the next tour and tea may be made through the obstetrical department at Marin General.

Bethel Plans Rummage Sale

A table of new items will be one of the most attractive features of the Rummage Sale to be sponsored by Mill Valley Bethel 119 of Job's Daughters March 30 through April 1, according to Sandra Tousey, senior princess, and Jean Treverton, junior princess.

The two girls who are serving as general chairmen for the sale report that other bargains to be found at the Mill Valley American Legion Hall during the hours of 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. will include a sewing machine, some exceptionally good clothes for women, furniture and two rugs.

For the convenience of shoppers a coffee bar offering home made cake will be open during all hours of the sale.

Donations are still being solicited. Pick-up service may be arranged by calling Mrs. R. F. Tousey or Mrs. W. L. Treverton.

Council Will Host Square Dance Party

The beginners' folk dance class sponsored by the Marin Dance Council will host a party for all folk dancers on Monday, March 27, at Bel Aire School from 8 to 11 p.m.

James Greer, instructor of the class, will be master of ceremonies. The program will include dances taught in the class and request numbers.

Mrs. Robert Dunstan and Mrs. Leslie Hennessey of the Marin Dance Council are co-chairmen of the party. Refreshments will be furnished by members of the beginners' class and by council members.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Diller Ryan of Sausalito, with their three sons are spending some time at Ojai during the children's Easter vacation from Marin Country Day School.

Now You Can Dry Clean Paper

NEW YORK (UPI)—One day, historians may refer to this as the Paper Age as well as the Atom Age.

Paper manufacturers at a recent convention said that today the American housewife can hang her wash on a paper clothesline that will last for years. She can carry home groceries in a bag that can be converted into a sailing toy for Junior. And tomorrow, she may live in a paper house.

One of the newest developments in the field is a twisted, knitted paper which can be boiled, washed or dry-cleaned and reused as many as 30 times.

It was developed by Ronald R. Marks, of Dallas, Tex. Dozens of possible uses for the knitted paper were mentioned —substitutes for burlap, for parachutes, for wall decorations, hats, handbags, even heat-shielding materials for missiles.

Mill Valley's Lucretia Hanson Retires After 34 Years At Paper

The "Handy Andy" of the Mill Valley Record has retired.

"I have been retired from the job," Mrs. Lucretia Kays Hanson said, "But not from life."

Mrs. Hanson, who refuses to tell her age, describes herself as a "Kind of Handy Andy" because since reporting to work at the Record March 27, 1927, she has held a number of jobs. She has been editor-in-chief for 13 months, society editor, general news writer, proof reader, a classified ad worker, feature writer, addressograph machine operator and columnist.

She began her column, "Just A Minute, Please" in 1943 and says she must have between 600 and 700 of them in her scrapbook.

The world of Mrs. Hanson, who is presently recovering from a mild pneumonia attack at her white cottage at 9 Hill Street, has been a large one. It is still a large one.

Starting out in the small town of Memphis, Mo., she later moved to Evanston, Ill., with her family to enter Northwestern University. She was graduated in 1903, the youngest in her class of 100 and the first of that class elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

She was married to Charles Herman Hanson, a chief clerk in the Southern Railway offices in Washington, D.C. and later moved to California, settling in Mill Valley.

Five children were born to the Hansons: Mrs. Lucretia H. Little of Mill Valley, deputy city clerk; Harry W. Hanson of San Anselmo, accountant for the Otis Elevator Co. in San Francisco; Dr. Karl H. Hanson, San Francisco psychiatrist; Mrs. Will (Flora) H. Randolph, medical secretary in San Francisco, and Mrs. William H. (Amy) Howell, who works on the admission desk at San Francisco's University of California Hospital.

ACTIVITIES NOW

What does she do now? Prior to her recent sickness she had a job answering the telephone two afternoons a week for Bob's Taxi. She does a lot of baby sitting. She is an officer on the staff of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church, which recently named a new sewing circle in her honor.

She is chairman of her church's library board. She teaches a class of 12-year-old girls in the old testament at the Sunday School.

On top of this Mrs. Hanson likes to garden and write poetry.

"I haven't time to look at television," she said, and has none in the house though her daughter once gave her a set.

One of her maxims is "I think success in life depends as much on work as it does on ability."

Winning occasional prizes for her poetry, Mrs. Hanson said, "When I think of how Mill Valley has changed since my arrival when population was 200, I like to recite my three-line Hokku, a Japanese poetry form: "The great willow droops over the bus stop, weeping at encroachment on beauty."

"Scat, Scat," a book she loves to read to children—her own 10 grandchildren and the ones she sits with "I must have read 500 times at least." It's about a white kitten.

Flowers? They bloom at the gate and in an old fashioned garden before the house—alyssum, marigolds, forget-me-nots. Probably her favorite is the passion flower on her porch which blooms April to December and is usually available for the corsage she always wears.

SERVING PEOPLE

"I have enjoyed meeting all kinds of people and all classes of people and serving them," the tiny but lively news woman said. "I went to every wedding unelss it was in a private home, feeling I was pleasing people by writing up the weddings."

She has frequently been referred to as "The town's best-known citizen" and is often asked to help people who were trying to trace an old timer.

A hobby is writing postcards to people who are ill, something she began when her late husband was an invalid.

Will the typewriter continue to clack with Mrs. Hanson's hunt and peck system? "I couldn't live without a typewriter, she said. "A typewriter and a telephone."

Junior League Meet

The March meeting of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the Hall of Flowers, Golden Gate Park. Dr. Earl S. Herald, Curator of the Steinhart Aquarium, will speak on the subject, "Among My Acquaintances . . . "

Informally Yours Luncheon To Greet Marin Volunteers

Lend a helping hand was their plea and so it followed that a group of civic minded women formed the Marin Volunteers and donate many hours of service to their worthy cause of aiding Marin's Senior Citizens.

A membership drive for volunteers is now in progress and further information regarding the group's activities may be obtained from Mrs. Ray Brusati or the Senior Center.

Founded about four years ago, since then Volunteer members have organized and staffed "Trade Whims," the thrift shop at the center in San Rafael, which is one of their fund-raising projects.

To aid the seniors, on Wednesday, March 29, Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera will welcome the Marin Volunteers as beneficiary group for fashions Informally Yours with luncheon with a showing of "Easter Time —Fashion Time" styles from a San Rafael women's shop, coordinated by Sara Campbell.

Mrs. William Ghilotti is chairman of the 12:30 o'clock luncheon-fashions event and modeling for the Marin Volunteers are their members, Mesdames Russel Reese, Eldredge Loewenguth, Delbert Kelzer, Herman Salkin. Also in the Easter Parade will be Mannequin League models: Mesdames John Hackney Jr., Les Vogel Jr., William Deeths, Norman Sanguinetti.

For reservations to "Easter Time — Fashion Time" on Wednesday, March 29 sponsored by the Marin Volunteers for Senior Citizens, to which the public is cordially invited, call Bob's of Marin.

List Of Musts For Safe Home

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Accident prevention should be built into a home, according to William A. Alter, Chicago housing expert who recently testified before Congress. He compiled this list of musts for the safe home:

—Bathroom safety locks, which allow the door to be opened from the outside to guard against children locking themselves in or adults being trapped if stricken with dizzy or fainting spells.

—Electri-centers, which eliminate blown fuses and minimize fire hazards, by automatically cutting off power and pinpointing the danger area whenever a defective appliance is plugged in.

—Grounded outlets, to eliminate electric shock. New appliances with three-pronged plugs require such outlets, usually not found in older homes.

—Hand rails on all stairs.

—Well-constructed, masonry chimneys with vitrified tile linings to prevent erosion by fumes and falling bricks that may block chimneys.

—Floors like vinyl or asbestos tile that wipe up easily, to keep them clear of slippery spilled grease and soapy water.

—Storage space in large utility rooms and broom closets, so that mops and pails are not left on stairs.

—Lights in all bedroom closets, to prevent groping in the dark, often while precariously balanced on a chair in the path of suitcases or other heavy objects which might topple from shelves.

Tamal Lodge Has Program After Meet

Following the recent meeting of Tamal Rebekah lodge at the IOOF Temple in San Rafael, St. Patrick's Day was observed. Mrs. Veryl Sanford opened the program with a brief history of St. Patrick and gave an account of many contributions to this country made by the Irish people, dating back to and before the Declaration of Independence. This was followed by an amusing skit, "The Return of Patrick O'Hevin." in pantomime. Mrs. Sanford was the reader. In the cast were Mesdames Paul Sproete, Charles Peterson, Ernest Laxton, Suzanne Larson and Mabel Carlson; also Charles Peterson and Chester Hunter. The program concluded with Irish songs by Mesdames William Amos, Bernard Piecznski, A. V. Graves and Harold Sheffield, all in costume. Mrs. Arthur Meyer was the accompanist. Refreshments in keeping with the theme were served at tables decorated in green with shamrocks and many tiny leprechauns climbing over little tree trunks.

Mrs. Mabel Carlson, of Novato was honored when a candle-lighted birthday cake was placed before her, as the members sang the birthday song. Mrs. Carlson has been a visiting member to Tamal lodge for several years, being a member of a Rebekah lodge in Washington, of which she is a past district deputy.

The committee for the evening was Mesdames Charles Peterson, chairman, Ernest Laxton, Sanford and George Carpenter. On the decorating committee were Mesdames Grant Wills, Henry Von der Heide, Alex Walker and Della Cline.

A report was made of an accident in which one of Tamal's long-time members, Mrs. John Starkey, was badly injured. She was formerly a resident of San Anselmo but has been living in Fresno for the past few years.

At the next meeting, March 28, the district deputy president, Mrs. John Robertson, will make her official visit. Members were reminded to prepare "Easter Bonnets" to wear in the "Easter Parade" program which will follow the meeting. There will be awards for the prettiest, the funniest, and the most unique hats. Members of two other Rebekah lodges in the county have been invited, as well as sojourning members. Mrs. Grant Wills, chairman for the evening, will be assisted by Mesdames Alex Walker, Eli Harrington and the regular decorating committee.

District Attorney Will Address Lawyers' Wives

Roger P. Garety, district attorney of Marin County, will be speaker for Lawyers' Wives of Marin and their guests when they meet for 12:30 luncheon Wednesday, March 29, at the Mill Valley Tennis Club, Mill Valley.

Choosing as his subject "The Grand Jury," Garety will explain its structure, purpose and functioning. The guest speaker has been a member of the District Attorney's staff for the past nine and one-half years, receiving his appointment as district attorney in August of 1960. He is a graduate of the Universiay of Santa Clara and the University of San Francisco Law School.

A brief business meeting will be held at which time plans for the April 29 fund raising party "Golden Nugget Social" will be discussed. Funds raised by Lawyers' Wives of Marin from the social will be donated to the Legal Aid Society of Marin. Mrs. Richard Bettini, general chairman for the event has announced that the locale will be Rancho Nicasio at Nicasio with cocktails starting at 7 p.m. followed by dinner, dancing and a floor show composed of talent from the ranks of Lawyers' Wives and the Marin County Bar Association.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made through Mrs. Lloyd Postel through Saturday, March 25.

Lake County To Be Site For WSCS Meet

Dr. Evelyn Miller Berger will be the featured speaker at the 16th annual meeting and house party of the Redwood Empire District Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church. This annual meeting will be held at Hoberg's Resort, Lake County, on April 4 and 5, 1961.

Dr. Berger has written three books and numerous magazine articles. She has had a radio program "Successful Parents" and a television program "Crosswinds." At present she is director of the East Bay Psychological Center, Oakland, where she works with problems of childhood, adolescence, marriage and family relations, and emotional disturbances.

Plan Your Work; Save Time, Energy

ST. PAUL (UPI)—Work with your head can save work with your hands, according to a University of Minnesota extension home management specialist.

Mrs. Edna Jordahl urged homemakers to apply basic management to "lick time and energy problems."

She defined good management as the "best use of what you have to get the most of what you want."

Creative management, Mrs. Jordahl says, is taking a critical look at your own situation, analyzing your resources and then finding the best way of utilizing them, she said.

She suggested a five-part analysis to speed up work: analysis of you, your resources; the item under consideration; your tools and equipment; your method of work.

Image Series AAUW Meet Set March 28

"International Relations" will be the topic for the March general meeting of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women Tuesday evening, March 28.

This third in a series of programs on the theme "The United States Image Abroad" will differ in form from previous meetings. The topic for discussion by the International Relations Section will be national AAUW legislative program.

To facilitate discussion members will meet concurrently in the homes of three members: Mesdames E. W. Bodine, Charles J. Hunter and John C. Burnham.

Discussion leaders active in community affairs will be Mesdames Daniel Deedy, formerly a member of the board of trustees of the Mill Valley School District and presently a member of the Board of Trustees of the College of Marin; Mrs. Harry T. Magill, a member of the committee of 40 now serving her second term as president of the Alto School P-TA; and W. S. Gavin, who was the first president of the Mill Valley Branch of AAUW and is the current president of the Mill Valley Education Council.

Mrs. R. S. O'Conner is in charge of arrangements for the meetings. She will be assisted by Mesdames Edward J. Boesenecker and Harry C. Miller.

Marin Women

Musical Club Entertained By Soprano

Petite Clarissa Anthony, who has a powerful soprano voice for such a tiny person, gave a delightful performance for Thursday Musical Club last week.

Accompanied by Alden Gilchrist, she sang five groups of songs, compositions of Purcell, Bach, Handel, Guarnieri, Cimara, Massenet, Debussy and Beethoven. In the concluding group, Miss Anthony sang Thompson's "Velvet Shoes," Barber's "Must The Winter Come So Soon?" and Watts' "The Little Shepherd's Song." In response to heavy applause the artist gave an encore, "The Janitor's Boy" by Jock Wolf.

The artist and her accompanist were introduced by Mrs. Cloyd Kimball, program chairman. Mrs. Delmar Clinton, president, announced the nominating committee had been selected. On it are Mesdames Russell Wolcott, Ernest Kirschner and Gardiner Towne.

The program was followed by a tea under the chairmanship of Mrs. Carlo W. Caletti. Assisting her were Mesdames Arthur Feidler, George Leftwich, Hoeter Nelson and Dudley Miller. Pouring at a table decorated with yellow and pink spring flowers were Mesdames Aaron Rucker and Clifford Welcome.

GFWC Wins Award For Informed Vote

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has won the national first prize from the American Heritage Foundation for its nationwide "Informed Vote" program.

Mrs. E. Lee Ozbirn, Oklahoma City, Okla. and Washington, D.C., president of the General Federation, conducted an extensive bi-partisan good citizenship program among the members of the 15,000 clubs in the Federation, urging them to study the issues and to help get-out-the-vote in the campaign last fall. A special pamphlet was distributed promoting a "listening in" crusade for the Kennedy-Nixon debates.

Informally Yours Luncheon To Greet Marin Volunteers

Lend a helping hand was their plea and so it followed that a group of civic minded women formed the Marin Volunteers and donate many hours of service to their worthy cause of aiding Marin's Senior Citizens.

A membership drive for volunteers is now in progress and further information regarding the group's activities may be obtained from Mrs. Ray Brusati or the Senior Center.

Founded about four years ago, since then Volunteer members have organized and staffed "Trade Whims," the thrift shop at the center in San Rafael, which is one of their fund-raising projects.

To aid the seniors, on Wednesday, March 29, Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera will welcome the Marin Volunteers as beneficiary group for fashions Informally Yours with luncheon with a showing of "Easter Time—Fashion Time" styles from a San Rafael women's shop, coordinated by Sara Campbell.

Mrs. William Ghilotti is chairman of the 12:30 o'clock luncheon-fashions event and modeling for the Marin Volunteers are their members, Mesdames Russel Reese, Eldredge Loewenguth, Delbert Kelzer, Herman Salkin. Also in the Easter Parade will be Mannequin League models: Mesdames John Hackney Jr., Les Vogel Jr., William Deeths, Norman Sanguinetti.

For reservations to "Easter Time — Fashion Time" on Wednesday, March 29 sponsored by the Marin Volunteers for Senior Citizens, to which the public is cordially invited, call Bob's of Marin.

List Of Musts For Safe Home

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Accident prevention should be built into a home, according to William A. Alter, Chicago housing expert who recently testified before Congress. He compiled this list of musts for the safe home:

—Bathroom safety locks, which allow the door to be opened from the outside to guard against children locking themselves in or adults being trapped if stricken with dizzy or fainting spells.

—Electri-centers, which eliminate blown fuses and minimize fire hazards, by automatically cutting off power and pinpointing the danger area whenever a defective appliance is plugged in.

—Grounded outlets, to eliminate electric shock. New appliances with three-pronged plugs require such outlets, usually not found in older homes.

—Hand rails on all stairs.

—Well-constructed, masonry chimneys with vitrified tile linings to prevent erosion by fumes and falling bricks that may block chimneys.

—Floors like vinyl or asbestos tile that wipe up easily, to keep them clear of slippery spilled grease and soapy water.

—Storage space in large utility rooms and broom closets, so that mops and pails are not left on stairs.

—Lights in all bedroom closets, to prevent groping in the dark, often while precariously balanced on a chair in the path of suitcases or other heavy objects which might topple from shelves.

Grand Officer To Make Visit To Larkspur Circle Tonight

Mrs. Louis Leos of Los Banos, grand arch druidess, will make her official visit to Larkspur Circle No. 166, UAOD tonight at the American Legion Hall in Larkspur. Theme of the evening will be "Springtime," with daffodils, the Druidic flower predominating. Decorations and table decor are under the supervision of Mrs. Jaretta Russell of San Rafael.

MRS. LOUIS LEOS

An escort team, directed by past arch druidess, Mrs. Floyd Thomison, will perform a drill to waltz time. On the team are Mesdames William Seley, Pearl Ridlive, Jaretta Russell, Fred Lagier, John Guendner, Alfred Dennis H. C. Boyer and Miss Jeannie Grampp, who will carry bouquets of daffodils.

The degree team of Larkspur Circle will initiate six new members in honor of Mrs. Leos, who has stressed membership during her term. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keaton and Miss Betty Cannon of San Rafael; Mesdames Bernice Wright and Constance Minden of San Anselmo and Mrs. Robert McLaren of Corte Madera are the candidates. Mrs. John R. Flor is team captain and Miss Mildred Young, musician. Team members are Mesdames Walter Frizzi, Thomas A. Cuthbert, Lagier, Carlotta Thomas, Leland Little, Boyer, Nona Frost, Guendner, Grampp, Irene Thomison, Donald Denton, Russell, Alvin Ahlers, William Young, Seley, Dennis, and Pedlin.

A new 50 Star Flag will be dedicated and the team will carry smaller new flags. The deputy grand arch druidess Mrs. Frank Reis of Tamalpais Circle, Mill Valley, and Mrs. Flor are co-chairmen of refreshments.

Brownie Troop Tours Chinatown

Neighborhood Brownie Troop 165 of San Anselmo spent Out-of-Door Day of Girl Scout Week in San Francisco as guests of Girl Scout Troop 154 whose meetings are held at the Chinese Recreation Center.

The Brownies began their day with a picnic lunch on the Marina Green. At the Chinese Recreation Center they were met by their hostesses and a pleasant half-hour was spent in singing, dancing and getting acquainted. Punch and Chinese Fortune cookies were served to the members of the troops.

A tour of Chinatown, planned and mapped by the hostess troop, gave the Marin Brownies a rare opportunity to see the interior of a Cable Car Barn, as well as the cable itself and the safety devices used on the cable cars.

Brownie Troop 165, whose members are from Brookside and St. Anselm's Schools, was organized in September. Mrs. Robert Rohner is their leader. She has been assisted, until recently, by Mrs. John Barkow who now lives in Vallejo. Mrs. Irwin Lezzeni has since filled that vacancy.

The troop and troop committee were invested into the national organization during Founders' Week at an out-door ceremony at "Our Barn."

Legislation Topic For Auxiliary

Legislative matters predominated during the recent meeting of Twin Cities Unit 313 of the American Legion Auxiliary held in Larkspur.

Observance of patriotic holidays within schools was advocated by auxiliary members to instill greater patriotic love of country among the growing generations.

Mrs. Bryce Florence, legislative chairman for the unit, also urged member and public support for continuance of funds for the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Senator John McCarthy's letter to Mrs. James Green, president of the unit, as well as a letter from Congressman Clem Miller on civil defense matters was read to auxiliary members by Mrs. Maurine Lynch, secretary of the unit.

A poppy display window during Memorial weekend in May will be featured by Larkspur florist, Mrs. Catherine Eubanks, according to the unit's poppy chairman, Mrs. Doris Edgerton.

Barbara Ann Burns of Redwood High School has been announced as the unit's representative to girls' state government training session at Davis. Her alternate is Elizabeth Hammond of Kentfield. While only one candidate actually attends the session, both girls were selected on the basis of high scholastic standing and physical fitness for the annual auxiliary sponsored program.

March 28 has been slated for the next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit in Larkspur.

Let Cookies Help Fill Easter Basket

Tuck a few of these homemade cookies into the children's Easter baskets. They'll be an agreeable treat mingled among the traditional goodies.

Fact is, the crisp and buttery cookies contain bits of chopped candy bars to make them extra flavorsome. They are molded between the hands into ovals to resemble miniature eggs.

CONFECTION COOKIE EGGS
(Makes 3 dozen)

Cream 1 cup butter thoroughly. Add ½ cup confectioners' sugar and beat until well mixed. Slowly add 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 tablespoon milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla; mix well. Chop 2 Clark bars coarsely and add to dough. Wrap dough in waxed paper and chill.

Pinch off pieces of dough and shape into about one-inch ovals. Set two inches apart on ungreased cooky sheet. Chill again for 15 minutes. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes While still warm roll in confectioners' sugar.

100 YEARS AGO EDITORIAL

We Do Not Presume To Please All Of Our Readers

(NOTE: Just 100 years ago today, Editor Jerome A. Barney printed the first issue of the Marin County Journal, of which this paper is the direct descendant. In his first edition, on March 23, 1861, he printed the first of several editorials in which he attempted to set the policy of the new publication. The following is that first editorial; others of these will be printed at intervals during our centennial observance.)

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN THIS PAPER IS MOST RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED:

In assuming the duties of a journalist we sensibly feel the responsibility devolving us, but are satisfied that the people of this County, to whom we are well known, and for whom we desire principally to cull and please, will extend us that indulgence and support so necessary for the faithful discharge of our duties.

The importance of a newspaper published within the border of our County is known and felt by all, but we do not presume on the ability to please all of our readers, but shall only endeavor to satisfy ourselves that we have discharged our duty without the fear, favor or affectation of any clique or party, political or religious.

As far as our space will allow, we shall endeavor to lay before our readers as much of the current news of the day relating to our county and state affairs as we shall deem interesting and useful.

Communications on all subjects of public interest are respectfully requested.

Wildflower Spotters

Birdwatchers are a notoriously avid breed of humans. In the pursuit of their hobby, they think nothing of rising at 4:30 to scramble through the blackberry bushes and poison oak on what they call a field trip.

Marin also boasts another dedicated breed — the wildflower spotters. These eager practitioners will walk three miles for a Darlingtonia. They mutter the Latin names of various weeds in their sleep. And an eagle-eyed artist can spot a piece of blue-eyed grass at fifty yards from a moving car.

Our county has a treasure-house of wildflowers. It is no surprise that this hobby should flourish here.

KEEP YOUNG IN HEART

The power with which your heart pumps while you are still young and healthy may provide an accurate prediction of future heart disease, a noted specialist has observed.

This finding was based on a study conducted for 17 years on a group of 125 persons, all of whom began with healthy organs. Meanwhile, 30 of them have developed heart disease.

The key seems to be that those who had less pumping force early in life developed heart trouble more frequently as years went on.

"One can think of this group," commented the specialist, "as getting old before their time."

While you may not be able to do much about growing old physically, we can keep young mentally and spiritually by an outgoing concern for persons and projects that need our personal contribution.

God will bess you with a young and lively outlook on life if you cooperate with Him in using your talents for the good of other people.

"Be reformed in the newness of your mind, that you may prove what is the good and the acceptable and the perfect will of God."

(Romans 12:2)

Help me to keep spiritually alive, O God, by renewing my sense of mission.

Only Mistake In Adopting A Child Is Waiting Until It's Too Late

NEW YORK (AP)—"Should we try to adopt a baby? If we do, how do we know it will work out all right? What if it should turn out to be a mistake?"

Millions of childless American couples ask themselves those questions.

Many have asked my wife, Frances, and me these same questions since we adopted a 5-week-old daughter, Tracy Ann, nearly eight years ago.

Our answer invariably is: "Don't worry about it being a mistake. If you have an urge to adopt a child, the biggest mistake you can make is to delay or dawdle. The sooner you set about making an adoption, the more years you'll have to enjoy the child."

People who have never adopted a child have some weird ideas on this subject.

For example, they often mistakenly praise you by saying, "That's a wonderful thing you're doing — to take a strange infant into your home and treat it as your own."

Actually, of course, it's just the other way around. It is the child that is doing you a favor by widening and deepening your life with a new sense of fulfillment.

Others ask dubiously, "Do you ever really quite get to think of an adopted child as your own flesh and blood?"

The answer to this is, "Yes, but it does take time." In our own case it took a full 24 hours.

Since then we have been blindly and positively and overwhelmingly certain Tracy Ann is our very own daughter in every way.

That is the greatest miracle of adoption. You don't wonder or doubt afterward. You are wonderfully, wonderfully sure you have done the right thing. You might kind of wish you had done it earlier except for one thing—if you had you might have missed getting the perfect child you now have.

"But aren't you afraid you might get a child with latent defects?" some people inquire.

Well, so far as I know every child born since the beginning of time had latent defects of some kind—of body, mind or temperament, which show up sooner or later. That's no sound reason either for fearing to have a child, or to adopt one.

THE TRUTH IS that those we love endear themselves to us almost as much by their small defects as by their shining virtues. And children do a wonderful service for adults.

By letting us care for them they tend to cure us of our own defects of selfishness and blind preoccupation with our own interests. They keep our world bright and young.

LIVING ITSELF is a gamble, and if you want a child and can't have one, the best gamble you can take is to adopt one.

It isn't too big a gamble. Of the sources of parents I know who have adopted children, I have yet to meet one who regretted it.

FANCIES.
BY REX.
When the dim twilight shades
Fling round us a veil,
And the song of the night-birds
Swell out on the gale;
When the stars,—far more bright
Than the gems in a crown—
And the goddess of Night
Send their radiance down!
When all Nature's beauties,
Are softened by gloom,
And the roses are known
Only by their perfume;
Then, strange dreamy fancies
Flit by on the breeze,
And the wind as it sighs
Thro' the tall forest trees,
Whispers tales of a home
In a far sunny land,
Where Sorrow and Love,
Never walk hand in hand.
Ah! such dreams how they haunt us,
How they fling 'round the heart,
Their strange, weird spells,
With a sorcerer's art.

For the "Journal."
A Chapter of Occult History
A very curious, if not extraordinary case, has recently come to light, and is now engaging the attention of the courts in Great Britain. We condense the facts, and present the principal points to our readers. The title of the suit is "Byers vs The Attorney General." To the American reader it can be important only as a gem in English History, probably suppressed intentionally by the historians of that country, and because it lifts a corner of the veil that conceals the pool of royal profligacy which characterized the period in which the events occurred. The facts are as follows:

Lavina Janette Horton Byers, (such is the fair plaintiff's name,) filed her petition in the Court of Ordinary, claiming to be Princess of Cumberland and Duchess of Lancaster, as the granddaughter and lineal representative in the female line of his royal highness, Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, who died intestate in the year 1790.—It appears that on the 4th day of March 1767, his Royal Highness Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, the brother of George the Third, was married at the house of Lord Archer in London, to Olive, the daughter of the Rev. Dr. James Wilmot, who was at the time highly honored in court. This lady, Olive, was the daughter of a private marriage contracted by Dr. Wilmot with a Polish princess, daughter of Stanislaus, King of Poland. Miss Wilmot having found favor in the eyes of the Duke of Cumberland, he offered his hand and was accepted. The ceremony was performed by the lady's father, Dr. Wilmot, and was attended by King George the Third, the celebrated Earl of Chatham (William Pitt), the Earl of Warwick, and Lord Archer, in whose house the marriage took place. The certificate of this marriage as produced in court, duly attested, reads as follows:

"I hereby certify that I married Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, to Olive Wilmot, March 4, 1767, such marriage having been duly solemnized according to the rites and ceremonies of the Church of England. (Signed) J. WILMOT.
(Signed) "GEORGE R.
"CHATHAM.
"I witnessed such marriage,
(Signed)
"WARWICK."

On the 2nd day of October 1771, four years after his marriage with Olive Wilmot, the Duke of Cumberland, his first wife being still alive, contracted a marriage with Lady Anne Horton, daughter of the Earl of Carthampton. This last marriage was never recognized by the King, nor was she ever received at court.

On the 5th day of April 1772, Olive, the lawful wife of the Duke of Cumberland, was delivered at Warwick of a female child, who was also named Olive. The certificate of the birth of this child as appeared in proof is as follows:

"Olive, the daughter of Henry Frederick, Duke of Cumberland, and Olive, his lawful wife, born April 3, 1772, at Warwick.
"J. WILMOT,
"ROBERT WILMOT.
(Signed) "J. DUNNING,
"CHATHAM."

This child was baptized privately as the offspring of the Duke of Cumberland, and was declared by the Earl of Warwick; but was afterwards re-baptized by directions of the King, so that she might pass as the child of Robert Wilmot. Mr. Dunning, afterwards created Lord Ashburton, wrote in relation to the matter thus:

"I declare the Duke of Cumberland's marriage with Olive Wilmot to be legal, by command of the King."—

His majesty also made a provision of £500 a year for the infant daughter of the marriage, "until a more suitable provision could be made for her."—The King afterwards issued the following:

"GEORGE R.—We declare the birth of Olive, the infant of the Duke of Cumberland, by Olive his Duchess, to be legitimate, who is condemned to privacy, by the act of bigamy committed by her royal father.
(Signed) "CHATHAM.
"DUNNING,
(Signed) "WARWICK,
"J. WILMOT."

The marriage of the Duke was kept secret, and the child, Olive, passed as the child of Mr. Robert Wilmot, and resided with her grand-father, Dr. Wilmot, at "Barton on the Heath," until her marriage with one John Thomas Serres in 1792. She remained ignorant of her royal birth until 1815, when the secret was revealed to her by the Earl of Warwick.

The proofs further shew that George the Third in his will bequeaths,—"to Olive, our brother of Cumberland's daughter, the sum of £5,000, commanding our heir and successor to pay the same privately, to our said niece, for her use, as a recompense for the misfortunes she may have known through her father."

Lord Warwick made the Duke of Kent acquainted with the facts, who afterwards recognized Mrs. Serres as his cousin. His Royal Highness when on his death bed, wrote thus:

"Should I not recover, I recommend my dear cousin Olive to my wife, who will, for my sake, love and serve her until she recovers her loyal rights. I solemnly recommend my daughter to revere the Princess Olive of Cumberland for my sake.
"EDWARD."

And again—
"If this paper meets my dear Alexandrina's eye, my dear cousin Olive will present it, whom my daughter will, for my sake, I hope, love and serve, should I depart this life.
"EDWARD."

The petitioner, Lavina, J. H. Reves claims as the eldest surviving daughter of this Mr. Serres, and Olive, called Wilmot, but as it really appears, the Duchess of Cumberland and Lancaster, and seeks to recover the revenues, on account of her mother and herself to the amount of £100,644, and also £103,320, as a bequest from the royal family of England.

Serres, the father of the petitioner was marine draughtsman to George the Third, to the Admiralty, and to the then Duke of Clarence—he was also employed under Nelson at Copenhagen and Trafalgar.

It appears further in the case that her father and mother seperated in 1803—that she lived with her mother until her marriage. Certificates of the marriage of her mother with Serres, and of herself with Ryves were also exhibited. The parents of the claimant seperated, and her own husband abandoned her more than twenty years ago, leaving six children, whom she has creditably supported ever since.

There are many other minor details corroborative of the main facts which are interesting, but which we must omit for want of space. Suffice it to say, that the court issues which the case is pending, has clearly intimated the right of the petitioner to the claims which she has advanced; and little remains but to pronounce judgement in her favor. Is not this the romance of History?

☞ THE AUSTIN INTELLIGENCER, has been permitted to publish the following extract from a letter written by General Houston to an old friend, which defines his position thus;

"You say it is reported that I am for secession. Ask those who say so to point to a word of mine authorising the statement. I have declared myself in favor of peace, of harmony, of compromise, in order to obtain a fair expression of the will of the people. Dangerous as may be the precedent inaugurated by the Convention, before the majesty of the law, which recognizes its power to submit the question of disunion to the people, I yield in the same spirit that actuated Andrew Jackson in paying the fine arbitrarily imposed on him at New Orleans. I am determined that those who would overthrow law shall learn no lesson from me. I still believe that secession will bring ruin and civil war. Yet if the people will, I can bear it with them. I would fain not be declared an alien from my native home in old Virginia, to the scenes of my early toils and triumphs in noble Tennessee. I would not, of my own choice, give up the banner beneath which I have fought; the Constitution which I have revered, or the Union which I have loved and cherished as the glorious priceless heritage bequeathed me by my fathers.

Sixty-seven years of freedom, the recollections of past triumphs and sufferings, the memories of heroes whom I have seen and known, and whose venerated shades would haunt my footsteps were I to falter now, may perhaps have made me too devoted to the Constitution and the Union, but be it so. Did I believe that liberty and the rights of the South demanded the sacrifice, I would not hesitate. I believe that less concession than was necessary to frame the Constitution will now preserve it.

Thus believing, I cannot vote for secession. I have hesitated to say any thing on this topic, because I desire the people to act for themselves. My views are on record. Yet it is perhaps but right that my friends should know that, the charge that I am for secession is false. If I am fooling, still to this skirts of my venerated old mother, Virginia, and the foster-mother which matured me from boyhood, glorious Tennessee, my countrymen will forgive me, as they have forgiven me for many other things I have done. I am willing even to be called a submissionist for their sake."

☞ THE CHARLESTOWN MERCURY advises the immediate importation of a couple of millions of Africans, whom it calls "cannibals" into South Carolina. But isn't there some danger that so many cannibals might some morning eat up for breakfast all the white folks in that little State—and then start off to Florida for their dinner?

It is a curious physiological fact that enthusiastic lady skaters have remarkably small feet, and declare long skirts to be always in the way!

Artemus Ward says "the world continues to revolve round on her own axle trees once in 24 hours, subject to the Constitution of the United States."

They love the least who let each know their love.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

A Letter To Our Readers

READERS,
Independent-Journal:

On this, our 100th birthday, we would like to say thank you to all of the interested readers who have written to us.

Certainly it would not be possible to list all the people who have had their letters printed in the I-J in the past 100 years. Nor is it possible to record the hundreds of letters we have received and not had room to print.

As a token, however, and to indicate the wide field of individuals who write us, we record here the list of letter writers who have been published in this "What Our Readers Say" column in the two months of January and February this year. They include:

Mrs. D. R. Norman, John Keating, Jr., Ada Duncan, F. P. Sherry, Florence Richards, William Brannan, Mrs. Anne Smart, Mrs. Maryrose Eager, Hugh and Minnie McClements, L. G. Dobbins.

Eileen Goodwin (Mrs. Wm. F.), Gordon H. Dohemann, Andrew R. Gilardi Jr., David B. Drinkall, Milen Dempster, Eric W. Lane, W. P. Goddard, M.D., Douglas Heen, M. N. Finisy, D. Gwynn Thomson, M.D., Ward Motague, Louise Prange, George A. Storz, Mrs. William G. Thompson, Wm. Stephen Allen, Don Emmons, Theodore Bernardi, Robert Nelson, Robert Rowan, Richard Whitaker.

Louise Weston, William J. Young, M. N. Finisy, Harry McNeil, Mrs. Virgil Jones, Mary Anne Hall, Miss Gertrude Sandt, Don Bennett, Marjorie C. MacDonald, James F. Moore, Edmund A. Buck.

Harold B. Wagstaff, Marcelle B. McCoy, Helen R. Friedman, Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff, Lyle Leiser, J. A. Clyde, John W. Irwin, Edith P. Skewes-Cox, N. McPherson, Kellogg Smith, Geraldine Aldrich (Mrs. Wm.).

George E. Johnson, Edward E. Gaspar, Sally Garoutte (Mrs. Bill Garoutte), Alan Sturtevant, Arthur M. Lebow, Glynn Gregory, Frederic Weisenheimer, Josua Eppinger Jr., Beverly Bastian (Mrs. Robert Bastian), D. Kalman (Mrs. M.).

Niels Schultz Sr., Douglas A. Land, Harold Stockstad, John L. Hunt, Peter D. Whitney, John A. Starkweather, L. Pholmann, Grace Wellman (Mrs. T. C. Wellman) E. L. Daggett, Herb F. Dubenhorst.

Arthur K. Smart, Mrs. Tony Secchitano, William S. Johnstone, Glorya Davis (Mrs. Wm. K.), Mrs. Robert B. Allport, Robert G. Hollifield, John W. Boyd, Lillian L. McGovern, Margaret Neese (Mrs. Paul B. Neese), T. J. Donnelly, Evelyn McDougall.

John Baker, Volinda Call (Mrs. Hughes Call), J. R. Streiff, Mrs. D. C. Adams, Emil B. Bianco, Mrs. Ernest E. George, Sarah Bunds, John J. Schuck, Charles Michals, Robert G. Alderman, Carmen Gill.

Duval and Mary Jaros, Marion Papineau, Hans Geissler, Nancy Laden (Mrs. Norman Laden), Robert P. Watkins, M.D., L. W. Fallon, Randolph Pettersen, Patricia Sinnicks (Mrs. M. L. Sinnicks Jr.), Dorris Schmiedell.

Clarice Kraemer (Mrs. Ulrich Kraemer), Mathew Hansen, Eleanor C. Jenkins (Mrs. James Jenkins), William H. Squires, Arthur W. Walenta Jr., Morton K. Rubinstein, M.D., David E. Bills, Alice McAdams (Mrs. Clyde McAdams), Mrs. Donald J. Sollar, Harold F. Norman.

Sally Mathews (Mrs. Benton D.), Newton A. Dukes, Lola K. Hanzel (Mrs. Sam Hanzel), Walter A. Gresch, Mrs. Rose Connor, Rita Granados (Mrs. Marshall Granados), Helen B. Kerr, Dr. John P. O'Brien, Mrs. Birdsall Randolph, C. L. Winegarden, E. H. Carlson, Ruth L. Johnson.

To these, who live from our northern border to Sausalito and from Point Reyes to Black Point, we say thank you. And thank you, too, to all others who wrote in during the other 1198 months of our 100 years.

REMEMBER WHEN?

100 YEARS AGO
(Excerpts from an 1861 Marin Journal)

DIABOLICAL — Some depraved wretch stabbed a valuable cow, belonging to W. S. Hughes, Esq., on Monday night last, inflicting a deep gash 10 or 12 inches in length. Every exertion will be made to hunt up the offender.

A FRACAS—On last Sunday evening, a couple of Spanish individuals, names unknown, got into a quarrel in a saloon, whilst under the influence of coal rifled brandy, in which cold steel was manaced. They were soon cleared out by the officers, sent home and quiet restored.

CUTTING SCRAPE—Peter Irving was severely cut on his face on Tuesday last at Nicasio. We have been unable to learn the particulars.

ESCAPE — Rumor reaches us that three convicts effected their escape from one of the prison boats on Wednesday.

THROWN—On Wednesday last, F. Bludger came very nearly being killed by being thrown from his horse, whilst riding a race through our streets.

FREE FIGHT—On Tuesday night last, a free fight came off at Lindsey's Saloon between a candidate and a citizen from the upper portion of the county. Chairs flew, and pitchers wanted to do the same, but didn't. Cause—gin and charge of secessionism.

RUN OVER — On Sunday last, a gang of woodchoppers who had become rather elevated, caused by imbibing too much "rifle," for which this town is noted, while returning home in a wagon and not paying much attention to personal safety, two of them fell from the vehicle, one of whom escaped unhurt, while the other was considerably sobered by the wheels passing over him. Whiskey saved him; had he been sober he would have been considerably injured.

Being in a desperate case,
We write these lines to fill
this space.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

Journalism Is A Crazy, Wonderful Way Of Life To Look Forward To

"JOURNALISM'S a shrew and scold," wrote famous newsman Franklin P. Adams. But, he added, "I like her."

Ask any newspaperman. It's a crazy, funny, wonderful business.

Maybe today is a good day to ask, because this is the 100th birthday of the Independent-Journal, and a lot of fine newspapermen have served the paper in its first century.

They've sweated over stories, and pounded typewriters under deadline pressure, sat through dull meetings and exciting ones, known the special satisfaction of an exclusive story.

They've probably griped about their jobs and sometimes wondered how they ever got into newspaper work, and vowed some day they'd leave it.

But the ones who love it never do. We stay with it because we're secretly convinced that we have the best of all possible jobs.

RIGHT NOW, the I-J news staff is composed of people who have stayed with journalism for a total of more than 250 years. That's quite an impressive amount of reporting and writing and editing for a non-metropolitan paper, we'd say.

Why do we become newspapermen? Probably everyone of us could give you several different reasons.

We have the opportunity to see life, close-up and very real. We see the best and the worst of people. We see their joys and share their laughter, and sometimes we must interrupt them in their tragedies.

It's a crazy, funny, wonderful business, all right. No glamour, much that is routine, much that exasperates and bores you.

But there's also much that makes it very worth while.

BECAUSE WE have been part of journalism, we've met people from all over the world, seen and learned, and even forgotten, many things.

We saw a bottle of champagne smashed across the prow to launch the Forrestal, first of the giant aircraft carriers.

In a little Virginia town, we huddled behind the shelter of a fire truck as police waited for a half-crazed gunman to come out of the house where he was hiding.

We sat at a school board meeting in Virginia, just a few days after the Supreme Court integration decision some seven years ago, and heard the bitter words spoken by a white member to the lone Negro trustee on the board.

WE STOOD BY the bedside of one of the three survivors of a plane crash into New York waters, and heard him tell a story of panic and terror, and the luck that saved his life.

In Marin we've had the fun of riding an oyster boat in Drake's Bay to learn how oysters are "farmed." We've covered the controversial book-burning issue, met a lot of interesting people, and tried to learn how to be a columnist.

One thing every newsman knows for sure: when that telephone rings, any kind of story can come popping out.

HUNDREDS OF HANDS HELPED

I-J Historian Gives Advice To Her Sucessor In 2061

By DOROTHY SLATTERY GARDINER

(Note: Mrs. Gardiner spent most of her time for the past year preparing material for the I-J centennial Saturday supplements. Now that the job is done, she shares some of her feelings about it.)

It's all over.

Assignment Centennial (sometimes called the 100 Years War), is wrapped up, put to bed. After months of interviewing, reading, scuttling, rewriting, griping, it's done. We couldn't wait to wind it up; but now, only days later, it's missed.

Hundreds of hands helped turn out the four special sections, three yet to be distributed to I-J readers.

The doors of the Marin County Historical Society were always open to us and Curator Roy D. Graves supplied stacks of information and countless pictures.

The staffs of both Marin County and the San Rafael libraries were always willing to help, check out facts, look up dates and suggest books.

Pictures were supplied by the California Historical Society and the California Society of Pioneers.

DESCENDANTS of Marin pioneers unselfishly loaned us priceless paintings and photographs.

Mrs. Boyd Stewart of Olema took a valuable lithograph of the Stewart ranch, made almost a century ago from her dining room wall and allowed us to keep it for the better part of a year.

Mrs. Adolph Lietz of San Rafael did the same with a group of old photographs of her family, the Millers, who once owned the area that is now the site of Marinwood.

Rare photographs of early Sausalito were donated by collector C. R. Ellis. Donald Perry of San Anselmo told us tales about the early Ross Valley and his grandfather pioneer James Ross.

THE NAMES OF all the people who supplied us with information and photos would fill an entire page. But we'll always remember the help, consideration and courtesy with which the centennial was treated.

Experience is the best teacher. Now that the centennial has gone to press there are a few things that would be done differently if done again.

These tips could be passed on to the chronicler of the second hundred anniversary edition:

COLLECT LOTS of pictures. (Only Copy Editor Davis knows how they fill the blanks.)

Plead laryngitis when asked about history because a little digging proves a little knowledge is a dangerous thing.

When it's pointed out that you've made a slight historical error, retort: to be a historian, a person has to live a long time. Grin and add that you're only a kid that looks a little old.

And if things really get tough, get a plane ticket and get out of the county fast.

It's time to close up shop, empty the files, return the heirlooms and say thank you. It's all over and we're going to miss it.

100 YEARS AGO EDITORIAL

We Do Not Presume To Please All Of Our Readers

(NOTE: Just 100 years ago today, Editor Jerome A. Barney printed the first issue of the Marin County Journal, of which this paper is the direct descendant. In his first edition, on March 23, 1861, he printed the first of several editorials in which he attempted to set the policy of the new publication. The following is that first editorial; others of these will be printed at intervals during our centennial observance.)

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN THIS PAPER IS MOST RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED:

In assuming the duties of a journalist we sensibly feel the responsibility devolving us, but are satisfied that the people of this County, to whom we are well known, and for whom we desire principally to cull and please, will extend us that indulgence and support so necessary for the faithful discharge of our duties.

The importance of a newspaper published within the border of our County is known and felt by all, but we do not presume on the ability to please all of our readers, but shall only endeavor to satisfy ourselves that we have discharged our duty without the fear, favor or affectation of any clique or party, political or religious.

As far as our space will allow, we shall endeavor to lay before our readers as much of the current news of the day relating to our county and state affairs as we shall deem interesting and useful.

Communications on all subjects of public interest are respectfully requested.

Wildflower Spotters

Birdwatchers are a notoriously avid breed of humans. In the pursuit of their hobby, they think nothing of rising at 4:30 to scramble through the blackberry bushes and poison oak on what they call a field trip.

Marin also boasts another dedicated breed — the wildflower spotters. These eager practitioners will walk three miles for a Darlingtonia. They mutter the Latin names of various weeds in their sleep. And an eagle-eyed artist can spot a piece of blue-eyed grass at fifty yards from a moving car.

Our county has a treasure-house of wildflowers. It is no surprise that this hobby should flourish here.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

KEEP YOUNG IN HEART

The power with which your heart pumps while you are still young and healthy may provide an accurate prediction of future heart disease, a noted specialist has observed.

This finding was based on a study conducted for 17 years on a group of 125 persons, all of whom began with healthy organs. Meanwhile, 30 of them have developed heart disease.

The key seems to be that those who had less pumping force early in life developed heart trouble more frequently as years went on.

"One can think of this group," commented the specialist, "as getting old before their time."

While you may not be able to do much about growing old physically, we can keep young mentally and spiritually by an outgoing concern for persons and projects that need our personal contribution.

God will bess you with a young and lively outlook on life if you cooperate with Him in using your talents for the good of other people.

"Be reformed in the newness of your mind, that you may prove what is the good and the acceptable and the perfect will of God."

(Romans 12:2)

Help me to keep spiritually alive, O God, by renewing my sense of mission.

Only Mistake In Adopting A Child Is Waiting Until It's Too Late

NEW YORK (AP)—"Should we try to adopt a baby? If we do, how do we know it will work out all right? What if it should turn out to be a mistake?"

Millions of childless American couples ask themselves those questions.

Many have asked my wife, Frances, and me these same questions since we adopted a 5-week-old daughter, Tracy Ann, nearly eight years ago.

Our answer invariably is: "Don't worry about it being a mistake. If you have an urge to adopt a child, the biggest mistake you can make is to delay or dawdle. The sooner you set about making an adoption, the more years you'll have to enjoy the child."

People who have never adopted a child have some weird ideas on this subject.

For example, they often mistakenly praise you by saying, "That's a wonderful thing you're doing — to take a strange infant into your home and treat it as your own."

Actually, of course, it's just the other way around. It is the child that is doing you a favor by widening and deepening your life with a new sense of fulfillment.

Others ask dubiously, "Do you ever really quite get to think of an adopted child as your own flesh and blood?"

The answer to this is, "Yes, but it does take time." In our own case it took a full 24 hours.

Since then we have been blindly and positively and overwhelmingly certain Tracy Ann is our very own daughter in every way.

That is the greatest miracle of adoption. You don't wonder or doubt afterward. You are wonderfully, wonderfully sure you have done the right thing. You might kind of wish you had done it earlier except for one thing—if you had you might have missed getting the perfect child you now have.

"But aren't you afraid you might get a child with latent defects?" some people inquire.

Well, so far as I know every child born since the beginning of time had latent defects of some kind—of body, mind or temperament, which show up sooner or later. That's no sound reason either for fearing to have a child, or to adopt one.

THE TRUTH IS that those we love endear themselves to us almost as much by their small defects as by their shining virtues. And children do a wonderful service for adults.

By letting us care for them they tend to cure us of our own defects of selfishness and blind preoccupation with our own interests. They keep our world bright and young.

LIVING ITSELF is a gamble, and if you want a child and can't have one, the best gamble you can take is to adopt one.

It isn't too big a gamble. Of the sources of parents I know who have adopted children, I have yet to meet one who regretted it.

FANCIES.

BY REAL.

When the dim twilight shadows
Fling round us a veil,
And the song of the night-birds
Swell out on the gale;
When the stars,—far more bright
Than the gems in a crown—
And the goddess of Night
Send their radiance down;

When all Nature's beauties,
Are softened by gloom,
And the roses are known
Only by their perfume;
Then, strange dreamy fancies
Stir by on the breeze,
And the wind-sa it sighs
Thro' the tall forest trees,

Whispers tales of a home
In a far summer land,
Where Sorrow and Love,
Never walk hand in hand.

Ah! such dreams how they haunt me,
How they fling 'round the heart,
Their strange, weird spells,
With a sorcerer's art.

For the "Journal."

A Chapter of Occult History.

A very curious, if not extraordinary case, has recently come to light, and is now engaging the attention of the courts in Great Britain. We condense the facts, and present the principal points to our readers. The title of the suit is "Hayes vs The Attorney General." To the American reader it can be important only as a gem in English History, probably suppressed intentionally by the historians of that country and because it lifts a corner of the veil that conceals the fould of royal profligacy which characterized the period in which the events occurred. The facts are as follows:

Lavina Janette Horton Ryves, (such is the fair plaintiff's name,) filed her petition in the Court of Ordinary, claiming to be Princess of Cumberland and Duchess of Lancaster, as the granddaughter and lineal representative in the female line of his royal highness, Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, who died intestate in the year 1790.—It appears that on the 4th day of March 1767, his Royal Highness Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, the brother of George the Third, was married at the house of Lord Archer in London, to Olive, the daughter of the Rev. Dr. James Wilmot, who was at the time highly honored in court. This lady, Olive, was the daughter of a private marriage contracted by Dr. Wilmot with a Polish princess, daughter of Stanislaus, King of Poland. Miss Wilmot having found favor in the eyes of the Duke of Cumberland, he offered his hand and was accepted. The ceremony was performed by the lady's father, Dr. Wilmot, and was attended by King George the Third, the celebrated Earl of Chatham (William Pitt), the Earl of Warwick, and Lord Archer, in whose house the marriage took place. The certificate of this marriage as produced in court, duly attested, reads as follows:

"I hereby certify that I married Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, to Olive Wilmot, March 4, 1767, such marriage having been duly solemnized according to the rites and ceremonies of the Church of England. (Signed) J. WILMOT, (Signed) "GEORGE R.
"CHATHAM.
"I witnessed such marriage,
(Signed)
"WARWICK."

On the 2nd day of October 1771, four years after his marriage with Olive Wilmot, the Duke of Cumberland, his first wife being still alive, contracted a marriage with Lady Anne Horton, daughter of the Earl of Carthampton. This last marriage was never recognized by the King, nor was she ever received at court.

On the 2d day of April 1772, Olive, the lawful wife of the Duke of Cumberland, was delivered at Warwick of a female child, who was also named Olive. The certificate of the birth of this child as appeared in court is as follows:

"Olive, the daughter of Henry "Frederick, Duke of Cumberland, and "Olive, his lawful wife, born April 6, "1772, at Warwick.
"J. WILMOT,
"ROBERT WILMOT.
(Signed) "J. DUNNING,
"CHATHAM."

This child was baptized privately as the offspring of the Duke of Cumberland, and was declared by the Earl of Warwick; but was afterwards re-baptized by directions of the King, so that she might pass as the child of Robert Wilmot. Mr. Dunning, afterwards created Lord Ashburton, wrote in relation to the matter thus:

"I declare the Duke of Cumberland's "marriage with Olive Wilmot to be "legal, by command of the King."—His majesty also made a provision of £500 a year for the infant daughter of the marriage, "until a more suitable "provision could be made for her."—The King afterwards issued the following:

"GEORGE R.—We declare the birth "of Olive, the infant of the Duke of "Cumberland, by Olive his Duchess, "to be legitimate, who is condemned to "privacy by the act of higamy committed by her royal father.
(Signed) "CHATHAM.
"DUNNING.
Signed) "WARWICK.
"J. WILMOT."

The marriage of the Duke was kept secret, and the child, Olive, passed as the child of Mr. Robert Wilmot, and resided with her grand-father, Dr. Wilmot, at "Barton on the Heath," until her marriage with one John Thomas Serres in 1792. She remained ignorant of her royal birth until 1815, when the secret was revealed to her by the Earl of Warwick.

The proofs further show that George the Third in his will bequeathe,—"to Olive, our brother of Cumberland's "daughter, the sum of £15,000, commanding our heir and successor to "pay the same privately, to our said "niece, for her use, as a recompense "for the misfortunes she may have "known through her father."

Lord Warwick made the Duke of Kent acquainted with the facts, who afterwards recognized Mrs. Serres as his cousin. His Royal Highness when on his death bed, wrote thus:

"Should I not recover, I recommend my dear cousin Olive to my "wife, who will, for my sake, love and "serve her until she recovers her loyal "rights. I solemnly recommend my "daughter to revere the Princess Olive "of Cumberland for my sake.
"EDWARD."

And again—

"If this paper meets my dear Alexandrina's eye, my dear cousin Olive "will present it, whom my daughter "will, for my sake, I hope, love and "serve, should I depart this life.
"EDWARD."

The petitioner, Lavina, J. H. Reyes claims as the eldest surviving daughter of this Mr. Serres, and Olive, called Wilmot, but as it really appears, the Duchess of Cumberland and Lancaster, and seeks to recover the revenues, on account of her mother and herself to the amount of £100,644, and also £103,320, as a bequest from the royal family of England.

Serres, the father of the petitioner was marine draughtsman to George the Third, to the Admiralty, and to the then Duke of Clarence—he was also employed under Nelson at Copenhagen and Trafalgar.

It appears further in the case that her father and mother seperated in 1803—that she lived with her mother until her marriage. Certificates of the marriage of her mother with Serres, and of herself with Ryves were also exhibited. The parents of the claimant seperated, and her own husband abandoned her more than twenty years ago, leaving six children, whom she has creditably supported ever since.

There are many other minor details corroborative of the main facts which are interesting, but which we must omit for want of space. Suffice it to say, that the court before which the case is pending, has clearly intimated the right of the petitioner to the claims which she has advanced; and little remains but to pronounce judgment in her favor. Is not this the romance of History?

☞ The Austin Intelligencer, has been permitted to publish the following extract from a letter written by General Houston to an old friend, which defines his position thus:

"You say it is reported that I am for secession. Ask those who say so to point to a word of mine authorizing the statement. I have declared myself in favor of peace, of harmony, of compromise, in order to obtain a fair expression of the will of the people. Dangerous as may be the precedent inaugurated by the Convention, before the majesty of the law, which recognizes its power to submit the question of disunion to the people, I yield in the same spirit that actuated Andrew Jackson in paying the fine arbitrarily imposed on him at New Orleans. I am determined that those who would overthrow law shall learn no lesson from me. I still believe that secession will bring ruin and civil war. Yet if the people will, I can bear it with them. I would fain not be declared an alien from my native home in old Virginia, to the scenes of my early toils and triumphs in noble Tennessee. I would not, of my own choice, give up the banner beneath which I have fought, the Constitution which I have revered, or the Union which I have loved and cherished as the glorious priceless heritage bequeathed me by my fathers.

Sixty-seven years of freedom, the recollections of past triumphs and sufferings, the memories of heroes whose I have seen and known, and whose venerated shades would haunt my footsteps were I to falter now, may perhaps have made me too devoted to the Constitution and the Union, but be it so. Did I believe that liberty and the rights of the South demanded the sacrifice, I would not hesitate. I believe that less concession than was necessary to frame the Constitution will now preserve it.

Thus believing, I cannot vote for secession. I have hesitated to say any thing on this topic, because I desire the people to act for themselves. My views are on record. Yet it is perhaps but right that my friends should know that, the charge that I am for secession is false, if I err in holding on still to the stairs of my venerated old mother, Virginia, and the foster-mother which nurtured me from boyhood, glorious Tennessee, my countrymen will forgive me, as they have forgiven me for many other things I have done. I am willing even to be called a submissionist for their sake."

☞ The Charlestown Mercury advises the immediate importation of a couple of millions of Africans, whom it calls "cannibals" into South Carolina. But isn't there some danger that so many cannibals might some morning eat up for breakfast all the white folks in that little State—and then start off to Florida for their dinner?

It is a curious physiological fact that enthusiastic lady-haters have remarkably small feet, and declare long skirts to be always in the way!

Artemus Ward says "the world continues to revolve round on her own axle trees once in 24 hours, subject to the Constitution of the United States."

They love the least who let men know their love.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

A Letter To Our Readers

READERS,
Independent-Journal:

On this, our 100th birthday, we would like to say thank you to all of the interested readers who have written to us.

Certainly it would not be possible to list all the people who have had their letters printed in the I-J in the past 100 years. Nor is it possible to record the hundreds of letters we have received and not had room to print.

As a token, however, and to indicate the wide field of individuals who write us, we record here the list of letter writers who have been published in this "What Our Readers Say" column in the two months of January and February this year. They include:

Mrs. D. R. Norman, John Keating, Jr., Ada Duncan, F. P. Sherry, Florence Richards, William Brannan, Mrs. Anne Smart, Mrs. Maryrose Eager, Hugh and Minnie McClements, L. G. Dobbins.

Eileen Goodwin (Mrs. Wm. F.), Gordon H. Dohemann, Andrew R. Gilardi Jr., David B. Drinkall, Milen Dempster, Eric W. Lane, W. P. Goddard, M.D., Douglas Heen, M. N. Finisy, D. Gwynn Thomson, M.D., Ward Motague, Louise Prange, George A. Storz, Mrs. William G. Thompson, Wm. Stephen Allen, Don Emmons, Theodore Bernardi, Robert Nelson, Robert Rowan, Richard Whitaker.

Louise Weston, William J. Young, M. N. Finisy, Harry McNeil, Mrs. Virgil Jones, Mary Anne Hall, Miss Gertrude Sandt, Don Bennett, Marjorie C. MacDonald, James F. Moore, Edmund A. Buck.

George E. Johnson, Edward E. Gaspar, Sally Garoutte (Mrs. Bill Garoutte), Alan Sturtevant, Arthur M. Lebow, Glynn Gregory, Frederic Weisenheimer, Josua Eppinger Jr., Beverly Bastian (Mrs. Robert Bastian), D. Kalman (Mrs. M.).

Niels Schultz Sr., Douglas A. Land, Harold Stockstad, John L. Hunt, Peter D. Whitney, John A. Starkweather, L. Pholmann, Grace Wellman (Mrs. T. C. Wellman) E. L. Daggett, Herb F. Dubenhorst.

Arthur K. Smart, Mrs. Tony Secchitano, William S. Johnstone, Glorya Davis (Mrs. Wm. K.), Mrs. Robert B. Allport, Robert G. Hollifield, John W. Boyd, Lillian L. McGovern, Margaret Neese (Mrs. Paul B. Neese), T. J. Donnelly, Evelyn McDougall.

John Baker, Volinda Call (Mrs. Hughes Call), J. R. Streiff, Mrs. D. C. Adams, Emil B. Bianco, Mrs. Ernest E. George, Sarah Bunds, John J. Schuck, Charles Michals, Robert G. Alderman, Carmen Gill.

Clarice Kraemer (Mrs. Ulrich Kraemer), Mathew Hansen, Eleanor C. Jenkins (Mrs. James Jenkins), William H. Squires, Arthur W. Walenta Jr., Morton K. Rubinstein, M.D., David E. Bills, Alice McAdams (Mrs. Clyde McAdams), Mrs. Donald J. Sollar, Harold F. Norman.

Sally Mathews (Mrs. Benton D.), Newton A. Dukes, Lola K. Hanzel (Mrs. Sam Hanzel), Walter A. Gresch, Mrs. Rose Connor, Rita Granados (Mrs. Marshall Granados), Helen B. Kerr, Dr. John P. O'Brien, Mrs. Birdsall Randolph, C. L. Winegarden, E. H. Carlson, Ruth L. Johnson.

To these, who live from our northern border to Sausalito and from Point Reyes to Black Point, we say thank you. And thank you, too, to all others who wrote in during the other 1198 months of our 100 years.

REMEMBER WHEN?

100 YEARS AGO
(Excerpts from an 1861 Marin Journal)

DIABOLICAL — Some depraved wretch stabbed a valuable cow, belonging to W. S. Hughes, Esq., on Monday night last, inflicting a deep gash 10 or 12 inches in length. Every exertion will be made to hunt up the offender.

A FRACAS—On last Sunday evening, a couple of Spanish individuals, names unknown, got into a quarrel in a saloon, whilst under the influence of coal rifled brandy, in which cold steel was manaced. They were soon cleared out by the officers, sent home and quiet restored.

CUTTING SCRAPE—Peter Irving was severely cut on his face on Tuesday last at Nicasio. We have been unable to learn the particulars.

ESCAPE — Rumor reaches us that three convicts effected their escape from one of the prison boats on Wednesday.

THROWN—On Wednesday last, F. Bludger came very nearly being killed by being thrown from his horse, whilst riding a race through our streets.

FREE FIGHT—On Tuesday night last, a free fight came off at Lindsey's Saloon between a candidate and a citizen from the upper portion of the county. Chairs flew, and pitchers wanted to do the same, but didn't. Cause—gin and charge of secessionism.

RUN OVER — On Sunday last, a gang of woodchoppers who had become rather elevated, caused by imbibing too much "rifle," for which this town is noted, while returning home in a wagon and not paying much attention to personal safety, two of them fell from the vehicle, one of whom escaped unhurt, while the other was considerably sobered by the wheels passing over him. Whiskey saved him; had he been sober he would have been considerably injured.

Being in a desperate case,
We write these lines to fill
this space.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

Journalism Is A Crazy, Wonderful Way Of Life To Look Forward To

"JOURNALISM'S a shrew and scold," wrote famous newsman Franklin P. Adams. But, he added, "I like her."

Ask any newspaperman. It's a crazy, funny, wonderful business.

Maybe today is a good day to ask, because this is the 100th birthday of the Independent-Journal, and a lot of fine newspapermen have served the paper in its first century.

They've sweated over stories, and pounded typewriters under deadline pressure, sat through dull meetings and exciting ones, known the special satisfaction of an exclusive story.

They've probably griped about their jobs and sometimes wondered how they ever got into newspaper work, and vowed some day they'd leave it.

But the ones who love it never do. We stay with it because we're secretly convinced that we have the best of all possible jobs.

RIGHT NOW, the I-J news staff is composed of people who have stayed with journalism for a total of more than 250 years. That's quite an impressive amount of reporting and writing and editing for a non-metropolitan paper, we'd say.

Why do we become newspapermen? Probably everyone of us could give you several different reasons.

We have the opportunity to see life, close-up and very real. We see the best and the worst of people. We see their joys and share their laughter, and sometimes we must interrupt them in their tragedies.

It's a crazy, funny, wonderful business, all right. No glamour, much that is routine, much that exasperates and bores you.

But there's also much that makes it very worth while.

BECAUSE WE have been part of journalism, we've met people from all over the world, seen and learned, and even forgotten, many things.

We saw a bottle of champagne smashed across the prow to launch the Forrestal, first of the giant aircraft carriers.

In a little Virginia town, we huddled behind the shelter of a fire truck as police waited for a half-crazed gunman to come out of the house where he was hiding.

We sat at a school board meeting in Virginia, just a few days after the Supreme Court integration decision some seven years ago, and heard the bitter words spoken by a white member to the lone Negro trustee on the board.

WE STOOD BY the bedside of one of the three survivors of a plane crash into New York waters, and heard him tell a story of panic and terror, and the luck that saved his life.

In Marin we've had the fun of riding an oyster boat in Drake's Bay to learn how oysters are "farmed." We've covered the controversial book-burning issue, met a lot of interesting people, and tried to learn how to be a columnist.

One thing every newsman knows for sure: when that telephone rings, any kind of story can come popping out.

HUNDREDS OF HANDS HELPED

I-J Historian Gives Advice To Her Sucessor In 2061

By DOROTHY SLATTERY GARDINER

(Note: Mrs. Gardiner spent most of her time for the past year preparing material for the I-J centennial Saturday supplements. Now that the job is done, she shares some of her feelings about it.)

It's all over.

Assignment Centennial (sometimes called the 100 Years War), is wrapped up, put to bed. After months of interviewing, reading, scuttling, rewriting, griping, it's done. We couldn't wait to wind it up; but now, only days later, it's missed.

Hundreds of hands helped turn out the four special sections, three yet to be distributed to I-J readers.

The doors of the Marin County Historical Society were always open to us and Curator Roy D. Graves supplied stacks of information and countless pictures.

The staffs of both Marin County and the San Rafael libraries were always willing to help, check out facts, look up dates and suggest books.

Pictures were supplied by the California Historical Society and the California Society of Pioneers.

DESCENDANTS of Marin pioneers unselfishly loaned us priceless paintings and photographs.

Mrs. Boyd Stewart of Olema took a valuable lithograph of the Stewart ranch, made almost a century ago from her dining room wall and allowed us to keep it for the better part of a year.

Mrs. Adolph Lietz of San Rafael did the same with a group of old photographs of her family, the Millers, who once owned the area that is now the site of Marinwood.

Rare photographs of early Sausalito were donated by collector C. R. Ellis. Donald Perry of San Anselmo told us tales about the early Ross Valley and his grandfather pioneer James Ross.

THE NAMES OF all the people who supplied us with information and photos would fill an entire page. But we'll always remember the help, consideration and courtesy with which the centennial was treated.

Experience is the best teacher. Now that the centennial has gone to press there are a few things that would be done differently if done again.

These tips could be passed on to the chronicler of the second hundred anniversary edition:

COLLECT LOTS of pictures. (Only Copy Editor Davis knows how they fill the blanks.)

Plead laryngitis when asked about history because a little digging proves a little knowledge is a dangerous thing.

When it's pointed out that you've made a slight historical error, retort: to be a historian, a person has to live a long time. Grin and add that you're only a kid that looks a little old.

And if things really get tough, get a plane ticket and get out of the county fast.

It's time to close up shop, empty the files, return the heirlooms and say thank you. It's all over and we're going to miss it.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHARD BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counselor

Delinquent As A Child May Still Be A Success In His Later Years

Is your son a stinker? Don't despair. Most stinkers turn out well. Let me tell you about one of my old bad boys. His mother predicted he'd spend his life in prison; instead he's in Washington as a rising young lawyer. I'll call him "George."

I met George in a vice principal's office when he was 14. He was spending the day there. His teachers wouldn't have him in class. He teased them at every opportunity, was impudent, and didn't do his homework. He had fights with other kids and was fresh with girls.

His mother came to see me the next day, crying. George had had words with his dad. He ended the argument by running away. She said she couldn't see what she had done to deserve such a child. When George returned home I tested him. What I found was a highly gifted boy with an I.Q. of 172. (Average is 100.)

He was bored with life and irritated. School seemed fruitless to him. He retaliated by bothering everybody around him. I took a chance, moved George to a different school, and skipped him ahead a year. While he had not earned the extra promotion, I thought he needed it. I arranged to see him regularly in counseling interviews.

It worked. By the end of the year George was getting "A's." In senior high school he played football, made the debate team, and was an honor student. He graduated from college magna cum laude. He whizzed through law school, and joined a good law firm. Last January the Kennedy administration took him to Washington. His mother is very proud of him now.

(Q) "What is the best measure for predicting the success or failure of a student in college?" Mrs. E. V.

(A) The best single measure is the grade average earned in high school. "A" and "B" students usually do well. Others usually don't.

Mayor Unit Will Discuss City Services

Fines, fringe services and financing are on the agenda for the Marin County Council of Mayors meeting at 6:30 p. m. next Wednesday in the Mill Valley Municipal Golf Clubhouse.

Distribution of municipal court fines to cities heads the list. Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur city manager, recently won backing of a proposal to increase the shares going to Larkspur and Fairfax, but the formula adopted by the county board of supervisors for submission to the legislature would reduce the shares received by some other cities.

Fringe services — "city-type" services performed by the county for urban unincorporated areas—will be brought up again, as they have been many times before at Marin Council of Mayors meetings, said A. E. Almcrants, Mill Valley city manager and council secretary.

Third subject will be county participation in financing of improvement of streets that pass through cities. A plan for this, worked out by the cities and county last summer, appears to have fallen into discard.

Cash Stolen

Normand Black reported to Mill Valley police Tuesday that someone entered his shop, El Marin Florist-Gifts at 17 Miller Avenue Tuesday night through an open restroom window and removed $10 from a cash register.

Peace Walk Set In San Rafael

Members of the Marin Peace Center, the Marin Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, and the American Friends Service Committee, will hold a "poster peace walk" in San Rafael Saturday.

The march will start at 2 p.m. at Third and Irwin Streets.

The organizations plan to point up the need for world disarmament and to present a disarmament plan which is being simultaneously announced in a number of other cities across the country.

The plan calls for America to assume leadership for disarmament by initiating a stop to the manufacture and testing of bombs and their delivery for a limited period.

A group of Marinites also will participate in a 50-mile peace walk starting next Tuesday from Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in Sunnyvale.

SOME GAINS, LOSSES

Information Bills On Legislative Tap

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The public's right to know about its government's business stands to gain during the current session of the legislature, although there are some measures pending which would curtail it.

At the midway point in the 1961 session, no final action on any freedom of information bill has been taken. A number have been approved by the assembly, however, and are before senate committees.

The biggest series of bills on open meetings is by assembly Speaker Ralph M. Brown (D.-Modesto). Brown has authored about 16 bills, AB1233-49, requiring open meetings of public agencies. For the most part, the bills apply to agencies which were created in 1959 or since then and did not come under the original Brown Act on open meetings.

Brown also has authored ACA30 requiring meetings of the board of regents of the University of California to be open, except for discussions of personnel, honorary degrees, or atomic energy or security information. However, Brown, a member of the board of regents, has served notice he will make a motion at the next meeting to require the meetings to be open. If this can be accomplished, Brown presumably would drop his proposed constitutional amendment.

None of Brown's open meeting bills have been heard in committee as yet.

Assemblyman Frank Luckel (R.-San Diego) has authored AB127 which puts in a penalty provision under the Brown Act. In other words, it would make it a misdemeanor for any member of a public body to participate in a secret meeting.

The Luckel bill defines a legislative body to include planning commissions, library boards, recreation commissions and other permanent boards.

In addition to making it a misdemeanor for a member to participate in such a secret meeting, it provides that any action taken at a secret meeting shall be void. It would permit any interested person to commence an action, either by mandamus or injunction to stop or prevent violations of the open meeting law.

The Luckel bill has been approved by the Assembly and now is before the Senate Committee on Local Government.

Another major open meeting bill is AB363, by Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R.-San Francisco), which also has cleared the Assembly and is pending before the Senate Local Government Committee. It would extend the definition of a legislative body to include "any board, commission, committee or other body on which officers of a local agency serve in their official capacity as members and which is supported in whole or in part by funds provided by such agency, whether such board, commission, committee or other body is organized and operated by such local agency or by a private corporation."

The bill would include such groups as chambers of commerce which are partially supported by public funds.

In the senate, SB212 by Sen. Walter W. Stiern (D.-Bakersfield) would set up regional councils for hospital planning and require their meetings to be open.

On the minus side, AB946 by Assemblyman John A. O'Connell (D.-San Francisco) would prohibit the press or public from inspecting "police blotters." The bill is before the Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure, which has held a hearing but continued the measure for printing of amendments.

Men, 26, Are Termed Average Bad Drivers

MONTEREY (AP)—The reckless California driver was pictured today as a young man who drives more than most people—and whose driving can be improved.

Robert I. McCarthy, director of motor vehicles, said the records of 90 per cent of negligent drivers improved after the state located them and required "driver improvement action."

McCarthy said in a speech prepared for the California Sheriffs Assn. convention:

"California's negligent drivers are young, half of them under 26½ years of age. Ninety-six per cent of them are men. They drive much more than ordinary drivers."

McCarthy said a recently completed study of 4,081 negligent drivers established youth as the main characteristic. A total of 1,960 were under 26.

The group averaged 17,219 miles of driving a year, compared with a median of 7,449 for all drivers.

All but 141 of the group were men. But McCarthy said it isn't conclusive evidence that women are better drivers, since men drive more.

Negligent drivers — defined as those who are cited for more than four violations in a year, six in two years or eight in three years—improved after they were warned, put on probation or had their licenses suspended or revoked.

"We find that approximately 90 per cent of the studied drivers improved during the first 12 months after department action," McCarthy said.

A total of about one-third of the drivers had no more convictions for a full year after department action, compared with a rate of at least one ticket every three months before action.

Among various occupation groups, professional drivers accounted for 12.3 per cent of the negligent drivers. McCarthy said this was high, since only 2 per cent of all licensed drivers are professionals.

Laborers and semi-skilled workers comprised 27.2 per cent of the group; tradesmen and skilled workers 17.6 per cent; business and professional people 17.8 per cent.

Optimist Club Project 17 Plan Gaining

The Mill Valley Optimist Club, turned down by the city once on plans for a restroom and shower building at the project 17 recreation area, received initial approval on new plans from the parks and recreation commission Tuesday night.

Approval was given with the recommendation that the architectural advisory committee study the building from an architectural standpoint. Plans are to be studied also from the standpoint that buildings be built of materials which require minimum maintenance.

Previous plans were turned down by the planning commission and city council with the request that professional assistance be hired to develop an "integrated architectural design for the entire area." However, the city did not approve hiring of an architect to make the plans but sent the matter back to the optimists asking for a new plan.

The resignation of planning commissioner William A. Daegling of 90 Val Vista Avenue was accepted. The plans to move to Bakersfield.

The commission submitted to the city council a budget of $4,689 for the coming fiscal year.

Delinquent As A Child May Still Be A Success In His Later Years

Is your son a stinker? Don't despair. Most stinkers turn out well. Let me tell you about one of my old bad boys. His mother predicted he'd spend his life in prison; instead he's in Washington as a rising young lawyer. I'll call him "George."

I met George in a vice principal's office when he was 14. He was spending the day there. His teachers wouldn't have him in class. He teased them at every opportunity, was impudent, and didn't do his homework. He had fights with other kids and was fresh with girls.

His mother came to see me the next day, crying. George had had words with his dad. He ended the argument by running away. She said she couldn't see what she had done to deserve such a child. When George returned home I tested him. What I found was a highly gifted boy with an I.Q. of 172. (Average is 100.)

He was bored with life and irritated. School seemed fruitless to him. He retaliated by bothering everybody around him. I took a chance, moved George to a different school, and skipped him ahead a year. While he had not earned the extra promotion, I thought he needed it. I arranged to see him regularly in counseling interviews.

It worked. By the end of the year George was getting "A's." In senior high school he played football, made the debate team, and was an honor student. He graduated from college magna cum laude. He whizzed through law school, and joined a good law firm. Last January the Kennedy administration took him to Washington. His mother is very proud of him now.

(A) The best single measure is the grade average earned in high school. "A" and "B" students usually do well. Others usually don't.

Mayor Unit Will Discuss City Services

Fines, fringe services and financing are on the agenda for the Marin County Council of Mayors meeting at 6:30 p. m. next Wednesday in the Mill Valley Municipal Golf Clubhouse.

Distribution of municipal court fines to cities heads the list. Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur city manager, recently won backing of a proposal to increase the shares going to Larkspur and Fairfax, but the formula adopted by the county board of supervisors for submission to the legislature would reduce the shares received by some other cities.

Fringe services — "city-type" services performed by the county for urban unincorporated areas—will be brought up again, as they have been many times before at Marin Council of Mayors meetings, said A. E. Almcrants, Mill Valley city manager and council secretary.

Third subject will be county participation in financing of improvement of streets that pass through cities. A plan for this, worked out by the cities and county last summer, appears to have fallen into discard.

Cash Stolen

Normand Black reported to Mill Valley police Tuesday that someone entered his shop, El Marin Florist-Gifts at 17 Miller Avenue Tuesday night through an open restroom window and removed $10 from a cash register.

Peace Walk Set In San Rafael

Members of the Marin Peace Center, the Marin Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, and the American Friends Service Committee, will hold a "poster peace walk" in San Rafael Saturday.

The march will start at 2 p.m. at Third and Irwin Streets.

The organizations plan to point up the need for world disarmament and to present a disarmament plan which is being simultaneously announced in a number of other cities across the country.

The plan calls for America to assume leadership for disarmament by initiating a stop to the manufacture and testing of bombs and their delivery for a limited period.

A group of Marinites also will participate in a 50-mile peace walk starting next Tuesday from Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in Sunnyvale.

SOME GAINS, LOSSES

Information Bills On Legislative Tap

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The public's right to know about its government's business stands to gain during the current session of the legislature, although there are some measures pending which would curtail it.

At the midway point in the 1961 session, no final action on any freedom of information bill has been taken. A number have been approved by the assembly, however, and are before senate committees.

The biggest series of bills on open meetings is by assembly Speaker Ralph M. Brown (D.-Modesto). Brown has authored about 16 bills, AB1233-49, requiring open meetings of public agencies. For the most part, the bills apply to agencies which were created in 1959 or since then and did not come under the original Brown Act on open meetings.

Brown also has authored ACA30 requiring meetings of the board of regents of the University of California to be open, except for discussions of personnel, honorary degrees, or atomic energy or security information. However, Brown, a member of the board of regents, has served notice he will make a motion at the next meeting to require the meetings to be open. If this can be accomplished, Brown presumably would drop his proposed constitutional amendment.

None of Brown's open meeting bills have been heard in committee as yet.

Assemblyman Frank Luckel (R.-San Diego) has authored AB127 which puts in a penalty provision under the Brown Act. In other words, it would make it a misdemeanor for any member of a public body to participate in a secret meeting.

The Luckel bill defines a legislative body to include planning commissions, library boards, recreation commissions and other permanent boards.

In addition to making it a misdemeanor for a member to participate in such a secret meeting, it provides that any action taken at a secret meeting shall be void. It would permit any interested person to commence an action, either by mandamus or injunction to stop or prevent violations of the open meeting law.

The Luckel bill has been approved by the Assembly and now is before the Senate Committee on Local Government.

Another major open meeting bill is AB363, by Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R.-San Francisco), which also has cleared the Assembly and is pending before the Senate Local Government Committee. It would extend the definition of a legislative body to include "any board, commission, committee or other body on which officers of a local agency serve in their official capacity as members and which is supported in whole or in part by funds provided by such agency, whether such board, commission, committee or other body is organized and operated by such local agency or by a private corporation."

The bill would include such groups as chambers of commerce which are partially supported by public funds.

In the senate, SB212 by Sen. Walter W. Stiern (D.-Bakersfield) would set up regional councils for hospital planning and require their meetings to be open.

On the minus side, AB946 by Assemblyman John A. O'Connell (D.-San Francisco) would prohibit the press or public from inspecting "police blotters." The bill is before the Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure, which has held a hearing but continued the measure for printing of amendments.

Men, 26, Are Termed Average Bad Drivers

MONTEREY (AP)—The reckless California driver was pictured today as a young man who drives more than most people—and whose driving can be improved.

Robert I. McCarthy, director of motor vehicles, said the records of 90 per cent of negligent drivers improved after the state located them and required "driver improvement action."

McCarthy said in a speech prepared for the California Sheriffs Assn. convention:

"California's negligent drivers are young, half of them under 26½ years of age. Ninety-six per cent of them are men. They drive much more than ordinary drivers."

McCarthy said a recently completed study of 4,081 negligent drivers established youth as the main characteristic. A total of 1,960 were under 26.

The group averaged 17,219 miles of driving a year, compared with a median of 7,449 for all drivers.

All but 141 of the group were men. But McCarthy said it isn't conclusive evidence that women are better drivers, since men drive more.

Negligent drivers — defined as those who are cited for more than four violations in a year, six in two years or eight in three years—improved after they were warned, put on probation or had their licenses suspended or revoked.

"We find that approximately 90 per cent of the studied drivers improved during the first 12 months after department action," McCarthy said.

A total of about one-third of the drivers had no more convictions for a full year after department action, compared with a rate of at least one ticket every three months before action.

Among various occupation groups, professional drivers accounted for 12.3 per cent of the negligent drivers. McCarthy said this was high, since only 2 per cent of all licensed drivers are professionals.

Laborers and semi-skilled workers comprised 27.2 per cent of the group; tradesmen and skilled workers 17.6 per cent; business and professional people 17.8 per cent.

Optimist Club Project 17 Plan Gaining

The Mill Valley Optimist Club, turned down by the city once on plans for a restroom and shower building at the project 17 recreation area, received initial approval on new plans from the parks and recreation commission Tuesday night.

Approval was given with the recommendation that the architectural advisory committee study the building from an architectural standpoint. Plans are to be studied also from the standpoint that buildings be built of materials which require minimum maintenance.

Previous plans were turned down by the planning commission and city council with the request that professional assistance be hired to develop an "integrated architectural design for the entire area." However, the city did not approve hiring of an architect to make the plans but sent the matter back to the optimists asking for a new plan.

The resignation of planning commissioner William A. Daegling of 90 Val Vista Avenue was accepted. The plans to move to Bakersfield.

The commission submitted to the city council a budget of $4,689 for the coming fiscal year.

Tire, Wheel Taken

A spare wheel and tire, blanket, flares and tools were taken from his car while it was parked in the carport at his apartment, Calvin C. Gaare of 17 Marinita Avenue reported to San Rafael police yesterday.

Drunken Driver Gets $210 Fine

Orville Nelson, 55, of 110 Scenic Road, Fairfax, drew a $210 fine and six months probation yesterday for drunken driving.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Nelson for driving while intoxicated along Magnolia Avenue and Bon Air Road in Larkspur last March 11.

George Reed Martin, 47, of 16 Grove Street, Mill Valley, must pay a $184 fine and remain on six months probation. Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 on March 12.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL APPORTIONMENT AUTHORIZATION ELECTION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the qualified electors of the Dixie School District of Marin County, California, that in accordance with the provisions of the Education Code of the State of California a special apportionment authorization election will be held on the 18th day of April, 1961, at the polling places named in the hereinafter described and designated precincts in this school district, between the hours of 7:00 o'clock A.M. and 7:00 o'clock P.M. (during which period and between which hours the polls shall remain open) and at which time and place there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said school district the following proposition:

PROPOSITION

Shall the Governing Board of the Dixie School District be authorized to accept and expend an apportionment in an amount not to exceed Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000.00) from the State of California, under and subject to the provisions of Chapter 10 of Division 14 of the Education Code, which amount is subject to repayment as provided by said chapter?

Not less than ten (10) days before said election any voter who expects to be absent from his election precinct or unable to vote therein on the day of said election, or who resides more than ten (10) miles from the nearest polling place by the most direct route for public travel, may file, either in person or by mail, his written application with the County Superintendent of Schools, 317 Fourth Street, San Rafael, California, for an absent voters ballot.

For the purpose of holding said election, the school district shall be and is hereby divided into five (5) special election precincts, numbered from one (1) to five (5) consecutively, as hereinafter described, and the persons hereinafter named being competent and qualified electors of said school district, and of their respective election precincts, are hereby appointed officers of election as hereinafter designated to serve in the respective election precincts as hereinafter set forth, and said officers of election shall conduct said election and make returns thereof pursuant to law.

The voting precincts, polling places and election officers, duly designated and appointed, are as follows:

Two Marinites Write Jewish Video Story

An original script by Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom and Penrod Moss, principal of the congregation's religious school, will be presented on KRON-TV (Channel 4) at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

This special pre-Passover program is under the auspices of the Board of Rabbis of Northern California. Passover is Judaism's spring festival when Jews all over the world commemorate the escape of the Israelites from Egypt.

Those taking part include Lawrence Goldberg, Harold Harris, Mrs. George Goldman, Mrs. M. J. Greenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sipkin.

This holiday will be observed by Marin County Jews starting with a special sunset service on March 31, and continuing to and including April 8.

Candidates Ready For Public Talk

Candidates for the Novato Unified School District Board will be invited to speak at a candidates' night at 8 p.m. March 30 in the Novato High School cafeteria. The program is sponsored by the Novato Advisory Council for Education.

They are incumbents Marett Boissevain and William Kirk, challengers David Patterson and Charles Thompson. A fifth candidate, Mrs. Clifford Olson, today announced she is withdrawing from the race.

Each will be asked to comment on four major questions on their backgrounds and views on school affairs.

Open Session On Teachers Slated

The Sausalito School District board has decided to make public a list of 26 teachers who do not yet have tenure and give parents time to express themselves on rehiring those on the list.

The decision was reached, trustees reported, during an executive session on contracts which followed last night's regular board meeting.

The list of teachers is to be presented at a public meeting of the board next Tuesday.

Payments To Injured

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Forty-three per cent of all injured workers covered by California's Workmen's Compensation Act received maximum payments of $65 a week, according to a one-month study by the State Division of Labor Statistics and Research.

'I Am A Camera' Opens Tomorrow In Sausalito

The Sausalito Little Theater will present "I Am a Camera," opening tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. for a run of five weekends at 745 Bridgeway.

"Camera" is designed and staged by Vincent Porcaro, who is a personal friend of Christopher Isherwood whose "Berlin Stories" serve as a base for the play.

In a recent note regarding the Sausalito production, Isherwood said that, though he would like to attend a performance, he is leaving for England and would be unable to see it. He offered several technical suggestions and his best wishes on a successful run.

The play takes place in Berlin in 1930, as Hitler is coming into power. It deals with the extraordinary Sally Bowles, who as a little girl listened to what the grownups said about tarts and then later in her life tried rather desperately to act like one.

The role of Sally is played by Delia Slade, who brings her acting experience to bear in the part made famous by Julie Harris.

Herb Beckman, owner of the Tides book store in Sausalito, plays the fictitious Chris Isherwood, a fledgling writer who observes Sally and her pals and, like a camera, records their story.

Michael Bry is cast as the German gigolo who falls in love with a young Jewish girl, Lynne Arden. Clive Mortimer, a wealthy Texas playboy, is portrayed by James McLaughlin. Fraulein Schneider, Isherwood's earthy, plain-spoken landlady is played by Merle McDill and Bunty Mordant is cast as Sally's mother.

Useless Effort

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — In a move to determine how parking meters can be used most efficiently, Topeka traffic officers started marking the tires of parked cars.

But their efforts went for naught.

Novato Players Schedule Tryouts

Tryouts for parts in "Charley's Aunt" will be held tonight by the Novato Community Players.

Roles are open for four women, six men and for minor parts, in addition to backstage roles on working on sets and costume making. Tryouts will begin at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community Clubhouse, 906 Machin Street.

Two Marinites Write Jewish Video Story

An original script by Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom and Penrod Moss, principal of the congregation's religious school, will be presented on KRON-TV (Channel 4) at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

This special pre-Passover program is under the auspices of the Board of Rabbis of Northern California. Passover is Judaism's spring festival when Jews all over the world commemorate the escape of the Israelites from Egypt.

Those taking part include Lawrence Goldberg, Harold Harris, Mrs. George Goldman, Mrs. M. J. Greenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sipkin.

This holiday will be observed by Marin County Jews starting with a special sunset service on March 31, and continuing to and including April 8.

Candidates Ready For Public Talk

Candidates for the Novato Unified School District Board will be invited to speak at a candidates' night at 8 p.m. March 30 in the Novato High School cafeteria. The program is sponsored by the Novato Advisory Council for Education.

They are incumbents Marett Boissevain and William Kirk, challengers David Patterson and Charles Thompson. A fifth candidate, Mrs. Clifford Olson, today announced she is withdrawing from the race.

Each will be asked to comment on four major questions on their backgrounds and views on school affairs.

Open Session On Teachers Slated

The Sausalito School District board has decided to make public a list of 26 teachers who do not yet have tenure and give parents time to express themselves on rehiring those on the list.

The decision was reached, trustees reported, during an executive session on contracts which followed last night's regular board meeting.

The list of teachers is to be presented at a public meeting of the board next Tuesday.

'I Am A Camera' Opens Tomorrow In Sausalito

The Sausalito Little Theater will present "I Am a Camera," opening tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. for a run of five weekends at 745 Bridgeway.

"Camera" is designed and staged by Vincent Porcaro, who is a personal friend of Christopher Isherwood whose "Berlin Stories" serve as a base for the play.

In a recent note regarding the Sausalito production, Isherwood said that, though he would like to attend a performance, he is leaving for England and would be unable to see it. He offered several technical suggestions and his best wishes on a successful run.

The play takes place in Berlin in 1930, as Hitler is coming into power. It deals with the extraordinary Sally Bowles, who as a little girl listened to what the grownups said about tarts and then later in her life tried rather desperately to act like one.

The role of Sally is played by Delia Slade, who brings her acting experience to bear in the part made famous by Julie Harris.

Herb Beckman, owner of the Tides book store in Sausalito, plays the fictitious Chris Isherwood, a fledgling writer who observes Sally and her pals and, like a camera, records their story.

Michael Bry is cast as the German gigolo who falls in love with a young Jewish girl, Lynne Arden. Clive Mortimer, a wealthy Texas playboy, is portrayed by James McLaughlin. Fraulein Schneider, isherwood's earthy, plain-spoken landlady is played by Merle McDill and Bunty Mordant is cast as Sally's mother.

Useless Effort

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — In a move to determine how parking meters can be used most efficiently, Topeka traffic officers started marking the tires of parked cars.

But their efforts went for naught.

Novato Players Schedule Tryouts

Tryouts for parts in "Charley's Aunt" will be held tonight by the Novato Community Players.

Roles are open for four women, six men and for minor parts, in addition to backstage roles on working on sets and costume making. Tryouts will begin at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community Clubhouse, 906 Machin Street.

Shell Research scientists reveal how they got 168.47 miles per gallon

One hundred and sixty-eight miles per gallon must be a world's record. Like most records, it could never have been achieved without the most painstaking effort.

The two Shell scientists who hold this record have given us a report on how they managed it. They have also added some tips on how you can increase your car's mileage. Not by using their own extreme modifications and outlandish techniques. But by a quiet marriage of careful driving and today's Super Shell gasoline.

Shell Research scientists, Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, in the rebuilt 1924 coupé which set the world mileage record. Its original frontal area was reduced by about 75 per cent to cut down wind resistance. Shellzone® anti-freeze was used as a coolant. And free-fitting aluminum alloy pistons were installed, each of which had only two piston rings to reduce friction. Special shock absorbers were the sole concession to comfort.

SHELL scientists are a competitive lot. Their constant pursuit of top performance has all the elements of a race.

Some years ago, an argument as to who could get the most miles out of a gallon of gasoline boiled up into a challenge. And Shell's Mileage Marathon was born.

Shell scientists have competed in this Mileage Marathon for several years. Not as a publicity stunt. But purely as a private contest of ingenuity. They use their own cars. Their own time. Their own money.

Not for everyday use

The best mileage recorded so far is a resounding 168 miles per gallon.

Many of the things contestants did to push mileage up to this world record are positively not recommended for informal marathons on the public highway. But they do throw some light on what makes a little gasoline go a long way. Here are some details.

Record-breaking car cost $35

Shell's record-breaking car was a highly modified 1924 2-passenger coupé (see cut). It was rescued from a junkyard for $35.

The only rigid requirements that had to be met to qualify for the Mileage Marathon could be written on a book of matches.

The car had to have four rubber-tired wheels. It had to weigh no less than 2000 pounds. It had to have at least 100 cu. in. piston displacement. And it had to use the same gasoline that anybody could buy at a Shell service station, with no doctoring allowed.

After that, no holds were barred. The car that won used a standard carburetor from an old one-cylinder engine.

Tire pressures up to 110 pounds

Such crazy pressures would, of course, be quite unsafe under normal road conditions—and hideously uncomfortable, too.

But, under Shell's carefully controlled Marathon safety rules, the only ill effects were a few rattled vertebrae, some broken springs and an embarrassing bruise or two.

Pressure problems for the champs

Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, who eventually set the existing record, had to be satisfied with something less spectacular in the tire pressure department.

Their 1924 car's beat-up tires couldn't possibly take more than 50 pounds. And, even then, they felt more solid than pneumatic. But there was a helpful mileage dividend in the old, wood-spoked wheels.

They took tires that were nearly a yard in diameter. This moved the car forward an extraordinary 9½ feet at every revolution.

What's more, these ancient tires were worn so smooth that road friction was cut to a minimum. Other competitors achieved a similar result by buffing off their treads, till only the slimmest strip touched the road.

SAFETY NOTE FROM THE CHAMPS: Don't try buffing the tread off your own tires. You risk more than a puncture. It might mean a blowout and a crash.

Muffled radiator and no fan

Many competitors went as far as to remove their engine's water pump and generator to save engine load. But Berry and Schuette grandly ignored this refinement.

However, they did remove their cooling fan to save energy. And they did muffle their radiator completely to save heat.

As anybody knows, all cars go better when properly warmed up. And, because our mileage champs used an "engine-off, engine-on" driving technique in the contest, they even designed a special exhaust-heated air duct that warmed the mixture as it was sucked into the carburetor.

Incidentally, did you know that fast warm-up is specially provided for in today's Super Shell? Its formula contains a gasoline ingredient called "Pentane Mix." This acts in your engine much as kindling acts in a log fire.

NET RESULT: Your car delivers top performance in a hurry.

One push and wheels spin for 30 minutes

Since the contest had nothing to do with wear, many daring liberties were taken with lubrication systems.

On the winning car—the transmission and wheel bearings were lubricated with light engine oil instead of with heavy oil and grease, to reduce drag. It worked.

When the front wheels were jacked up and given an experimental push, they continued to spin for half an hour!

Of course, no Shell serviceman would ever approve of such liberties being taken with your own car's lubrication. And he would be right.

A Marathon car is a Marathon car. And nobody minds if it breaks down after it wins. But your family car is a different matter.

Trust your Shell serviceman's advice on all lubrication problems. He's an expert—and he's got the finest tools, charts, lubricants and gasoline to give your car the maximum mileage it was designed to deliver.

The champs' "on-and-off" driving

Shell's record was set in two trips over an 11.94 mile course. The run was almost a walk.

The winning car was accelerated to 20 miles per hour, at which point the driver cut his engine and coasted in neutral.

Only when the "speed" dropped below 5 miles per hour was the engine restarted and the cycle repeated. All acceleration was done in high gear and at nearly full throttle. There was little choice. All other gears were removed prior to the contest.

Serious—or scientific fun?

You already know the result of all this eccentric tinkering and mad-hatter driving.

But, since "on-and-off" driving is illegal on the public road—and since most Marathon modifications are positively dangerous for normal use—you may be wondering if Shell's Mileage Marathon has any point.

Is it a serious test? Or is it a piece of semi-scientific fun that is just an excuse for a picnic? The answer is—a bit of both.

Knowledge passed on

When Marathon Day rolls around at Shell, there is certainly a picnic atmosphere at the testing grounds.

The somewhat bizarre parade of vehicles—coughing and jerking and puffing around the track has a Mack Sennett quality about it. You expect the Keystone Cops to arrive at any minute.

But remember that the Marathon itself is only a climax to months, and sometimes years, of serious and ingenious work. Not everybody sets a world record. But every contestant learns a little more about the care and feeding of automobiles. Which, after all, is Shell's main job.

Eventually, every bit of this knowledge—whether it comes from the Marathon, the workshop, or the lab—is passed on to you in the form of better and better products.

Today's Super Shell is a shining example. Thanks to continuous engine studies and mileage tests, Super Shell now contains a special mileage booster called Platformate.

Among Platformate's extraordinary super-energy components are benzene, toluene and xylene. These three components alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline.

The lesson is obvious. The first thing you do to get extra mileage from your own car is to put extra energy into your fuel tank, by using today's Super Shell. Then, if you want to boost mileage even more, take these tips from Shell's experts.

Seven tips that save gasoline

1. Don't race your engine when stationary. Every revolution is pure waste unless it is taking you somewhere.

2. Avoid jack rabbit starts. In the long run, they waste gallons of gasoline by holding automatic transmissions in low gear too long.

3. Drive at moderate speeds. Your car uses about 40 per cent more gasoline at 60 mph than at 35 mph.

4. Keep an even speed. Ragged driving uses fuel without using the power it generates.

5. Pace yourself to traffic. Don't be the fastest or the slowest. It traps you into wasteful spurts and slowdowns.

6. Keep tires up to their proper pressures. Soft tires soak up power the way a blotter soaks up ink.

7. Get your Shell man to make these checks. Your carburetor should be adjusted periodically. Spark timing should be correct. Fuel filters and air cleaner should be clean. Brakes should be properly adjusted. And your thermostat must be in working order.

Follow these simple rules—and you'll probably be surprised at the extra mileage you get with today's Super Shell.

Many car-owners report up to 30 extra miles per tankful. We can't guarantee this saving. But, unless you're a millionaire, it's worth thinking about.

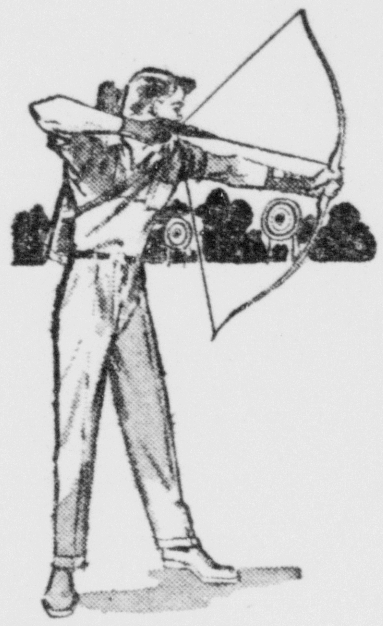
Marin's Outdoor Spectacle Expected To Attract 35,000

Marin's own outdoor spectacle—which in eight short years has grown from a small one night stand into a major community event — goes on again this weekend. It is the annual Marin Rod and Gun Club Sports Show which opens its doors tomorrow night for a three-day run at San Rafael's Bermuda Palms.

Spotlighting the exciting world of sports afield and afloat, the 1961 show will display a spectacular array of hunting, fishing, camping, skindiving, boating and travel gear — all the latest innovations in outdoor adventure.



More than 35,000 persons are expected to attend the recreational extravaganza which is the only sports show in the state sponsored by a sportsmen's organization and with the proceeds going to an active conservation program.

Best of all, the show is admission free and plenty of free parking is available.

Highlighting the show this year will be a number of exclusive exhibits and demonstrations, including the famed gun collection of Harold's Club of Reno. Featuring two rare 1851 Starr conversion revolvers carried by General George A. Custer, the Harold's Club display will show more than 100 antique firearms including a chain-driven revolver, a 20-shot repeater, a combination sword and revolver, a lady's pocketbook six-shooter, a target rifle with right shoulder rest and left eye sights and a combination shotgun-bludgeon.

Other new attractions include a demonstration of the deadly "karate" technique of hand-to-hand fighting by the Duke Moore Judo-Karate School and a weight lifting contest by the prize-winning Mar-Vel Athletic Club.

FASHION SHOW

For the ladies, the program will feature a series of special fashion shows by models from the John Robert Powers School in San Rafael.

Another new feature will be a demonstration of fly and plug casting skills by Jules P. Cuenin, retired dean of the western outdoor writers and former flycasting champion.

Crowd pleasers at last year's show will be repeated in performances of a special water ballet by students of Marin's Ann Curtis Cuneo, former Olympic swimming champion, and archery demonstrations by the Northwoods Bowmen's Club.

Skindiving demonstrations, also a highlight of previous shows, will be on tap in the pool again, but with new performers representing Phantom Products Company, manufacturers of skindiving equipment. Underwater experts who will show their skills and exhibit water safety techniques are Al Williams, Les Young, Eldon Levy and Larry Sauter.

SHOOTING GALLERY

For the small fry, there will be a free air rifle shooting gallery sponsored by the Crosman Arms Company and the Marin Rod and Gun Club Junior Rifle Team, and for all the family a continuing series of outdoor motion pictures in the Little Theater.

And to top off the whole performance, co-chairmen Barney DeBisschop and Monty Marzetta have garnered a bevy of prizes — including a fishing boat, motor and trailer—which will be given away at the show.

The sports show opens at 6:30 p.m. on Friday and runs until 11 p.m. On Saturday the hours are from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m. and on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Let's Camp Out! I-J Writer Tells Of Mountain Paradise

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Outdoors Writer

"Let's Pack In."

At a recent Sports Show I overheard a chap suggest the above to his friend while inspecting the camping equipment in a booth.

To me, there's magic in those three words, sheer magic that conjures up a vision of numerous trips I have made to little mountain lakes in the Marble Mountain country, the Trinity Alps or the High Sierra. I can close my eyes and, like a mental motion picture, such trips unfold before me. The sight of fly rods and lines and flies; or sleeping bags, outdoor cook stoves, and even a rubber boat and very light tents bring nostalgic memories.

It is a hard task to describe, in cold type, the thrills of a pack-in trip. One can't put into words the sound of creaking leather or the pungent-sweet odor of sweating horse flesh as your trailwise, mountain-reared pony carefully picks his way over a rock strewn trail only wide enough to allow one rider to pass at a time.

STONE MELODY

Hard, too, to explain the melody of a loosened pebble or stone as it bounces from one rock to another on its downward journey to glittering of burnished silver, which you know is a rushing streamlet far, far below.

Difficult to describe the feeling one has as he rounds a mountain peak and sees, spread out before him, a panorama so awe-inspiring that he is voiceless. Untold billions of tons of rock piled helter skelter over space, with their pedestals resting lazily in lush meadows, their sides clad in myriad shades of green, and the lofty heads of some capped with the whitest of snow.

Words can hardly express the confidence you soon place in your mount as he negotiates the winding trail from valley floor to mountain crest and down again. You feel a genuine affection for him when you stop for a short rest in a shaded spot by a cool refreshing stream and light a smoke.

THRILLING SIGHT

You thrill at the sight of what appears, in the distance to be a red plush carpet among some trees, but which proves to be a solid mass of vividly colored flowers. You marvel at the sight of other brilliant mountain flowers blooming only inches away from a deep snow drift.

Yes, it's hard to explain the thrill of anticipation you experience, when from some lofty spot on the trail you see, far below, the little lake which is your objective. One must have been there, when even the horses seemed to realize you were nearing the destination and quicken their pace down the trail to the edge of the lake, to thrill to your fingertips at the memory of the hundreds of miniature water-spouts dotting the lake. You know that each is made by a hungry trout feeding on surface insect life.

FRYING TROUT

It is necessary for you readers to sit beside a camp fire while freshly caught trout are frying in the pan and a pot of coffee is coming to a boil, before you can fully appreciate the intoxication of such memories. You must lie in your sleeping bag with your eyes wide open and see the heavens filled with more stars than are ever seen from your home in the city. Stars that seem so close you could climb a tall tree and grab one.

Yes, you must have been there to have such memories.

Maybe you will take such a trip to Huckleberry Lake out of Kennedy Meadows in the Dardanelle, or Spirit Lake in the Marble Mountain country, two lakes where I have fished with two flies and caught two fish on nearly every cast. Or perhaps in the Trinity Alps, or the Kings River area. But wherever it may be, it will be an experience you will never forget; an experience every lover of the great outdoors should have. And, it's not expensive. Even with a guide-cook along it costs no more than a vacation at some publicized resort.

If any reader wishes more information drop me a line with a self addressed envelope and I'll be happy to oblige. So long, and Let's Pack In!

CAMPER'S DELIGHT—This is the new "Pneumatic Igloo" to be introduced to Marin Sports and Boat Show visitors by Pacific International Commerce of San Francisco this weekend. With emphasis on ease and comfort, the inflatable tent can be pumped up and erected single handedly in a matter of minutes. Rectangular in shape, it provides plenty of floor space and headroom and is ideal for picnic tent, beach house, cover for hunters and many other outdoors requirements.

Exciting Outdoor Movies Again Scheduled At Show

Visitors to previous Sports and Boat Shows of the Marin Rod and Gun Club well remember the thrilling and spectacular sports films featured in the Little Theater.

"This year," a club spokesman said, "we've really outdone ourselves in the selection of films to be shown at regular intervals all three days."

The club official gave this rundown on the films:

"South Africa's Game Parks" portrays action shots of glaring buffalo and other untamed animals, all in thrilling close-ups taken at Hluhuwe Game Reserve. Witness a battle of cunning and wits in an exciting sequence at a waterhole. Visitors to the show are sure to enjoy this film as it is the next best thing to actual adventure on the dark continent.

"Safari South" is an intriguing presentation combining the best features of both travelogue and adventure film technique. From cosmopolitan Johannesburg to the deep woods of the jungle, this film brings out the beauty of Africa and its revealing contrasts. There is sophistication of modern city life as well as the open country, and compelling enchantment of this fabulous area where the wonders of nature abound to delight the tourist and native alike.

"Big Game Country" would keep even the most case-hardened wild animal hunter on the edge of his chair all the way through. Go with a father and his son deep into Africa's Kruger National Park. Then hop off by canoe and bush trail to "shoot" exciting close-ups of a wide variety of animals in their natural habitat.

The program is rounded out with other fine filmed subjects of interest to the sportsman. For instance, if you are a spin fisherman, you will not want to miss "Hook, Line & What Knot?" with its valuable information about knot-tying. Among other things, the film explains how to tie three useful monofilament knots in ways which will retain up to 100 per cent of line strength.

This entertaining and educational film program will be shown several times each day in the Little Theater. As always, admission is free.

Deluxe Camping Gear Will Win Your Lady's Approval

Milady may not be a camper at heart, but the man who has been frustrated in trying to sell his reluctant mate on the joys of outdoor living without cabin comforts now has an ace in the hole to clinch his arguments—if he is prepared to pay the price.

Luxury or semi-luxury equipment, according to Aubrey Lackey at Jim's Sport Shop, Novato, has helped to place more vacationers under a tent during the past two years than the five Indian Nations had tepees. Variations are limited only by budget measurements and encompass candy-striped accommodations suitable for a sheik of Araby to the humble tarpaulin stretched between two trees.

Deluxe models of iceboxes, stoves and camplights are part or the stock and trade of sporting goods, chain and surplus stores. You can, if all other instruments fail (though we have yet to run across one in Marin County) order a portable generating plant that will cook, light, power and heat everything from a rotisserie to an electric blanket.

Such elaborate equipment, of course, runs well into four figures and should be amortized over its life expectancy—which unfortunately may only be until the novelty wears off.

But new campers can successfully brave the primitive life with a cash outlay comparable to a month's rent at home. Prorated over several years' weekend excursions and vacations, such an investment may prove to be a worthwhile one.

As an example, at Grand Auto Supply, San Rafael, for a family of four, $100 to $125 will provide the basic ingredients—umbrella tent, sleeping bags, air mattresses, stove and lantern. When spring stocks are put on display, some complete "package" groups will be offered as low as $75. All this equipment, with utensils from the kitchen cupboards can be stowed comfortably in the trunk of a standard car or the bed of a station wagon, with room to spare for non-essentials. Small car owners will need the additional space of a trailer.

All local dealers say the umbrella tent is still the most popular form of economical housing. It is easily erected by one person and affords good shelter.

Some thought might be given to acquiring one of the new Sun Cottage tents if the budget can be stretched an extra $25 or $30. We have found them listed at Jim's Sport Shop, Novato, and the Friedman-Capel Surplus Store in San Rafael. No doubt other stores either carry them or can order them for you.

These tents are straight-sided for a full five feet in height, allowing more headroom and usable space. They are provided with aluminum ridgepoles and uprights, six wooden wallpoles, ropes and wooden stakes.

Deluxe model have nylon-netted windows at the sides, a netted door with a zipper and also canvas flooring.

Conservation Main Endeavor Of MRGC

By G. PAUL JONES
Conservation Chairman,
Marin Rod-Gun Club

Fish, wildlife and natural resources are things that need protection. Other interests such as agriculture, lumbering, marketing and manufacturing all have their mutual associations for the protection and enhancement of their interests. It is the sportsmen, the Bird Watchers, and the Nature Study grocps that are interested in conserving our wildlife, natural resources and wilderness areas.

Various state and national agencies, such as fish and game departments, and the U.S. National Wildlife Service, work at protecting our wildlife and natural resources. However, to protect and investigate all detriments to our wildlife and natural resources would be an extremely expensive operation for governmental agencies alone. The help that sportsmen and conservationists give these governmental agencies, and our legislative bodies is of great monetary value.

The Marin Rod and Gun Club, since its organization in 1923, has constantly battled for the preservation of our wildlife and natural resources. This battle has required the expenditure of money as well as the giving of hundred of hours of time by club members.

5,000 MEMBERS

The MRGC is affiliated with the organized sportsmen of Sonoma, Mendocino and Lake counties through the organization known as the Sportsmen's Council of the Redwood Empire (SCRE). About 5,000 organized sportsmen in these four counties are constantly on watch, protecting the wildlife and natural resources of the Redwood region.

The MRGC has spent thousands of dollars for the protection and enhancement of fish and game. The club, over the years, has opposed the commercial interests who have made numerous attempts to get legislation passed which would permit them to take abalones commercially along the north coast to the detriment of the sportsmen. In this fight, as in other fights, the Marin sportsmen have had the help of other organized groups because of their affiliations.

COMMERCIAL NETTING

The Marin club actively and financially supported the fight which stopped the commercial netting of striped bass and salmon in our rivers and bays. As a result of the club's efforts, our striped bass and salmon fishing is steadily improving in spite of the increased pressure of our expanding population. In pollution matters, the club has worked for better laws and better enforcement.

On the north coast, logging practices detrimental to salmon and steelhead spawning grounds have been vigorously opposed. The MRGC Rod and Gun Club as a member of Salmon Unlimited along with the SCRE has pushed for a program of planting steelhead and salmon in many of the north coast streams. Improper logging practices in the past have greatly reduced the salmon and steelhead runs on many of these streams.

In all conservation matters the MRGC has cooperated and worked with the State Department of Fish and Game and the Fish and Game Commission.

LOCAL ACTION

Locally the club has cooperated with the Marin Municipal Water District and the Fish and Game Department in the stocking of MMWD lakes with trout. In the future it is hoped that the club will be able to work with the local Soil Conservation District and the farmers in a cooperative effort to improve fish and game habitat areas in Marin County. Farm ponds could provide fishing for many Marinites, and it is possible that quail hunting could be provided for in west Marin, if springs were developed near the brushy areas on some of the ranches.

Our steelhead and salmon fishing could be improved by the construction of small check dams on some creeks. On the west shores of the Petaluma River, north of Black Point, there is state land which could provide bank fishing for hundreds of our people.

This development of fish and game habitat areas could provide the rancher with added income, but he should always have the right to say who should hunt and fish on his property. We still have a number of so-called sportsmen who do not respect the property rights of others.

In closing, I would like to urge all of you who read this article to join a sportsmens' club or a conservation group. If we are to have wildlife and natural resources and probably wilderness areas for our children and our children's children to enjoy, then we must always be on the alert to protect what we have. When a forest, a stream, or our wildlife is destroyed, it is usually gone forever.

CONSERVATION—Major concern of the Marin Rod and Gun Club is conservation, and members practice what they preach. Here a couple of members, up to their knees in mud, work to release land-locked striped bass on Marin shores. The local club has been cited for its countless acts in conservation.

Nimrods Convert Military Rifles To Sports Models

Many stores admit that their sales of new hunting and sporting weapons have taken a setback during the past few years.

Dick Brenemen of Redwood Sport Shop, San Rafael, says that aside from game conservation laws one reason lies in the surplus stocks of American and foreign military rifles which are attracting amateurs and oldtimers alike into buying them for remodeling into sporters.

Nimrods are both hobbyists and amateur craftsmen by nature. They can't hunt all year long but they can spend the off-season servicing their equipment.

Scarcely an outdoorsman has not at one time or another considered, if not actually succumbed to the lure of turning an old Springfield 30-06 into a sporting rifle, either by his own hands or having the barrel milled down and fitted to a sporting stock by an expert.

AMMO AVAILABLE

Pre-World War I 30-60 military rifles were well made and can usually be acquired in very good or better condition for $30 to $35. Parts are interchangeable without refitting and ammunition is easy to get.

Bargains in used foreign military weapons now blossom from the pages of nearly every sport magazine. They are sold in the Friedman-Capel Surplus Store, San Rafael, and in the sports department of Montgomery-Ward and Co., Corte Madera. German Mausers in the popular 8 mm. calibre and .303 British Enfields lend themselves well to remodeling.

Some models can be had for as low as $18.95; Montgomery Ward carries them already partially converted and tested at $24.95 and $29.95. Pre-World War I models with attached telescopes sell for $44.95 unconverted.

FOREIGN MAKES

Russian, Swiss and Italian makes are available through the magazine ads, though all of them do not necessarily make good sporters. Gene Thompson of Western Sport Shop, San Rafael, points out that barrels are frequently in poor condition and off-calibres may present an ammunition problem to shooters who do not make their own reloads. He finds that even with good guns some hobbyists are putting more money into the total remodeling job than the cost of buying new or good used sporters.

Thompson will sell you a new gunstock, partially finished, as low as $10, or as high as $35 completely finished and checkered. But,add the costs or rebluing, installing front and rear sporting sights or drilling and tapping for a telescope, having the gun accurately "sighted in" and fitted with a recoil pad. All these run up a neat bit of expense if you are unable to do the work yourself.

SPORTERIZED RIFLE—This old 1903 Springfield 30-06 was converted by one hobbyist into a semi-sporter by shortening the forestock, adding a sporting grip, and many hours of home labor—total cost less than $5. But had he bought a new stock, sights, recoil pad and had it professionally re-blued and finished the extra expense would have been another story. Some military weapons in good condition make inexpensive hunting rifles, but only if you are able to do most of the work yourself.

And even if you do, the final product may give its only satisfaction in the enjoyment of accomplishment and the opportunity to show it off as a conversation piece.

You can buy a nice little 30-30 absolutely new for $59.95 to $81.95 locally; fancier .308 and 30-06 calibres from $121.50 up.

But, of course, if you are the type who gets his kicks out of rebuilding a gun rather than using it, you still won't be interested!

Fishing In The Rain

Rainstorms generally produce furious fishermen, observes the Mercury outboard company. However, this traditional spirit-spoiler is often a blessing in disguise. Rain and accompanying temperature and barometric changes —in a cold front—may send fish on a brief but frenzied feeding spree when cooling showers descend.

You can't catch a fish without the right bait or lure; neither can you make a fisherman without an incentive.

Bert Capel at Capel-Friedman Surplus Store, San Rafael, holds that fathers who would like to steer their sons into the perennial joys of angling or bass fishing might have more success if they started them off with equipment of lasting value for three to five years instead of the least expensive outfit on the market.

An attractive, modern glass rod and shiny reel is bound to make a boy's first fishing expedition with his dad more memorarble even if the fish don't bite. The pride of good possessions is nine points of the law of sportsmanship and is likely he will want to keep using them.

Capel says a modest $6 or $7 will place good enough light equipment in the hands of a small boy to keep his interest level high. He can supply a heavier salt water outfit around $12, guaranteed to pay off in thrills if not in stripers.

We have noticed, too, that Pay Less Drug Store, San Rafael, has light rods for $1.98 and $2.98 and a closed spinning reel with thumb action for $5.88. A low-priced salt water rod sells for $5.88; fresh and salt water casting reel $6.93.

Whatever you buy, make your youngster take care of it. If he has been trained to hang up his clothes at night it is no harder to get him used to keeping his equipment in shape and putting it away when it isn't being used.

Older boys who earn their own money may want something fancier, and if they are willing to pay for it don't discourage them. We have seen some excellent kits in light tackle, including rod, spinning reel, line, leaders, hooks, flies, lures, sinkers, bait box and net for $21.95 at Montgomery Ward and Co., Corte Madera. These essentials will last through many trips.

Even if you are not a sportsman and your boy would like to have a fling at it, take him to any sporting goods shop, where advice on outfitting is as well stocked as the equipment. The chances are good that no one will try to overload him or you with extra parts.

Special Report On Fish-Game Bills

By EDWIN S. CAPPS
CAPITOL NEWS SERVICE
(Written especially for the Sports and Boat Show section of today's I-J)

SACRAMENTO— Some good things may happen for all hunters and fishermen during the current session of the legislature. Conversely, few if any real dangerous bills for the outdoor fraternity are under study by the lawmakers.

Some legislation, of course, will meet with mixed reactions. A good example is a surprise compromise reached in the Assembly Fish and Game Committee which will permit complete deer management by next year in all of the state but 22 northern counties.

The complete deer management — conducting antlerless and either sex hunts whenever and wherever the Department of Fish and Game deems necessary—will be possible through elimination of the county supervisors' powers to veto such hunts in the 36 counties, as of Oct. 1 this year.

For the 22 northern counties, the county supervisor veto powers will become permanent.

REGIONAL MANAGEMENT

The compromise was worked out in AB-430 by Assemblywoman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola), Assembly Fish and Game chairman. Her bill origially would have extended until October, 1963, provisions of the so-called Busch Bill of 1957. The bill sets up a system of regional deer management, provides for holding of hearings in affected areas but also permitted supervisors to veto plans for hunts in their areas.

Organized sportsmen generally have opposed placing such powers in the hands of supervisors, on grounds that the department and commission, with their staff of biologists, were better equipped to make deer management decisions than were supervisors. It had been accepted, however, in the hopes of gaining more public acceptance of the general plan for deer management, with assured safeguards.

STATE PARKS—Outdoors families, such as the one depicted above, are awaiting legislative action on a bill that would set up a new category for state parks—a recreation area. Edwin S. Capps tells of several bills before the current session of the legislature of special interest to sportsmen.

EXPECTED TO WIN

The Davis bill was amended recently to provide for permanent veto powers in the 22 counties and removal of them in the balance of the state. It was expected to win approval, because of support from organized sportsmen, the department, and many segments in the northern counties.

Only coastal season counties included in the 22 where veto powers will remain are Glenn, Colusa, Humboldt, Mendocino and Lake.

Another bill which no one had expected but which could add to the hunting and fishing menu is SB353 by Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka). The Collier bill would set up a new category for state parks—a recreation area.

MULTIPLE USE

Designed to make the most out of the multiple use concept, the Collier bill would permit hunting, fishing, camping, boating and all forms of outdoor recreation in such recreation areas. It also could clear the way for joint development of areas by the division of beaches and parks and such other agencies as the Wildlife Conservation Board. Both agencies now are tied to spending money specifically for their own purpose, rather than for dual or multiple uses.

Passage of the bill, of course, would not mean hunters would be stalking all state parks (some opponents are claiming this). Hunting would be permitted only in carefully selected areas where it was determined there would be no conflict.

As an example, waterfowl hunting might be permitted in lake or coastal areas. The waterfowl season would not open until well after picnicking activities for the year had been ended.

SINCERE OPPOSITION

The Collier bill is quite a ways from achieving passage. No doubt there will be sincere opposition from nature groups, the Sierra clubs and the like, as well as some not-so-sincere opposition from anti-hunting groups and clubs which are convinced they are acting in good faith by opposing the bill.

One thing is changed this year from past years, when similar bills have been unsuccessful. Charles A. DeTurk, chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks, has expressed general support for Collier's measure.

Another unexpected bill could be beneficial to the growing number of sportsmen who are equipping themselves with pickups. The pickups are used "as is" by many, and others have fancy and expensive camper cabs.

PICKUP REGISTRATION

A bill by Assemblyman Paul J. Lunardi (D-Roseville), who represents the Sierra Nevada counties from Sierra south to Inyo, would set up a new registration category for pickups.

At present, pickups must be registered commercially — a matter of $14 weight fees, $8 registration, plus in lieu taxes on the value of the vehicle. Only exception is for pickup owners willing to sign a statement they will not haul any property in the pickup.

The present law is confusing and leaves much to administrative rules. For instance, a pickup owner is not likely to be arrested for hauling a suitcase, golf clubs or camping gear. But he is more than likely to be stopped for hauling a sack of grain, bale of hay, gravel, trash or the like.

Lunardi's bill would set up a new non-commercial category. It would require a $9 registration fee, plus in lieu taxes. Owners of such vehicles could haul whatever they pleased, so long as it was not for hire. The bill includes penalties for violators, including a requirement of immediate commercial registration and the prohibition against such a person ever again registering a pickup non-commercially.

WATER PROJECTS

Some sort of bill is expected to emerge from the 1961 legislature dealing with state policy in the enhancement and preservation of fish and wildlife in connection with state constructed water projects.

There has been considerable difference of opinion, however, as to how this should be done. Mrs. Davis has a bill appropriating $2 million for such purposes.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who pledged such a program in seeking support for the $1,750,000,000 bond issue for state water development, has another idea. Generally, it's believed Brown's plan would call only for a policy bill, with no money included. Projects would have to be approved specifically by the legislature.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

Other legislative highlights include a proposed $75 million bond issue for acquisition and development of park and recreation areas; bills to relax slightly the present law requiring lifetime revocation of hunting privileges for hunters who kill or wound other humans; and a number of bills prohibiting commercial fishing for certain species in the ocean.

Little action is expected on any of the commercial vs. sports bills. The commercial list probably will remain about the same and a proposal to create a new commission for commercial fishing has little chance of gaining approval.

Fascinating Exhibition Of Karate On Show's Program

Karate, one of the most misunderstood forms of self defense, makes its Marin County debut this weekend as one of the many fascinating exhibitions scheduled for the Sports and Boat Show.

Exhibiting Karate at its finest will be experts from Duke Moore's Karate School of San Francisco and Del Esposti's Marin School of Self Defense in Larkspur.

Highlights of the exhibitions will be methods of Karate training; Karate self defense; purpose and techniques of breaking boards and, most important of all, Sport-Karate.

Moore explains, "Competition between two Karate players can be paralleled to boxing, except the feet as well as hands are used to score points." He went on, "All kicks and punches must be pulled just short of contact to avoid injury, and points are scored much in the manner of fencing —with one exception: Kicks and blows must be snapped close to the vital area with rocket-like propulsion in order to be counted as a score."

NEW SPORT

Sport-Karate, Moore added, is comparatively new, although hundreds of Japanese experts compete in an annual tournament in Tokyo.

Actually, Moore noted, "Karate fighting began and was developed thousands of years ago in China as an off-spring of the ancient art of Kempo. Simultaneously, in Okanawa the art of empty-hand fighting was developed. But in China, the incorporation of Zen-thinking became the difference between the two systems."

Moore quoted a Japanese expert in this warning: "Those who learn Karate should always be sound in mind and keep a mild attitude. The minds of those who learn Karate should be empty, cleared of selfish and evil thought."

The compromise was worked out in AB-430 by Assemblywoman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola), Assembly Fish and Game chairman. Her bill origially would have extended until October, 1963, provisions of the so-called Busch Bill of 1957. The bill sets up a system of regional deer management, provides for holding of hearings in affected areas but also permitted supervisors to veto plans for hunts in their areas.

Organized sportsmen generally have opposed placing such powers in the hands of supervisors, on grounds that the department and commission, with their staff of biologists, were better equipped to make deer management decisions than were supervisors. It had been accepted, however, in the hopes of gaining more public acceptance of the general plan for deer management, with assured safeguards.

STATE PARKS—Outdoors families, such as the one depicted above, are awaiting legislative action on a bill that would set up a new category for state parks—a recreation area. Edwin S. Capps tells of several bills before the current session of the legislature of special interest to sportsmen.

EXPECTED TO WIN

The Davis bill was amended recently to provide for permanent veto powers in the 22 counties and removal of them in the balance of the state. It was expected to win approval, because of support from organized sportsmen, the department, and many segments in the northern counties.

Only coastal season counties included in the 22 where veto powers will remain are Glenn, Colusa, Humboldt, Mendocino and Lake.

Another bill which no one had expected but which could add to the hunting and fishing menu is SB353 by Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka). The Collier bill would set up a new category for state parks—a recreation area.

MULTIPLE USE

Designed to make the most out of the multiple use concept, the Collier bill would permit hunting, fishing, camping, boating and all forms of outdoor recreation in such recreation areas. It also could clear the way for joint development of areas by the division of beaches and parks and such other agencies as the Wildlife Conservation Board. Both agencies now are tied to spending money specifically for their own purpose, rather than for dual or multiple uses.

Passage of the bill, of course, would not mean hunters would be stalking all state parks (some opponents are claiming this). Hunting would be permitted only in carefully selected areas where it was determined there would be no conflict.

As an example, waterfowl hunting might be permitted in lake or coastal areas. The waterfowl season would not open until well after picnicking activities for the year had been ended.

SINCERE OPPOSITION

The Collier bill is quite a ways from achieving passage. No doubt there will be sincere opposition from nature groups, the Sierra clubs and the like, as well as some not-so-sincere opposition from anti-hunting groups and clubs which are convinced they are acting in good faith by opposing the bill.

One thing is changed this year from past years, when similar bills have been unsuccessful. Charles A. DeTurk, chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks, has expressed general support for Collier's measure.

Another unexpected bill could be beneficial to the growing number of sportsmen who are equipping themselves with pickups. The pickups are used "as is" by many, and others have fancy and expensive camper cabs.

PICKUP REGISTRATION

A bill by Assemblyman Paul J. Lunardi (D-Roseville), who represents the Sierra Nevada counties from Sierra south to Inyo, would set up a new registration category for pickups.

At present, pickups must be registered commercially — a matter of $14 weight fees, $8 registration, plus in lieu taxes on the value of the vehicle. Only exception is for pickup owners willing to sign a statement they will not haul any property in the pickup.

The present law is confusing and leaves much to administrative rules. For instance, a pickup owner is not likely to be arrested for hauling a suitcase, golf clubs or camping gear. But he is more than likely to be stopped for hauling a sack of grain, bale of hay, gravel, trash or the like.

Lunardi's bill would set up a new non-commercial category. It would require a $9 registration fee, plus in lieu taxes. Owners of such vehicles could haul whatever they pleased, so long as it was not for hire. The bill includes penalties for violators, including a requirement of immediate commercial registration and the prohibition against such a person ever again registering a pickup non-commercially.

WATER PROJECTS

Some sort of bill is expected to emerge from the 1961 legislature dealing with state policy in the enhancement and preservation of fish and wildlife in connection with state constructed water projects.

There has been considerable difference of opinion, however, as to how this should be done. Mrs. Davis has a bill appropriating $2 million for such purposes.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who pledged such a program in seeking support for the $1,750,000,000 bond issue for state water development, has another idea. Generally, it's believed Brown's plan would call only for a policy bill, with no money included. Projects would have to be approved specifically by the legislature.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

Other legislative highlights include a proposed $75 million bond issue for acquisition and development of park and recreation areas; bills to relax slightly the present law requiring lifetime revocation of hunting privileges for hunters who kill or wound other humans; and a number of bills prohibiting commercial fishing for certain species in the ocean.

Little action is expected on any of the commercial vs. sports bills. The commercial list probably will remain about the same and a proposal to create a new commission for commercial fishing has little chance of gaining approval.

Fascinating Exhibition Of Karate On Show's Program

Karate, one of the most misunderstood forms of self defense, makes its Marin County debut this weekend as one of the many fascinating exhibitions scheduled for the Sports and Boat Show.

Exhibiting Karate at its finest will be experts from Duke Moore's Karate School of San Francisco and Del Esposti's Marin School of Self Defense in Larkspur.

Highlights of the exhibitions will be methods of Karate training; Karate self defense; purpose and techniques of breaking boards and, most important of all, Sport-Karate.

Moore explains, "Competition between two Karate players can be paralleled to boxing, except the feet as well as hands are used to score points." He went on, "All kicks and punches must be pulled just short of contact to avoid injury, and points are scored much in the manner of fencing —with one exception: Kicks and blows must be snapped close to the vital area with rocket-like propulsion in order to be counted as a score."

NEW SPORT

Sport-Karate, Moore added, is comparatively new, although hundreds of Japanese experts compete in an annual tournament in Tokyo.

Actually, Moore noted, "Karate fighting began and was developed thousands of years ago in China as an off-spring of the ancient art of Kempo. Simultaneously, in Okanawa the art of empty-hand fighting was developed. But in China, the incorporation of Zen-thinking became the difference between the two systems."

Moore quoted a Japanese expert in this warning: "Those who learn Karate should always be sound in mind and keep a mild attitude. The minds of those who learn Karate should be empty, cleared of selfish and evil thought."

Marin Rod and Gun Club

If a historian were to undertake the assignment of compiling a history of the Marin Rod and Gun Club, he could find no more appropriate theme for his volume than the old proverb, "Great oaks from little acorns grow." The great oak would be represented by the phenomenal growth of the organization over the years. The little acorn — an idea conceived 35 years ago by a small group of sportsmen to form a club for mutual cooperation and for the betterment of all sportsmen.

In 1926 this group of only 35 men, accustomed to fishing together at Buckeye Point west of China Camp, brought their plans to fruition by holding their first official meeting in the upstairs room of the old San Rafael Bath House. Membership dues were set at the munificent sum of one dollar per year. One wonders whether this hardy band of pioneers had any erstwhile intentions of expanding their numbers much beyond the original small nucleus. In any event, word spread among other interested sportsmen in the county, and so additional membership became inevitable. It was also inevitable that the group should entertain a desire to have their own clubhouse.

At the now unbelievable cost of $5 per month, a site at Buckeye Point was rented from E. B. McNear for the purpose of constructing a clubhouse. The building and small pier were built by the members on weekends. Materials were purchased with funds obtained through proceeds from annual dinners which were held at the old Ancha Vista Hotel in San Anselmo. It was from this simple but necessary expedient that the club's annual stag banquet evolved — an affair which is now attended by some 600 sportsmen and dignitaries from many sections of California.

BLESSING IN DISGUISE

Despite the fund-raising efforts and hearty cooperation of the original "work-horses," the clubhouse project at Buckeye Point was abandoned in 1936 as the result of a serious silting problem at the fishing point caused by extensive dredging operations at Hamilton Field. However, this setback proved to be only temporary, and actually a blessing in disguise, for it gave rise to acquisition of the present grounds and pier at Point San Quentin.

Here again, the indomitable spirit of the oldtime members was brought to the fore. With a will unmatched in recent annals, they unstintingly donated their time, energies and selfless efforts to the task of assisting in making the property usable. Imbued with similar spirit, many new members also contributed their services to the common good. In progressive stages the enviable facilities, enjoyed by all members today, were fashioned out of little more than a dream. From a sugar company trestle supporting a water main, there developed the longest striped bass fishing pier in the world. In 1958 the magnificent clubhouse, one of the finest of its kind in the country, opened its doors to the membership. Picnic grounds, parking lot, barbecue pits, rest rooms, picnic tables, landscaping, all contribute to the composite picture of a sportsmen's organization second to none. Yet this is not all.

NEW BOAT RAMP

For the many boat owner members, the club has recently completed construction of a spanking new boat ramp, the last word in launching equipment. Measuring 75 feet long and 12 feet wide, with 8-inch thick reinforced concrete slabs, this latest addition to an impressive array of sportsmen's facilities marks another milestone in the club's expanding record of accomplishment. And finally, from the visionary action of a small group of fishing enthusiasts 35 years ago, there has emerged an organization of dedicated sportsmen, 2,300 strong and still growing. Annual events such as the Sports and Boat Show, the stag banquet and the barbecue picnic are legend throughout the county. In keeping with its originating keynote of devotion to conservation, the club has consistently through the years championed the cause of good legislation in behalf of all sportsmen. The defeat of proposed laws considered detrimental to sportsmen's interests has been and will continue to be the watchword. The support of sound water-pollution controls merits priority attention at all times. In short, one need go no further than the club's By-Laws which so aptly state as its purpose "to take any and all steps necessary in connection with the conservation and propagation of fish, game and natural resources."

Marin Boasts One Of Finest Skin Diving Clubs In State

By PAUL MILLER

Marin Skin Divers, Inc. "is not just a bunch of organized abalone pickers," as one member put it.

Not only are some of them involved experimenting in diving equipment, deep water procedures, and safety measures, but they also lecture throughout northern California and teach adult education courses in skin diving.

Certain members of the club are also on the Marin County Sheriff's Underwater Rescue and Recovery Unit. Club representatives have made trips everywhere from Fort Ross to the tip of Lower California.

Marin Skin Divers, Inc. is considered one of the finest of the 70 similar clubs in northern California.

In 1955, 15 Marinites who had been skin diving together on weekends decided to organize. About every other Sunday they would meet in San Rafael and drive to waters off the Fort Ross area. In 1957 the club was incorporated and in 1958 began to extend its trips to Mexican coastal waters.

42 MEMBERS

Now the club has 42 members, all seeded divers. You can't join unless you are. Its president is "Bud" Arey of Fairfax.

Probably the most adventuresome and extended trip undertaken by any member was last October. Stan Goldsmith and Al Giddings Jr. flew in the former's Cessna 182 from Marin to points all the way down Lower California's west coast. Among the villages and towns they dived near were La Paz and Cape San Lucas. Giddings, of San Anselmo, who is the underwater photographic expert and founding president of the club, hunted with a 16 millimeter underwater camera. He was able to capture vivid and dramatic color shots of underwater life which are used to illustrate lectures in clubs and schools throughout northern California.

MEXICAN OUTING

This month a trip for some members is planned to islands off Santa Barbara, and later to Puerto Vallarta, 1,800 miles from Marin near Guadalatara, Mexico. The adventurers have come across everything from 330 pound blue sharks and 420-pound black sea bass to a sunken silver crown. Giddings brought the delicate and tarnished prize from Santa Rosalia, Mexico, where he found it under an embankment along the coast. Results of a carbon test on the crown have not been released.

Among the more dramatic experimental events a member has participated in was the deep water record breaking dive of James French, who had to be rushed to a recompression chamber by helicopter to Hunters Point from Monterey where the dive was taken. French barely survived that dive, which made headlines.

Member Bernell Hendrickson has been working on perfecting what is called a re-breather. Originally developed in Europe for World War II commandos, the re-breather is a small rubberized pack that fits on the diver's chest. It is light weight and has a small bottle of pure oxygen attached. The oxygen is forced into the bag where it mixes with a lie substance and the carbon dioxide of the breather to form breathable air. Its physics are of course more complicated than this. It is also toxic below 40 feet. It has been Hendrickson's pre-occupation to improve it.

FREE DIVING

It should be mentioned that most of these members, including the experts, also do "free" diving and "abalone picking." To join the club one has to be 19 or older and a competent diver. The degree of competence is decided by members and is for the sake of safety of the individual who will have to keep abreast of club activities.

For example, member Robert Foster holds the world's record for underwater breathing. He remained under 10 feet of water for 13 minutes and 42.5 seconds hyperventilating on pure oxygen. He took the record from Dr. Robert W. Keast, San Rafael anesthesiologist. Giddings has been under for 11 minutes and 40 seconds.

Probably what may prove, if it already has not, the club's greatest contribution to the community is its members who are on the Sheriff's underwater unit. There are 10 men on the unit, all are club members and all are on 24-hour call by the department. Their mission is to help in sea rescues and recovery of bodies and objects from the water when regular law inforcement officers are unable.

Unit captain is deputy sheriff George Tsegeletos. When

NEW TRAILORBOAT — Trailorboat Engineering Co. of San Rafael will feature this new 14-foot Fiberglas inboard at the Marin Sports and Boat Show. Powered by the famous Crofton 45 horsepower, four-cycle economy four, the engine consumes less than two gallons of fuel per hour at full throttle. This is the only inboard of its style and horsepower manufactured on the Pacific Coast.

Marin Rifle Team Claims Top Honors

Marin Rod and Gun Club's junior rifle team has this past year blasted its way into a healthy share of trophies and awards.

Coached by George Finney, Bus Scheuermann and Fritz Pfeffer, the club members regularly participated in a match a month. The club's most recent contest, the National Indoor Match at the University of California late last month, has not announced Marin's results to date. Two upcoming and important matches have members busy training, however. The first will be the state outdoor match at Fort Ord in May and the national outdoor match at Sharps Park, San Francisco, in June.

In the Marin Winter League the club for the past three years has been leader. Last year three members received the Distinguished Medal from the National Rifle Assn. Sherry Tuttle of San Rafael was one of the winners of the top award and the first girl in Marin to be so distinguished, said her coach. The others honored were Dennis Schceuermann of Fairfax and Charley Uffelman of San Anselmo. Five club members also were given the second highest award in the NRA: Expert Medals.

The club has 114 members. Presently 55 youths are taking a hunter safety course before they can join the club. If a suitable range can be found, said Mrs. G. C. Gosser, a club official, a new training course will be available to youngsters between the ages of 12 and 19.

Other activities of the club include the "manning" of the Crossman Air Rifle booth at the Sports Show in San Rafael.

Civic-minded club members have also undertaken programs to clean up the Papermill Creek area

Skin Divers Investigate For Sheriff

the skin divers are needed the sheriff's officer will call Capt. Tsegeletos to act as dispatcher. The captain, informed of the particular mission, will decide how many men are needed at the scene and call them.

These men serve without pay or expense coverage. Many persons do not realize the risk divers take to recover bodies or objects which are not generally in clear, safe water. Neither does the county realize nor compensate the divers for gasoline, compressed air oxygen or lights. It costs some $15 to equip the full unit with oxygen for one dive.

Since being organized in February, 1959, the unit has searched for bodies and an airplane believed to have been in certain areas. It has recovered a number of boats. And a year before its official formation, Giddings, working for the Sheriff's department, pulled 9-year-old Floyd Allen Ward from Bon Tempe Lake where he had drowned.

More recently, Capt. Tsegeletos headed a crew in search of Alpine lake for the murder weapon used to slay Mount Tamalpais victim Jerry Keith. Sangster. Although no weapon was found, the crew worked in treacherously black water alongside the dam some 120 feet down.

"The muck was so thick that sometimes I would lose even my light and have to pull it back to within an inch or so in front of me," recalled Giddings.

Club members don't really look forward to recovery jobs, but at the same time they are glad to be able to serve the community in the unique manner.

Giddings may typify the Marin divers' utmost desires. He wants—and probably will—to dive off Northeast Australia over the Great Barrier Reef south of New Guinea, where the underwater divers are separated from the "abalone pickers."

STEALS THE SHOW WHEREVER IT GOES

NEW TRAILORBOAT — Trailorboat Engineering Co. of San Rafael will feature this new 14-foot Fiberglas inboard at the Marin Sports and Boat Show. Powered by the famous Crofton 45 horsepower, four-cycle economy four, the engine consumes less than two gallons of fuel per hour at full throttle. This is the only inboard of its style and horsepower manufactured on the Pacific Coast.

Marin Rifle Team Claims Top Honors

Marin Rod and Gun Club's junior rifle team has this past year blasted its way into a healthy share of trophies and awards.

Coached by George Finney, Bus Scheuermann and Fritz Pfeffer, the club members regularly participated in a match a month. The club's most recent contest, the National Indoor Match at the University of California late last month, has not announced Marin's results to date. Two upcoming and important matches have members busy training, however. The first will be the state outdoor match at Fort Ord in May and the national outdoor match at Sharps Park, San Francisco, in June.

In the Marin Winter League the club for the past three years has been leader. Last year three members received the Distinguished Medal from the National Rifle Assn. Sherry Tuttle of San Rafael was one of the winners of the top award and the first girl in Marin to be so distinguished, said her coach. The others honored were Dennis Schceuermann of Fairfax and Charley Uffelman of San Anselmo. Five club members also were given the second highest award in the NRA: Expert Medals.

The club has 114 members. Presently 55 youths are taking a hunter safety course before they can join the club. If a suitable range can be found, said Mrs. G. C. Gosser, a club official, a new training course will be available to youngsters between the ages of 12 and 19.

Other activities of the club include the "manning" of the Crossman Air Rifle booth at the Sports Show in San Rafael.

Civic-minded club members have also undertaken programs to clean up the Papermill Creek area

Skin Divers Investigate For Sheriff

the skin divers are needed the sheriff's officer will call Capt. Tsegeletos to act as dispatcher. The captain, informed of the particular mission, will decide how many men are needed at the scene and call them.

These men serve without pay or expense coverage. Many persons do not realize the risk divers take to recover bodies or objects which are not generally in clear, safe water. Neither does the county realize nor compensate the divers for gasoline, compressed air oxygen or lights. It costs some $15 to equip the full unit with oxygen for one dive.

Since being organized in February, 1959, the unit has searched for bodies and an airplane believed to have been in certain areas. It has recovered a number of boats. And a year before its official formation, Giddings, working for the Sheriff's department, pulled 9-year-old Floyd Allen Ward from Bon Tempe Lake where he had drowned.

More recently, Capt. Tsegeletos headed a crew in search of Alpine lake for the murder weapon used to slay Mount Tamalpais victim Jerry Keith. Sangster. Although no weapon was found, the crew worked in treacherously black water alongside the dam some 120 feet down.

"The muck was so thick that sometimes I would lose even my light and have to pull it back to within an inch or so in front of me," recalled Giddings.

Club members don't really look forward to recovery jobs, but at the same time they are glad to be able to serve the community in the unique manner.

Giddings may typify the Marin divers' utmost desires. He wants—and probably will—to dive off Northeast Australia over the Great Barrier Reef south of New Guinea, where the underwater divers are separated from the "abalone pickers."

Water Skiing Like A Roller Coaster

CRISS CROSS—Richard Gould of the Marin organization sends up a beautiful spray as he negotiates a criss cross through wake of boat towing him on maneuvers across Richardson Bay. Golden Gate club boasts more than 200 members from Marin, Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, Sonoma and Marin counties.

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"Bouncing along on a board and trying to keep your balance," is the way Helen Devlin of Fairfax describes water skiing.

Mrs. Devlin and her husband, Ralph, are two of 40 adults who belong to the Marin Division of the Golden Gate Water Ski Club, members of whom are frequently seen zipping along over Marin waters—sometimes being pulled by their toes, sometimes in pyramids, sometimes jumping over floats.

The Marin club, formed in 1958, does much of its skiing in Racoon Straits, in the Strawberry channel of Richardson Bay and outboard of McNear's Beach. It also skiis at Lake Berryessa in Napa County.

"Racoon Strait in rough weather," Mrs. Devlin said, "is like riding a roller coaster. You're on top of a wave and the boat is on the bottom. Sometimes you can't even see the boat."

Skiers have certain clothes, certain celebrations and certain tricks. To keep warm, they wear rubber "skin suits" in bright colors such as red and black, green and black, yellow and black.

On the annual Eskimo Outing on New Year's Day, they wear swim suits and are awarded with an Eskimo patch to wear on their club jackets.

The club promotes safety, not only in skiing but in boating. Competitive skiing done by the club in annual tournaments includes slalom, jumping and tricks.

Jumping is most spectacular and is done from an anchored float which is adjustable to five and six feet heights.

In the trick field, Marin skiers do such things as skiing in pyramids up to as many as six men, ballets on skis, and the 180 degree turn.

OTHER TRICKS

Tricks the Marin club does not do yet are skiing barefoot which requires speeds of 45 miles per hour, when a skier kicks off one ski at a time, and kite skiing where a skier flies with a kite on his back.

The toe turn is one of the most difficult tricks done by the Marinites. It involves being pulled by one foot with a rope over the toes, then doing a 180 degree turn so that the skier ends up being pulled backwards by the toes of one foot.

Two things to watch out for in Strawberry channel, according to W. Richard Meagor Jr. of San Anselmo, president of the Marin club, are shallow water and debris.

Meagor said you can dodge debris by "cutting around it" but if you miss and hit a large enough piece of wood, it can throw you and leave your ski in the wood. "It can be dangerous," he said.

Richardson Bay has shallow spots which can be hard on a boat's propellors. Meagor, who said his 3½-year-old son, Robert, plans to start skiing this summer, said that once some of the club members had to push the boat back to the pier when it got stuck in the mud in shallow water.

PLAN BUILDING

The club meets once a month on the third Wednesday at members' homes. It has a building fund being collected toward a future clubhouse. A club paper is published once a month by the parent club with a Marin section. The club plans a ski show this year off McNear's Beach and one at Lake Berryessa.

Members are proud of the fact that water skier Bee Wineman of Tiburon last year won the honor of skiing in the National Tournament which was held at Minneapolis. The Winemans, Bob and Bee, skied in Mexican waters during February.

The parent club is the oldest and largest water ski club on the West coast, having been organized in 1947, and has more than 200 members. Besides Marin, it includes Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, Sonoma and San Mateo Counties.

SKI TIPS

When learning to ski on water, Mrs. Devlin said, keep your knees bent to act as "shock absorbers," do not bend your elbows and, if you become too wobbly and lose control, quickly let go of the tow handle.

Most important, she added, wear a life belt and learn the correct signals to signal your boat driver.

Golden Gate Skiers List Guideposts For Waterways

DO . . . .

Wear a suitable life preserver while skiing.

Check your equipment—wing nuts, loose runners, or binders, slivers, sharp metal.

Be courteous to fishermen, swimmers, boatmen and other skiers.

Watch water ahead of you at all times.

Run parallel to shore and come in slowly when landing.

Avoid falling forward.

Have observer in boat at all times to watch skier.

Signal driver all is well when you have fallen—hold up ski or hand.

Approach slowly and stop motor when assisting skier into boat.

DON'T . . .

Wrap rope around any part of body.

Ski at night.

Drive boat through swimming area.

Ski directly ahead of another boat.

Jump from boat while it is moving.

Lose your temper when reminded of safety rules.

Cold Water Best For Fishermen

Fish have definite needs. Principally, they require oxygen. This vital element escapes into the atmosphere as the water warms. That's why summer fishing is best at considerable depths and at night when the water is cooled. But for daytime angling, fish the deeper water which contains more oxygen and, consequently, more fish.

To check water temperatures, Mercury suggests a minimum-reading thermometer attached to a line with knots tied at three-foot intervals. Probe the depths until you reach the preferred temperature belt. When you've determined the proper fishing depth, you'll save your casting arm, and you'll catch more fish.

Boat Cover More Than Pays For Self

Some covers are made to protect only the cockpit while others cover the entire upper surfaces.

Covers should not be so loose that they can flap, nor too tight to cut off circulation of air.

A cover is used to shade interiors from hot sun and to keep out dirt and moisture.

Tip On Safety

If your boat should capsize, cling to it until help arrives. Don't strike out for shore unless you are a very strong swimmer and it is only a very short distance away.

AVAILABLE IN MARIN

Trouble With Storage? Rent Sports Equipment

No storage space for bulky outdoor equipment?

Then the answer for you may be the same as it is for hundreds of others who take to the highways, bays, rivers, lakes and woods every year with a minimum amount of their own gear — the rest is rented.

Whether it's a boat to fish in, a trailer to pull it, salt water tackle, house trailer, or the camping equipment itself there's no need to have it lay around the house month after month if your outdoor requirements can be satisfied in one or two weeks and a few scattered weekends during the year.

CAMPING EQUIPMENT. A family of four can rent an umbrella tent, sleeping bags, air mattresses, lantern, stove and ice box for a week at about $36.50. Husband and wife can manage for approximately $25. (Friedman-Capel Surplus Store, 933 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael).

TRAILERS. If your car is a small one and has stowage space for only the passenger and a few necessities you may need an open trailer—another $10 a week. (Nationwide Truck and Trailer Rentals, 439 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael).

Or, travel de luxe and rent a house trailer at the same place. You can get a 15-footer with sleeping accommodations for five, sink and water tank, three-burner butane stove, ice box, table and closet and storage space—$40 a week.

Boat trailers—$12 a week.

BOATS. Nationwide has 12 to 14-foot boats (without outboard motor) at $20 a week (or $5 a day).

Some small boats can be had at China Camp for $3.50 a day; with 5.5-horsepower motor they're $7.50 a day.

Clipper Yacht Co. of Sausalito that rents out skiffs at $5 a day is now considering the rental of 35 and 40-horsepower outboard motors suitable for speed and water ski enthusiasts. The rate has not yet been established but will probably run about $15 a day.

FISHING TACKLE. The only equipment that seems to be available for rental is salt water tackle. Rod, reel and line can be had at most tackle and bait shops in the county at $2 a day.

Best areas: Tomales Point (also known as Pierce Point), Pt. Reyes and Abalone Point on the Palmarin Ranch near Bolinas. (Some also taken in Slide Ranch area between Highway 1 near Stinson Beach.) Best months: May, June, July, Nov. and Dec. Best time: Tides ranging from minus .5 to minus 2.0 feet.

BASS (Black) — Limit 5. Fishery: Novato Dam. Note: North Marin Water District permits cost adults 50 cents, children 25 cents per day. In past seasons, fishing legal at dam only during trout season on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. (For exact information contact NMWD.)

BASS (Striped) — Open all year. Present limit: 3 fish, none under 16 inches. Best months, March through September. Best areas: All the way from Golden Gate Bridge north to Petaluma. Larger fish (10-30 pounds) at Marin, Brothers and Sisters islands; smaller fish up to 10 pounds at Marin Rod and Gun Club pier, Hamilton Field flats, China Camp. Note: No commercial gear permitted for taking striped bass.)

STURGEON — Season all year. Limit one per day; must measure at least 50 inches. Best areas: San Quentin, China Camp, and Hamilton Air Force Base flats. Note: Angling with bait only.

BLUE GILLS — Season and fishery same as Black Bass. No limit. Permit and NMWD regulations same as Black Bass (subject to change, however). Note: Black Bass and Blue Gills also found in farm ponds throughout the county. Permission must be obtained from the land owner.

CLAMS (Cockles) — Open all year. Limit 50 per day; must measure at least 1½" in diameter. Best areas: Bolinas, Drake's, Tomales Bay. Note: Favorable low tides exist every other week.

CLAMS (Washington and Big Neck) — Open all year except Bolinas Bay and Tomales Bay south of Sand Point closed July, August and September. Limit 10 of each.

CRABS — Season Nov. 13 to May 31. Limit 10 and must measure at least 6½ inches. Note: No females can be taken.

EELS (Salt Water) — Open all year. No limit. Best areas: wherever and whenever abalone are taken.

FLOUNDERS — Open all year. No limit of size or number. Best months: February through May. Best areas: All beaches outside Golden Gate or inside bay near San Quentin, China Camp and Hamilton Field Flats.

OCEAN FISH (Cabezone and Lingcod) — Limit 15, but not more than 10 of one species. Best areas — rocks off Slide Ranch, Pierce Point and Pt. Reyes.

PERCH — Open all year. Limit 25 per day. No size limit. See "Flounders" for ideal months and places.

SALMON (Chinook) — Season Feb. 18 to Nov. 18. Limit 3 per person, none under 22 inches. Best months for larger fish are July to end of season. Best area: Varies between Monterey north to Bodega Bay and west to Farallon Islands. Sinkers weighing more than four pounds, power-driven gurdies and lines attached to outrigger poles banned north of Pt. Sur, Monterey County.

HALIBUT — Open all year, best areas mouth of Tomales Bay and generally in salmon fishing areas.

SALMON (Silver) — Season Nov. 1 to last day of Feb. Best months: November-December. Best area: Inverness area in Tomales Bay. Note: Limit on Silver Salmon, Steelhead or trout is 3 in the aggregate from Nov. 1 to the last day of Feb.

STEELHEAD — Season Nov. 1 to last day of Feb. Best months: mid-December through February. Best areas: Tide waters of Papermill Creek at Pt. Reyes and Walker Creek at Tomales.

TROUT — Season April 29 to Oct. 31. Limit 10 fish per day. Fisheries: Marin Muncipal Water District lakes Phoenix, Bon Tempe, Lagunitas, Alpine and Kent, all streams in county (except Devil's Gulch) and Rodeo Lagoon near Ft. Cronkhite. Note: MMWD permits needed at lakes.

HUNTING

DEER — Season (to be announced) usually runs from early August to mid-September. Limit 2 bucks per season. No hunting in city limits or Tamalpais Game Refuge. No areas in Marin open to public and permission to hunt must be obtained from land owners. Deer found in all sections of county, but larger bucks in Pt. Reyes-Bolinas range due to good forage conditions in the damper coastal climate.

RABBITS (Jackrabbits) — Open all year. No limit.

LOCAL BIRDS

QUAIL — Season usually Nov. 15 to Dec. 31. Limit 8 per day (subject to change). Found in all parts of Marin.

MIGRATORY BIRDS
(Regulations set by Federal Fish and Wildlife Service).

DOVES — Season Sept. 1-31. Limit 8 per day.

DUCKS — Season usually runs early October to mid-January. Bay ducks (Canvasback, Bluebill, Redheads, Golden Eyes, Buffle-heads and Ruddy-ducks) found at Tomales, Drakes, Bolinas and San Pablo Bays. Pond ducks (Mallard, Sprig, Wigeon, Teal, Shoveler, Gadwalls) found throughout county on all bays, ranch ponds and waterways.

GEESE (Black Sea Brant) — Season usually same as ducks. Found at Tomales and Drake's Bays and occasionally Bolinas Bay.

PIGEON (Band-Tail) — Season usually Dec. 1 to Dec. 31. Limit 6 birds.

MUDHENS or Coots — Season usually same as ducks. Limit usually 25 per person per day.

Ski directly ahead of another boat.

Attempt fast landing directly toward shore—(do sit down if coming in too fast).

Ski in unknown waters.

Jump from boat while it is moving.

Lose your temper when reminded of safety rules.

Cold Water Best For Fishermen

Fish have definite needs. Principally, they require oxygen. This vital element escapes into the atmosphere as the water warms. That's why summer fishing is best at considerable depths and at night when the water is cooled. But for daytime angling, fish the deeper water which contains more oxygen and, consequently, more fish.

To check water temperatures, Mercury suggests a minimum-reading thermometer attached to a line with knots tied at three-foot intervals. Probe the depths until you reach the preferred temperature belt. When you've determined the proper fishing depth, you'll save your casting arm, and you'll catch more fish.

Boat Cover More Than Pays For Self

A boat cover, whether made of canvas or plastic, more than pays for itself.

Some covers are made to protect only the cockpit while others cover the entire upper surfaces.

Covers should not be so loose that they can flap, nor too tight to cut off circulation of air.

A cover is used to shade interiors from hot sun and to keep out dirt and moisture.

Tip On Safety

If your boat should capsize, cling to it until help arrives. Don't strike out for shore unless you are a very strong swimmer and it is only a very short distance away.

Trouble With Storage? Rent Sports Equipment

No storage space for bulky outdoor equipment?

Then the answer for you may be the same as it is for hundreds of others who take to the highways, bays, rivers, lakes and woods every year with a minimum amount of their own gear — the rest is rented.

Whether it's a boat to fish in, a trailer to pull it, salt water tackle, house trailer, or the camping equipment itself there's no need to have it lay around the house month after month if your outdoor requirements can be satisfied in one or two weeks and a few scattered weekends during the year.

CAMPING EQUIPMENT. A family of four can rent an umbrella tent, sleeping bags, air mattresses, lantern, stove and ice box for a week at about $36.50. Husband and wife can manage for approximately $25. (Friedman-Capel Surplus Store, 933 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael).

TRAILERS. If your car is a small one and has stowage space for only the passenger and a few necessities you may need an open trailer—another $10 a week. (Nationwide Truck and Trailer Rentals, 439 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael).

Or, travel de luxe and rent a house trailer at the same place. You can get a 15-footer with sleeping accommodations for five, sink and water tank, three-burner butane stove, ice box, table and closet and storage space—$40 a week.

Boat trailers—$12 a week.

BOATS. Nationwide has 12 to 14-foot boats (without outboard motor) at $20 a week (or $5 a day).

Some small boats can be had at China Camp for $3.50 a day; with 5.5-horsepower motor they're $7.50 a day.

Clipper Yacht Co. of Sausalito that rents out skiffs at $5 a day is now considering the rental of 35 and 40-horsepower outboard motors suitable for speed and water ski enthusiasts. The rate has not yet been established but will probably run about $15 a day.

FISHING TACKLE. The only equipment that seems to be available for rental is salt water tackle. Rod, reel and line can be had at most tackle and bait shops in the county at $2 a day.

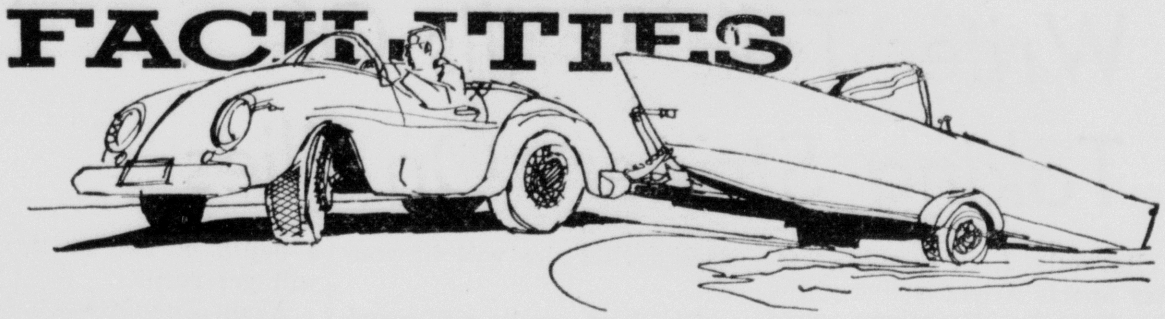
LAUNCHING FACILITIES



Following is a guide to boat launching facilities in Marin County.

SAUSALITO

Sausalito has a public launching ramp, located on Bridgeway. This is available at no fee.

The Edgewater Boat Shop has marine ways which can handle boats up to 65 feet. The Edgewater Shop, located at Bridgeway and Turney, uses the ways largely in connection with the work of overhaul and repairs.

Easom Boat Works at the Clipper Yacht Basin boasts a vertical marine lift which can handle craft up to 20 tons. Easom's nautical elevator was built four years ago and was the first vertical lift in northern California. It gently lowers boats into the water, eliminating the strain sometimes caused by other methods of launching, and is used largely for servicing and new construction.

Sausalito Marine Corp., Bridgeway and Locust Street, operate a metal "stiff-legged derrick," which uses a sling to lift boats from the water to the nearby dock for servicing.

At the Sausalito Sports Fishing pier in the Marinship area is a convenient small boat launching ramp. Deep water makes this facility available even when the tide is low.

SAN RAFAEL

A free launching ramp is offered at Pete's Pier, adjacent to Commodore Yacht sales, 557 Francisco Blvd.

Western Boat Shop, 101 Third Street, has an electric hoist which can handle boats up to one ton and 21 feet long.

Channel Boat Sales 115 Third Street can hoist up to two-ton craft. Fee for ordinary boats is $2 in and out.

Marin Boat House, 345 Francisco Boulevard, charges $1.50 for in and out launching on ramp.

Loch Lomond Marina, 630 San Pedro Road, charges $1.50 for in and out launching on ramp, and 75 cents for in or out.

Vilicich Brothers Boat Works offer a marine railway handling boats up to 65 feet.

Dillon's Beach at Lawson's Landing has overhead monorail hoist. Fee is $1. Also boats can be rented.

At Manila Marina, Charley Johnson has a boom and sling to lower boats into the water.

Brazil Ranch offers a beach for launching. No fee for launching, but $1.00 charged for admittance to the property. No power hoist.

BOLINAS BAY

CHINA CAMP

McNEAR'S BEACH

Skiff launching facilities. Fee is $1.50 for outboards and $2 for inboards. Also launching fee provides for privilege of recreational facilities at beach.

Bottom Of Boat Effects Speed

The condition of the boat bottom may have a great deal to do with the performance of a boat. A bottom covered with slime, barnacles or other foreign matter has been known to cause top speed decrease up to 20 percent or more. Therefore it is suggested that a periodic cleaning of the boat bottom may help performance.

The number of cleanings per season is dependent upon the type of water in which the boat is run. Anti-fouling bottom paint is available to retard marine growth, and it is wise to consult a local dealer for the type best suited to your area.

Water Ballet Featured By Ann Curtis Swimming Club

The Ann Curtis School of Swimming in Terra Linda Valley has planned its third consecutive season to open in early May.

Ann Curtis Cuneo's senior swimming team stacked up six silver trophies in synchronized swimming or water ballet in a February meet in San Jose. The girls for the past several months have been in training for the national championships to be held for three days beginning March 30.

The school, located at 25 Golden Hinde Boulevard, is actually divided into a school and club. The school portion includes instruction for beginners through the training of water safety instructors. In addition there is a section for the training and coaching of competitive swimmers. Among other award winners of the school are Judy and Jim Wilhelm of Kentfield, who each took a gold medal at the Palo Alto Elks' championship meet this summer. Judy is a 16-year-old senior at Marin Catholic and her brother is 8.

SWIM MEETS

The other portion of the Ann Curtis school is a swim club and member of the Amateur Athletic Union. Last summer the club won three out of five meets with similar clubs in Marin. In the other two contests the Curtis team was runner up.

The senior team will perform tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at the Marin Rod and Gun Club Sports and Boat Show. The production of water ballet will be in the Bermuda Palms Motel pool in San Rafael. Gordon Cuneo will narrate the show, which will include a number called "Flirtations Coquettes" and another of the evolution of synchronized stunts.

Hunting, Fishing Guide In Marin

Where and when to hunt and fish in Marin County:

All new regulations went into effect March 1 of this year and will continue until March 1, 1962.

FISHING
(Listed alphabetically)

ABALONE — Season March 16 to Jan. 14. Limit: Aggregate of 5 per day; red abalone not less than 7 inches in diameter, black abalone (seldom taken here) not less than 5 inches. Best areas: Tomales Point (also known as Pierce Point), Pt. Reyes and Abalone Point on the Palmarin Ranch near Bolinas. (Some also taken in Slide Ranch area between Highway 1 near Stinson Beach.) Best months: May, June, July, Nov. and Dec. Best time: Tides ranging from minus .5 to minus 2.0 feet.

BASS (Black) — Limit 5. Fishery: Novato Dam. Note: North Marin Water District permits cost adults 50 cents, children 25 cents per day. In past seasons, fishing legal at dam only during trout season on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. (For exact information contact NMWD.)

BASS (Striped) — Open all year. Present limit: 3 fish, none under 16 inches. Best months, March through September. Best areas: All the way from Golden Gate Bridge north to Petaluma. Larger fish (10-30 pounds) at Marin, Brothers and Sisters islands; smaller fish up to 10 pounds at Marin Rod and Gun Club pier, Hamilton Field flats, China Camp. Note: No commercial gear permitted for taking striped bass.)

STURGEON — Season all year. Limit one per day; must measure at least 50 inches. Best areas: San Quentin, China Camp, and Hamilton Air Force Base flats. Note: Angling with bait only.

BLUE GILLS — Season and fishery same as Black Bass. No limit. Permit and NMWD regulations same as Black Bass (subject to change, however). Note: Black Bass and Blue Gills also found in farm ponds throughout the county. Permission must be obtained from the land owner.

CLAMS (Cockles) — Open all year. Limit 50 per day; must measure at least 1½" in diameter. Best areas: Bolinas, Drake's, Tomales Bay. Note: Favorable low tides exist every other week.

CLAMS (Washington and Big Neck) — Open all year except Bolinas Bay and Tomales Bay south of Sand Point closed July, August and September. Limit 10 of each.

CRABS — Season Nov. 13 to May 31. Limit 10 and must measure at least 6½ inches. Note: No females can be taken.

EELS (Salt Water) — Open all year. No limit. Best areas: wherever and whenever abalone are taken.

FLOUNDERS — Open all year. No limit of size or number. Best months: February through May. Best areas: All beaches outside Golden Gate or inside bay near San Quentin, China Camp and Hamilton Field Flats.

OCEAN FISH (Cabezone and Lingcod) — Limit 15, but not more than 10 of one species. Best areas — rocks off Slide Ranch, Pierce Point and Pt. Reyes.

PERCH — Open all year. Limit 25 per day. No size limit. See "Flounders" for ideal months and places.

SALMON (Chinook) — Season Feb. 18 to Nov. 18. Limit 3 per person, none under 22 inches. Best months for larger fish are July to end of season. Best area: Varies between Monterey north to Bodega Bay and west to Farallon Islands. Sinkers weighing more than four pounds, power-driven gurdies and lines attached to outrigger poles banned north of Pt. Sur, Monterey County.

HALIBUT — Open all year, best areas mouth of Tomales Bay and generally in salmon fishing areas.

SALMON (Silver) — Season Nov. 1 to last day of Feb. Best months: November-December. Best area: Inverness area in Tomales Bay. Note: Limit on Silver Salmon, Steelhead or trout is 3 in the aggregate from Nov. 1 to the last day of Feb.

STEELHEAD — Season Nov. 1 to last day of Feb. Best months: mid-December through February. Best areas: Tide waters of Papermill Creek at Pt. Reyes and Walker Creek at Tomales.

TROUT — Season April 29 to Oct. 31. Limit 10 fish per day. Fisheries: Marin Muncipal Water District lakes Phoenix, Bon Tempe, Lagunitas, Alpine and Kent, all streams in county (except Devil's Gulch) and Rodeo Lagoon near Ft. Cronkhite. Note: MMWD permits needed at lakes.

HUNTING

MOUNTAIN LIONS — Open all year. No limit. Note: $60 bounty for females and $50 for males.

DEER — Season (to be announced) usually runs from early August to mid-September. Limit 2 bucks per season. No hunting in city limits or Tamalpais Game Refuge. No areas in Marin open to public and permission to hunt must be obtained from land owners. Deer found in all sections of county, but larger bucks in Pt. Reyes-Bolinas range due to good forage conditions in the damper coastal climate.

RABBITS (Jackrabbits) — Open all year. No limit.

LOCAL BIRDS

QUAIL — Season usually Nov. 15 to Dec. 31. Limit 8 per day (subject to change). Found in all parts of Marin.

MIGRATORY BIRDS
(Regulations set by Federal Fish and Wildlife Service).

DOVES — Season Sept. 1-31. Limit 8 per day.

DUCKS — Season usually runs early October to mid-January. Bay ducks (Canvasback, Bluebill, Redheads, Golden Eyes, Buffle-heads and Ruddy-ducks) found at Tomales, Drakes, Bolinas and San Pablo Bays. Pond ducks (Mallard, Sprig, Wigeon, Teal, Shoveler, Gadwalls) found throughout county on all bays, ranch ponds and waterways.

GEESE (Black Sea Brant) — Season usually same as ducks. Found at Tomales and Drake's Bays and occasionally Bolinas Bay.

PIGEON (Band-Tail) — Season usually Dec. 1 to Dec. 31. Limit 6 birds.

MUDHENS or Coots — Season usually same as ducks. Limit usually 25 per person per day.

ALONG MARIN'S SHORES

Writer Tells Thrills Of Taking Stripers On Flies

Recently J. P. Cuenin, Sunday Sports Afield writer of the San Francisco Examiner, spoke before a group of Marin County anglers on the thrilling sport of taking striped bass on flies.

He began his talk at the Marin Rod and Gun Club's fine big clubhouse by pointing out that "Some of the best fly fishing spots are along the Bay shoreline of Marin County.

"The main thing," said Cuenin, "is to have a fly rod suitable for this kind of fishing. It should be of the steelhead type with sufficient power to cast a reasonably long line, which should be heavy enough to bring out the power of the rod. A rod of that type would have ample backbone to land a fairly big striper."

At this point three or four of the boys asked in unison, "How big?"

25-POUND CATCH

"Well," Jules replied, "I began fishing with flies for bass in the early 20s, and since then my largest taken on feathers were two 25 pounders and one weighing 18 pounds. The rest of those I caught were considerably smaller, but all of them, even three to four pounders, put up a lively scrap.

"The best method of acquiring a well-balanced rod and line for striper fishing is to find a friend who is an experienced steelhead or shad fly fisherman and have him accompany you to a tackle shop to buy the rod, then induce him to try his line or lines on it. In that way you will learn exactly what size will fit your rod.

"The best results will usually be obtained on the flats in the bay in water two to three feet in depth. Of course the water should be reasonably clear. If you can see your fly when it sinks alongside of the boat to a depth of one foot to 18 inches, you can expect results if you are casting where there are fish. When the water is fairly clear, flies will get results in 8 to 10 feet of water.

LOCATING SCHOOLS

"To locate a school of feeding fish, you can troll with spoon, feather jig or hoola skirt. If a fish is hooked, the anchor is immediately dropped, and casting can be done.

"While trolling, a sharp watch should be maintained for feeding gulls. If you see a flock hovering a few feet above the water and diving to the surface, it often indicates that a school of bait fish has been driven up close to the surface by bass. That is a signal to head for the gulls.

"Don't run the boat into the flock of birds. Slow down when 100 feet short of the hot spot and move up slowly to within 20 to 40 feet of the edge of the flock, then begin casting.

"A long streamer fly with a cork head that is dropped on the water under the gulls and jerked along the surface will often produce a strike, and a streamer fly drawn through the water with short jerks at a depth of two or three feet will get results.

Again Cuenin was interrupted with a question on the length and strength of the leader to be used for bass.

LEADER SIZES

"A long and fine leader is not necessary," he replied. "A four to five foot leader testing from 8 to 12 pounds is long enough and fine enough. It is difficult to turn over the rather large flies if a long low pound test leader is used. If you will notice the 30 to 40 pound test leaders on which trollers hook bass you will understand that fine leaders are not necessary.

"The beginner should remember that an ordinary trout reel is not big enough to carry sufficient backing to handle a 5 to 10-pounder if he starts a run with the current. On the chance that even larger fish may be hooked, 100 yards of 12 to 15-pound test braided nylon may be required for backing.

ADJUSTABLE DRAG

"This braided line is run on the spool of a reel large enough to hold it in addition to the shooting line and fly line, and the reel must have an adjustable drag which can be set to release line with a pull of a couple of pounds less than the test of the leader.

"When the flats north of China Camp are furnishing good bait fishing, and if the water is clear enough, flies will get results in that area.

POPULAR SPORT—Fishermen still buy more than half of all outboard motors. A modern outfit, consisting of a 14-foot aluminum craft, and a 12 horsepower motor, enables fishermen to reach distant waters swiftly, then throttle down for slow trolling. Striped bass fishing off Marin shores is an exciting, popular and quite a productive sport.

NO FLAME—This is a portable safety heater by Therm'x of California, to be displayed at the Marin outdoors show. It can be operated around the clock, even in close quarters, without danger of fumes or carbon monoxide. It will heat a 25-foot boat, 18-foot trailer and is perfect for cabins.

Women's Rifle Team

Marin Rod and Gun Club's Women's Auxiliary has organized a rifle team that meets twice a month. Helen Schacht, chairman, is recruiting more members.

Numbers On Boats

Radios For Sportsmen On Exhibit

Sportsmen, boat owners, business and industrial personnel will be attracted by the exhibit of the Osborne Electronic and Radio Equipment, to be shown at the Marin Rod and Gun Club's Sports and Boat Show this weekend.

The feature package of the Osborne line will be the Model "300," representing the newest development in Class "D" citizens band two-way communications. The unit can be easily mounted on any mobile vehicle, removed and mounted on a boat. It comes equipped with a push-to-talk microphone.

Osborne also is exhibiting and demonstrating its latest portable two-way communication radio . . . with no license required. These units are also fully transistorized and so small they can fit in your pocket . . . it comes equipped also with a special antenna jack for fixed or mobile use and an external speaker-mike jack. The applications for both types of equipment are many, but some of the major uses are ship to shore communications, business contacts, emergency communications for fire police and civil defense, hunting and fishing, forestry service . . . construction . . . warehouse and factory inventories plant protection as well as property protection . . . farming . . . etc.

Two-Man Marin Enterprise Makes Tailored Water Skis

Professional and serious-minded amateur water skiers prefer their equipment tailored to order and will often travel hundreds of miles for slalom and racing skis, special bindings and service.

Marin County enthusiasts need go no farther than to 310 Gate 5 Road in Sausalito where Maherajah Water Skis, a successful little firm engaged in manufacturing custom and semi-custom equipment, has been operating for the past year.

Maherajah, which does about 80 per cent of its business direct with the consumer, is a two-man enterprise of Bob Maher, who divides his living between Oakland and Marin, and Ralph Corwell of Mill Valley. It was started as a hobby 10 years ago in Lake County by Maher's older brother who later dropped out of the firm. Subsequently the business was moved to Contra Costa County, then Oakland, and early last year to Marinship where it seems to have found its most suitable location for future development with accessability to principal northern California markets.

SPECIAL SKI BINDING—This "wrap around" type of binding for water skis is an original product of Maherajah Water Skis, Sausalito. It is made of thick, soft rubber strips designed for maximum ankle support and tailored to exact size and contours of the foot. The firm manufactures several types of bindings.

EXCLUSIVE SKIS

It manufactures exclusively laminated ash and mahogany skis, and designs, makes and fits bindings in much the same manner as custom shoes are made. The plant specializes in slalom and racing skis and is believed to be the only one in the United States giivng the latter equipment special technical attention.

Professional ski racing has developed only within the last five years, and in northern and central California it became popular in 1958. The sport not only requires different technique and balance on the part of participants but variations in design and placement of bindings for maximum speed.

Laminated ash and mahogany, in the opinion of Maher and Corwell, offer both an extra measure of durability when properly finished and a greater margin of flexibility and balance control to suit individual skiers. Perhaps the best evidence in support of their belief is the fact that between 700 and 1,000 trophies have been captured by Maherajah customers in slalom and racing.

Both partners have numerous trophies of their own, acquired over 13 years of entering competitive events throughout the west. It was this personal experience and that of William Maher that led them into designing their own equipment when they were unable to find what they wanted on the market.

A particular feature of present Maherajah skis is that they are laminated not only in their width dimensions but in thickness. The woods are carefully selected air-dried red luaun mahoganies and eastern white or yellow ash, glued together in a cold process and resin finished.

Bindings which have undergone a long series of tests for maximum efficiency and comfort are made of thick, soft rubber. Good bindings, says Corwell, are a big improvement to any skis and will help skiers of even moderate ability to give a better performance.

INDIVIDUAL ATTENTION

He adds that the biggest difficulty in meeting exact requirements of individual skiers is in getting them to describe clearly and accurately their problems. Once they are properly defined, the rest is comparatively easy.

The firm was the first to manufacture the "drop through manufacture the "drop through" type of fin used on slalom and racing skis.

Most of the manufacturing at their Marinship plant is done by them personally. They also spend a great deal of time servicing and adjusting equipment sold by them so users will be completely satisfied.

Writer Tells Thrills Of Taking Stripers On Flies

Recently J. P. Cuenin, Sunday Sports Afield writer of the San Francisco Examiner, spoke before a group of Marin County anglers on the thrilling sport of taking striped bass on flies.

He began his talk at the Marin Rod and Gun Club's fine big clubhouse by pointing out that "Some of the best fly fishing spots are along the Bay shoreline of Marin County.

"The main thing," said Cuenin, "is to have a fly rod suitable for this kind of fishing. It should be of the steelhead type with sufficient power to cast a reasonably long line, which should be heavy enough to bring out the power of the rod. A rod of that type would have ample backbone to land a fairly big striper."

At this point three or four of the boys asked in unison, "How big?"

25-POUND CATCH

"Well," Jules replied, "I began fishing with flies for bass in the early 20s, and since then my largest taken on feathers were two 25 pounders and one weighing 18 pounds. The rest of those I caught were considerably smaller, but all of them, even three to four pounders, put up a lively scrap.

"The best method of acquiring a well-balanced rod and line for striper fishing is to find a friend who is an experienced steelhead or shad fly fisherman and have him accompany you to a tackle shop to buy the rod, then induce him to try his line or lines on it. In that way you will learn exactly what size will fit your rod.

"The best results will usually be obtained on the flats in the bay in water two to three feet in depth. Of course the water should be reasonably clear. If you can see your fly when it sinks alongside of the boat to a depth of one foot to 18 inches, you can expect results if you are casting where there are fish. When the water is fairly clear, flies will get results in 8 to 10 feet of water.

LOCATING SCHOOLS

"To locate a school of feeding fish, you can troll with spoon, feather jig or hoola skirt. If a fish is hooked, the anchor is immediately dropped, and casting can be done.

"While trolling, a sharp watch should be maintained for feeding gulls. If you see a flock hovering a few feet above the water and diving to the surface, it often indicates that a school of bait fish has been driven up close to the surface by bass. That is a signal to head for the gulls.

"Don't run the boat into the flock of birds. Slow down when 100 feet short of the hot spot and move up slowly to within 20 to 40 feet of the edge of the flock, then begin casting.

"A long streamer fly with a cork head that is dropped on the water under the gulls and jerked along the surface will often produce a strike, and a streamer fly drawn through the water with short jerks at a depth of two or three feet will get results.

Again Cuenin was interrupted with a question on the length and strength of the leader to be used for bass.

LEADER SIZES

"A long and fine leader is not necessary," he replied. "A four to five foot leader testing from 8 to 12 pounds is long enough and fine enough. It is difficult to turn over the rather large flies if a long low pound test leader is used. If you will notice the 30 to 40 pound test leaders on which trollers hook bass you will understand that fine leaders are not necessary.

"The beginner should remember that an ordinary trout reel is not big enough to carry sufficient backing to handle a 5 to 10-pounder if he starts a run with the current. On the chance that even larger fish may be hooked, 100 yards of 12 to 15-pound test braided nylon may be required for backing.

ADJUSTABLE DRAG

"This braided line is run on the spool of a reel large enough to hold it in addition to the shooting line and fly line, and the reel must have an adjustable drag which can be set to release line with a pull of a couple of pounds less than the test of the leader.

"When the flats north of China Camp are furnishing good bait fishing, and if the water is clear enough, flies will get results in that area.

POPULAR SPORT—Fishermen still buy more than half of all outboard motors. A modern outfit, consisting of a 14-foot aluminum craft, and a 12 horsepower motor, enables fishermen to reach distant waters swiftly, then throttle down for slow trolling. Striped bass fishing off Marin shores is an exciting, popular and quite a productive sport.

NO FLAME—This is a portable safety heater by Therm'x of California, to be displayed at the Marin outdoors show. It can be operated around the clock, even in close quarters, without danger of fumes or carbon monoxide. It will heat a 25-foot boat, 18-foot trailer and is perfect for cabins.

Radios For Sportsmen On Exhibit

Sportsmen, boat owners, business and industrial personnel will be attracted by the exhibit of the Osborne Electronic and Radio Equipment, to be shown at the Marin Rod and Gun Club's Sports and Boat Show this weekend.

The feature package of the Osborne line will be the Model "300," representing the newest development in Class "D" citizens band two-way communications. The unit can be easily mounted on any mobile vehicle, removed and mounted on a boat. It comes equipped with a push-to-talk microphone.

Osborne also is exhibiting and demonstrating its latest portable two-way communication radio . . . with no license required. These units are also fully transistorized and so small they can fit in your pocket . . . it comes equipped also with a special antenna jack for fixed or mobile use and an external speaker-mike jack. The applications for both types of equipment are many, but some of the major uses are ship to shore communications, business contacts, emergency communications for fire police and civil defense, hunting and fishing, forestry service . . . construction . . . warehouse and factory inventories plant protection as well as property protection . . . farming . . . etc.

Women's Rifle Team

Marin Rod and Gun Club's Women's Auxiliary has organized a rifle team that meets twice a month. Helen Schacht, chairman, is recruiting more members.

Numbers On Boats

Archery Tourneys At Show

Marin County archers will play a prominent part in the Marin Sports and Boat Show to be held at Bermuda Palms, San Rafael tomorrow through Sunday.

Archery activities have been turned over to the Northwoods Bowmen's Club by the Marin Rod and Gun Club, sponsors of the show.

The activities will include an Archer's Bazaar, an Archery Information Booth, a practice range where the public can try its hand at archery, short demonstration type shows and two large tournaments.

The "Archers' Bazaar" is a new feature. It will be run for the benefit of the Northwoods Bowmen's Club under the leadership of Muriel Melin of Tam Valley. The bazaar will feature a wide array of interesting handcrafted articles.

Mrs. Melin says the bazaar will offer games, planters, housewears and many other items including exceptional values in hand knits.

ARCHERY LORE

The information booth is in charge of Gloria Bailey of Ignacio. Interested folks may gather a great deal of archery lore at this booth on tackle, field archery, target archery and hunting archery.

Athur Burr Sr. of San Rafael is in charge of the shooting booth. Burr and his committee will be on hand to instruct in the fundamentals of this fast growing old sport.

At least one short archery show will be staged each day of the show by a team headed by Bob Bailey, vice-president of the bowmen's club. Teams will show what men, women and children can do in archery after just a little instruction.

HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

In connection with the show will be a grand archery handicap tournament that will attract the finest bowmen in northern California. This tournament will start at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, at the Northwoods range in Santa Venetia and will finish the same day on a temporary range to be set up at the rear of Bermuda Palms.

An impressive array of handsome trophies have been provided by the Marin Rod and Gun Club. This tournament is open to anyone who can bend a bow and provide his own equipment. Women, juniors and teenagers will compete for trophies in thir own divisions, but are also eligible for any trophy in the main division. The handicap is such that even a novice has a reasonable chance to be among the winners. Stan Wakinson of Novato is in charge of the tournaments.

Another tournament limited to children from 8 to 13 years of age will be held on Sunday, starting at 9:30 a.m. on the temporary range behind Bermuda Palms.

Attractive prizes for the smaller archers will be available and the program is so setup that all children will have a good chance to have fun, learn a lot and, if lucky, bring home a prize. The junior tournament is in charge of Ebert Jensen of Terra Linda and Fred Del Pino o. San Anselmo. To enter this tournament bring the small fry with their bows, arrows and quivers if any to Bermuda Palms on the date and at the time specified. Parents must enter the children, but may leave them in charge of the committee while they enjoy the show. It should take about an hour and a half for the children to complete the course.

Prizes will be awarded after all entries have completed their shooting.

ONLY FOOLIN'—Marin Rod and Gun Club president "Babe" Dahl bravely plays out a scene from William Tell, but only for publicity purposes for the sports and boat show this weekend. He just wants to let everyone know about the archery tournaments on the weekend agenda. Lining up his sights in left foreground is Fred DelPino of the Marin Bowmen's Club. And placing the golden "apple" on Dahl's head is Glen Davis, also of the Northwoods organization.

Safety Training Praised

By WALTER T. SHANNON
Director
Department of Fish & Game

Since the legislature decreed in 1953 that the Department of Fish and Game train youngsters in hunting safety, about 185,000 young people and adults have taken the course. The program did not actually begin until 1954.

At present there are more than 3,000 volunteer instructors participating in the program, giving students a minimum of four hours training in shooting safety. Many teachers give a much more extensive course.

State law requires that young persons 16 years of age or under must present a certificate stating that they have taken hunter safety training before they can purchase a hunting license. After inauguration of the program, hunting casualties, especially among trained juniors, dropped sharply.

EXPANSION PROGRAM

In the last year and a half we have taken steps to expand and intensify the Hunter Safety Training program. In 1958 California's program received the National Rifle Assn. award as the best in the United States. The NRA has provided invaluable assistance in developing and operating the program. Hundreds of our most active volunteer instructors are NRA members.

Since the department has no way of raising revenue to pay hunter safety instructors, and yet the law requires this training to be given, we are wholly dependent upon volunteers and we deeply appreciate the work they do.

In other efforts to help our volunteers we have stepped up departmental assistance by designating Hunter Safety Training Coordinators in each of the department's administrative regions. These men, delegated under a plan developed by the department's Conservation Education Section, which has charge of hunter safety training, provide direct assistance to volunteer instructors, review courses given and coordinate department and volunteer instruction activities.

In addition, new instruction materials have been and are being developed, including slides, film strips and motion pictures. We have increased the available supplies of hunter safety training pamphlets and leaflets.

We have asked instructors to place increasing emphasis on sportsmanship, fire prevention, property protection, law observance, game identification and wildlife conservation principles, in addition to the basic instruction in handling firearms.

Our ultimate objective in hunter safety training is to make hunting an absolutely safe sport. Considering the human element, this objective probably never will be reached, but we feel that our program may eventually come close.

No gun, of course, ever fired itself, and no small arm is capable of aiming itself. Human error, ignorance or carelessness is the cause of almost every gun casualty, in the field or elsewhere.

SAFETY DESIRE

To make hunting a safe sport we must instill in hunters a fundamental desire to be safe. From the moment a person begins to think about possessing a firearm or going hunting he should realize the need for safety, know exactly what guns are, how they work, what they will do and how to handle them safely.

ANYONE FOR BOATING?—Extending a tempting invitation to the sports and boat show are these lovely young students of the John Robert Powers School of San Rafael. Besides competing in "Miss Marin Rod and Gun" and "Miss Yacht" contests, the students will present a fashion show at the weekend sports and boat extravaganza.

Great Variety Of Programs At MRGC

On the third Friday evening of each month the members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club are afforded an opportunity to meet with leaders of sports, civic and other affairs of mutual interest. They come from all walks of life, travel a great many miles and donate their time and experience to appear before the membership and talk on subjects of great variety.

Here is a rundown on some of the speakers and the wide variety of topics:

Several years ago Eddie Bruce, president of the California Wildlife Federation, spoke of pending legislation which would effect sportsmen and advised his audience on what bills would be beneficial and which would prove harmful; he also stated that sportsmen should work just as hard on non-legislative years for conservation measures as when the legislature was in session; lay the groundwork for a successful campaign prior to introducing the legislation.

VOLUNTEER WARDENS

Ed Moore came from San Francisco with some of the reserve wardens and told of the need for more volunteers in this field; these men supplement the regular wardens, without pay, but fraught with all the hardships and dangers attendant to regular service. A worthy, but little appreciated, effort by a few who hope to control those who would needlessly destroy our fish and wildlife.

Dr. JJay C. Stovall's good friend, Dr. Harold G. Anderson appeared from Watsonville to tell how "Hunter Yellow", the safest color for hunting, was developed and tested in cooperation with the California Optometric Assn. and the California Department of Fish and Game. With a color film, he proved yellow was more visible than any of the other colors tested.

Dr. A. Starker Leopold, director of the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology of the University of California, told of the research made on one of California's deer herds. He gave valuable information concerning their migration which wise deer slayers could follow to get their yearly animal.

COLOR FILMS

Emil Bianco of San Rafael made a big pitch for Ducks Unlimited, as he does every fall—and the local organization sent over a wonderful color film of the nesting grounds, reclamation projects and flyways.

Captain Ken Hooker came down from Sacramento to relate the Fish and Game Department's "Hunter Safety Program" which has been so successful that deaths in the field have dropped every year since it inception, except in 1958. With the course now a "must" for juveniles it is hoped the downward trend can be maintained.

Buddy Tarantino showed the members one night the technique that has made him three times world champion caster. It looked easy, and it was—for him, but it is the result of years of practice.

Local issues have not been overlooked at the club's meetings. The PG&E proposes to construct a power plant on Bodega Head, having already acquired the land. This installation has met with considerable opposition, to become one of the most controversial conservation subjects developed in the area. Kenneth Dirks presented the PG&E's case to the membership, complete with maps and charts, which proved the installation would be a valuable asset to the community.

Mrs. Rose Gaffney came over from Bodega Bay afterward to effectively present the views of those opposed to the power plant; Mrs. Gaffney would like to have Bodega Head preserved for posterity as the natural phenomenon can not be duplicated anywhere in the world.

AQUATIC LIFE

Dr. Joel Hedgpeth of the Pacific Marine Station, of the University of the Pacific, came to explain the wonders of aquatic life along Marin County's shores and told what the biologists at the Station were doing.

Col. "Tod" Sloan, western field representative of the National Rifle Assn. told of the association's safety program and of outdoor recreation and the sportsman.

Dr. Earl S. Herald, curator of aquatic biology of Steinhart Aquarium, San Francisco, showed off some of his friendly reptiles, illustrating how to properly handle a rattlesnake. He milked the venom from one reluctant specimen and let the audience inspect the lethal fluid; the children enthusiastically handled the harmless reptiles and showed great interest in seeing "Science in Action" in life.

Marinites learned how they could help at home when James M. Fletcher, chairman of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, spoke to the members. Better understanding of the commission's problems and objectives was learned together with a feeling of better cooperation for mutual benefit.

DELTA STRIPPING

Dick Boswell, chairman of the Pacific Inter-Yachting Assn.'s Delta Committee, brought along Allan Johnstone, the association's commodore, and between the two of them the members learned the extent the Army Engineer Corps had stripped the Delta Area of vegetation and what had to be done to prevent a continuance of the practice.

Marin Rod and Gun Club has been host to the director of the Department of Fish and Game on numerous occasions. Former Directors Seth Gordon and William Warne honored the club by being guest speakers. Just last month Walter Shannon, the California-born director, told the members of the accomplishments of his first

By WALTER T. SHANNON
Director
Department of Fish & Game

Since the legislature decreed in 1953 that the Department of Fish and Game train youngsters in hunting safety, about 185,000 young people and adults have taken the course. The program did not actually begin until 1954.

At present there are more than 3,000 volunteer instructors participating in the program, giving students a minimum of four hours training in shooting safety. Many teachers give a much more extensive course.

State law requires that young persons 16 years of age or under must present a certificate stating that they have taken hunter safety training before they can purchase a hunting license. After inauguration of the program, hunting casualties, especially among trained juniors, dropped sharply.

EXPANSION PROGRAM

In the last year and a half we have taken steps to expand and intensify the Hunter Safety Training program. In 1958 California's program received the National Rifle Assn. award as the best in the United States. The NRA has provided invaluable assistance in developing and operating the program. Hundreds of our most active volunteer instructors are NRA members.

Since the department has no way of raising revenue to pay hunter safety instructors, and yet the law requires this training to be given, we are wholly dependent upon volunteers and we deeply appreciate the work they do.

In other efforts to help our volunteers we have stepped up departmental assistance by designating Hunter Safety Training Coordinators in each of the department's administrative regions. These men, delegated under a plan developed by the department's Conservation Education Section, which has charge of hunter safety training, provide direct assistance to volunteer instructors, review courses given and coordinate department and volunteer instruction activities.

In addition, new instruction materials have been and are being developed, including slides, film strips and motion pictures. We have increased the available supplies of hunter safety training pamphlets and leaflets.

We have asked instructors to place increasing emphasis on sportsmanship, fire prevention, property protection, law observance, game identification and wildlife conservation principles, in addition to the basic instruction in handling firearms.

Our ultimate objective in hunter safety training is to make hunting an absolutely safe sport. Considering the human element, this objective probably never will be reached, but we feel that our program may eventually come close.

No gun, of course, ever fired itself, and no small arm is capable of aiming itself. Human error, ignorance or carelessness is the cause of almost every gun casualty, in the field or elsewhere.

SAFETY DESIRE

To make hunting a safe sport we must instill in hunters a fundamental desire to be safe. From the moment a person begins to think about possessing a firearm or going hunting he should realize the need for safety, know exactly what guns are, how they work, what they will do and how to handle them safely.

ANYONE FOR BOATING?—Extending a tempting invitation to the sports and boat show are these lovely young students of the John Robert Powers School of San Rafael. Besides competing in "Miss Marin Rod and Gun" and "Miss Yacht" contests, the students will present a fashion show at the weekend sports and boat extravaganza.

California Antelope Herds Show Increase

An aerial survey of California's antelope herds resulted in a count of 2,068 animals this year. This is 129 more than were counted last year.

The count this year showed 162 antelope in the California-Nevada interstate herd. In California there were 1,909 animals.

Populations of antelope have remained relatively the same since 1953.

year and the over-all long range objectives. It is intended that each year a representative of the Fish and Game Department will appear before the membership to keep them informed of the progress made and of proposals for the future.

DEER MANAGEMENT

Ken Moorish, outdoor writer and sportsman, related the latest information on deer herd management at the March meeting, including the newly developed "Texas Plan." Whether you favor doe hunts or not, his talk was of great interest to all deer hunters.

Without becoming too deep-rooted in an established pattern which might prove boresome, the programs for the Marin club membership have been planned to provide the best entertainment available. Each year the outdoor writers of the Bay Area have been invited to the club and usually relate some interesting experience afield, as well as answer questions from the membership.

The Belrose Dancers are fast becoming a repeat performance at the club. For the past two years, these graceful and talented youngsters have entertained at the annual Christmas party. With a well balanced program and delightful routines their performance is refreshing to behold. The most fascinating part of their entertainment is to watch them year after year and notice the constant improvement.

You have read what has transpired at the membership meetings in the past. The future looks just as good.

The Bay Area outdoor writers will be the guests of the club at the April meeting. A local civic enterprise has been invited to send a representative to the May meeting. George Defani will come from Sacramento in June to give all the news and events of the present session of the Legislature and how their actions affected the outdoor lovers. Later on Ducks Unlimited will have a speaker attend a meeting; Dr. Paul Needham, and probably Bob Bencke, will come over from the University of California to relate their experiences during their recent trip to Russia; Dr. Don Wohlschlag may find time to tell of his experiences in the Antarctic and Lee Talbot is expected back from Africa later on this year and may present a travelogue of that continent, similar to the one Dr. Karl Mayer related not too long ago of his India trip. He went as a medical man but toured as a tourist and brought us a wealth of beautiful pictures and experiences.

The guests coming to the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be from all walks of life and their experiences will prove rich and rewarding. Plan now to attend all the membership meetings, and bring a friend.
